Immense Public Interest In Sino-Japanese Question Manifest at Lecture

Noted Chinese Diplomat and Orator Gives Chinese Views on Present Controversy

A true cross section of the public interest in the Sino-Japanese question was noted in the character of the audience which taxed the capacity of the auditorium of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church last Friday evening to hear Dr. Tehyi Shieh give the Chinese side of the controversy. Persons from all walks of life were present to welcome the noted Chinese diplomat and orator who acknowledged the cordial salute in true Oriental fashion. From his first sentence Dr. Shieh commanded the attention. Before he had finished he had convinced the most skeptical that he possessed a mind of unusual brilliancy and that he had a clear grasp of the present controversy and its international significance. He outlined the long planned Japanese coup and explained why, if it is not soon settled with due regard to Chinese national aspirations, the present war is fraught with the gravest consequences to the peace of the world and especially between the white and yellow races. Dr. Shieh said that Japan had long planned to control Manchuria. When the Japanese soldiers now on the Chinese front were boys in school, they were studying geographies in which the maps of Japan, Manchuria and Eastern Mongolia were printed in the same color. This was done as part of a consistent campaign to make her people realize that, in order to maintain her position as an industrial and military world power, she must possess Manchurian forests, mines, and agricultural resources. Japan has carefully prepared the way for the ultimate complete control of Manchuria through the ownership of the railroads of the country and its agricultural exports. She has also deliberately attempted to weaken the morale of the Chinese people. Her officials and railway guards have bullied patrons of her railroads in order to make them fear their Japanese overlords. In recent years, the thousands of Chinese students who have attended Japanese universities have returned with their diplomas in a few months without the superior training which they sought and debauched by the evils of a student life with which they were deliberately surrounded.

The speaker asserted that the racial characteristics of the Chinese, with their ancient origin and culture, are entirely different from those of the Japanese who have sprung from a union of Malay and other races and who have in recent times acquired a semblance of Western culture and national ambitions. Japan worships the sword as a means of eternal life while the religion of China is peace and brotherly love.

China no longer fears the guns of Japan nor the white men of the West. She will never peacefully submit to Japanese military control. With her population of 400 millions and with a birth rate of 17 per cent, she can endure the carnage of war for a very long time without seriously affecting her population total. If she needs outside support and can not get it from western nations, she can turn to Communist and secure a union with Soviet Russia which can defy the rest of the world. Or in case she thinks best, she can form an alliance with the seething millions of India. In either case it would mean the alignment of the East against the West, and a war between them would make the last war look like a prize fight.

China did not resist Japanese recent military operations in Manchuria because she had faith in the ability of the League of Nations, supported by the Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact and the Nine Power treaty, to handle the situation. Dr. Shieh said that he still had faith in the strong arm of Uncle Sam to cooperate in the maintenance of world peace, but that in spite of any settlement which may be made in the present controversy, the cause of disarmament and world peace has been retarded 25 years.

China can not be judged by Western national standards, said the speaker. Made up of groups of independent provinces and factions with conflicting ambitions, China is at present demoralized, but is sure to develop into a coherent nation which will take its place among the progressive and great nations of the world.

While the lecture bristled with fiery patriotism, it was relieved throughout by captivating good humor. The speaker's grasp of the far reaching international significance of the Sino-Japanese trouble showed the result of years of intensive study and experience gained in representing his country on numerous diplomatic missions. The lecture was really, as he said, a plea for an internationalism of good will rather than a domination of super-nationalism.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Clavin Club, the social organization of the men of the church and was presided over by Mr. Ernest DeKalb, President. Mr. Frank E. Morris, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, in introducing Dr. Shieh, explained from a large map the layout of the six great provinces of China, that the area of China Proper is about half that of the United States and that Manchuria is 30,000 square miles in excess of the area of the New England States.

Before the lecture, Mr. Peter Chiang of Brookline entertained with Chinese vocal and instrumental music. The Church Orchestra in Chinese costumes under the leadership of Mr. Charles R. Spaulding played both American and Chinese music. Gladys Watt on the clarinet, Edward Sargent on the trumpet, and Betty George on the cello pleased the audience with their solo work.

Ald. Chase Urges Reduction in City Employees' Wages

Strong Arguments Fail To Win Colleagues' Support

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, held for the purpose of passing the annual budget, Alderman William F. Chase of ward 3 opposed the acceptance of the budget figures submitted by Mayor Weeks and the Finance Committee because no reductions had been made in the wages and salaries of city officials and employees. He said that while he had the highest regard for the honest difference of opinion of his colleagues on the Board, he believes salaries should be reduced in justice to taxpayers. He also contended that the Finance Committee should have conferred with all the members of the Board on this important matter. He asserted that probably every member of the Aldermen has had his salary or income reduced considerably the past two years. He stated "Go the length of the street you live on and see if you can find anyone whose income has not been reduced. City employees should fare as has the rest of the community. Assuming that they have received fair compensation in the past, reduced salaries should not seriously affect them because of the reduced cost of living." He argued that city employees with permanent positions, are not faced like most persons, with the liability of losing their employment. Neither do they have the expense of those who work in Boston and must commute. He said we represent the taxpayers and they expect relief from the burdens of heavy taxation. With the budget for 1932 only about $75,000 less than that of last year, he believes that citizens will think the Aldermen have not done the right thing. He stated that the Aldermen were sidestepping the problem when they refused to recognize the policy of deflation which is going on. He contended that Newton is in its present enviable financial standing because it has led and not followed other cities in the conduct of its affairs.

Alderman Gallagher asked Mr. Chase if he were stating his own opinion or the opinion of his constituents? The Ward 3 alderman replied that he had been told by a number of leading citizens that salaries of city employees should be reduced. Alderman Gallagher said that Newton has held a unique position among the cities of this Commonwealth. It has always been at the top, but if it starts this trend, towns and cities from Cape Cod to the Berkshires will follow. Gallagher said, "I have been hit harder in this depression than any man on the Board of Aldermen." This remark was followed by a loud chorus of "Noes" from the other members of the Board. Evidently all the Aldermen think they have been hit hard. Alderman Gallagher asserted that if the time comes when this city will be compelled to reduce its employees salaries, it will find the employees willing to co-operate, but that time has not arrived. He commended Alderman Chase for having the courage to come out in the open on this matter and commented that others on the Board might have the same inclination, but would not voice it.

Alderman Grebenstein praised Chase's "stamina," but disagreed with his stand. He said government is run for service and corporations for profit. When times were good, employees of corporations were given (Continued on Page 6)

Mrs. Hoover Greet Newton Girls On Washington Trip

Eighteen Newton Girl Scouts Have Interesting Tour

On Saturday, February 20, eleven First Class Scouts of Troop 15 with seven Girl Scouts, members of Troops 10, 13 and 20 started on their much anticipated six-day trip to Washington; which was a reward for the completion of First Class work. The trip was made under the management of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad whose representative, Mr. J. A. Silver, travelled with the girls and assumed all responsibility throughout the trip.

At five o'clock Saturday afternoon the girls left West Newton in a Gray Line Bus for Providence, where they boarded the "Concord" of the Colonial Lines for New York. Sunday morning was clear and mild, so everyone enjoyed the trip up New York harbor and many fine pictures of that famous skyline were taken. From the boat, a bus took the group across the ferry to the Jersey City Terminal Railroad where they boarded the train for Washington, arriving there Sunday afternoon.

Sight seeing began at once with a visit to the Corcoran Art Gallery and the Red Cross Building; and for a relief from the gruesomeness of the World War relics the afternoon was ended by a visit to the National Zoological park.

The headquarters at the Cairo Hotel proved a restful retreat after each full day. Here everything possible was done to make the girls happy.

Sunday evening was spent in the Congressional Library. Monday was spent in the Old and New National Museums and a visit to the Washington Monument to see the various wreaths, including that of the President, which had been placed there at the different ceremonies of the Forenoon. In the afternoon the Lincoln Memorial was visited, from which the girls watched the President escorted across the new Arlington Memorial Bridge on his way to the ceremonies at Alexandria and Wakefield. This bridge is to be opened to the public in April. From here the trip was made over the old bridge to Arlington, stopping at the Custis-Lee Mansion, the Memorial Amphitheatre, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and the Arlington Cemetery. The return trip was made through old Georgetown and Rock Creek Park. Evening was time for play, so taxis were taken to the Metropolitan Theatre to see George Arliss in "The Man Who Played God," and a bi-centennial film "Washington, the Man and the City."

Tuesday brought a visit to the bureau of Printing and Engraving, to view the printing of our paper money, postage stamps and legal documents, then to the Pan-American Building, whose guide was exceptionally pleasing in his information concerning the plants growing there—then to the White House to go through the rooms open to the public and to the capitol where time was spent in watching the (Continued on Page 8)

Connecticut Man Elected School Superintendent

John Lund of Norwalk to Succeed Supt. U. G. Wheeler

Mr. John Lund, present Superintendent of Schools at Norwalk, Connecticut, was elected to a similar position in the Newton schools last Saturday afternoon at a regularly called meeting of the Newton School Committee. Mr. Lund will succeed Mr. Ulysses G. Wheeler, superintendent of the Newton Schools since 1914, who will retire on September first this year having reached the compulsory retirement age limit of seventy years.

Mr. Lund is a native of Worcester, Mass., and received his early education in the public schools of that city. He graduated from Clark University in 1913 with the degree of A. B. In 1914 he received his Master of Arts degree from Columbia University Teachers' College and at the same time also received his Master's Diploma in Teaching and Administration. He has taken special courses in education and administrative problems at Yale University.

Mr. Lund was a member of the Delta Sigma Rho Fraternity at Columbia and the Tau Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Clark University. He was Class Orator, and Class President at Clark University and a member of the Varsity Debating team at Clark and at Columbia, while a resident of the graduate school.

His teaching experience began in 1914 and since that time he has taught in the Suffield School at Suffield, Conn.; the Sidney Lanier School in Eliot, Maine, and the Central High School at Bridgeport, Conn. From the latter position he went to Derby, Conn., where he served as superintendent of Schools in 1918 and 1919. During the next four years, from 1919 to 1923, he held a similar position at Winsted, Conn., and from 1923 to 1925 he was the head of the school system at Wallingford, Conn. In 1925 he accepted his present position at Norwalk.

The newly elected head of the Newton schools has been active in educational affairs outside of the locality he serves directly being a member of the Resolutions Committee of the National Education Association, a member of the Department of Superintendence of the N. E. A., and has been a member of the executive committee of the Connecticut State Teachers' Association. He is a past president of the Connecticut Association of Public School Superintendents and is also a member of the New England Association. He has been a speaker on the program of this latter organization a number of times. He also holds membership in the Fairfield County School Masters' Round Table and the New England Association, Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Mr. Lund has not confined his activities exclusively to educational organizations as he is a past president of the Rotary Club of Wallingford, Conn., and the Kiwanis Club of Norwalk. He is the present Scout Commissioner and a member of the Executive Council of the Norwalk Boy Scouts; a director of the Norwalk Y. M. C. A.; a member of the advisory council of the Norwalk Girl Scouts, and a member of the Norwalk Chamber of Commerce. He has been a frequent speaker at luncheon clubs, educational conventions (Continued on Page 6)

Finance Committee Reduces Mayor's Budget Figures but $12,000: Total $4,535,000

Alderman Chase Casts Only Dissenting Vote, Urging That Salaries of City Employees Be Reduced

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, the budget for this year was passed. The recommendations of the Finance Committee were accepted by a vote of 18 to 1. The lone member who voted against accepting the budget recommendations of the Finance Committee, which agreed with those submitted by Mayor Weeks, except in some small details, was Alderman Chase of Ward 3. He disapproved of the budget as submitted because it failed to show decreases in salaries and wages of city employees. Mr. Chase contended that the long continued depression has caused incomes of most persons to have been reduced and city employees should share in the deflation.

Mayor Weeks' budget recommendations totalled $4,547,327.92 and these were cut $12,354 by the Finance Committee. Although the committee declined not to recommend any reductions in wages or salaries of regular city employees, it did not allow the budget to pass without making some slashes. The victims are election officers whose pay for the days they serve at the polls will be reduced $2. Alderman Floyd strongly criticized the School Committee for its insistency in demanding increases in teachers salaries.

Alderman Bail, chairman of the Finance Committee remarked that the Mayor had groomed the budget recommendations down so fine, that the Finance Committee could only dig out a few scratches. He said that this is a hard year to finance cities and expenses must be kept down to relieve taxpayers. He stated that the committee had all agreed that it is wise to leave salaries of city employees as they are. According to the budget figures, unless some unforeseen large expenses come up, last year's tax rate will not be increased, and the coming rate may be lower. If conditions necessitate, salaries and wages can be lowered later in the year.

The Mayor's recommendation for the budget of the General Department, the heading under which a number of miscellaneous items are listed, totalled $52,008. The Finance Committee reduced this figure to $51,324. The cut was made on the Memorial Day expense, which was reduced from $1200 to $516. Alderman Hill of Ward 2 asked for information regarding this cut. Alderman Bail explained that necessary items for the proper observance of Memorial Day, such as pay for the hire of a band, purchase of flowers, wreaths and flags, have been provided for, but the lunch in the Armory for those who participate in the parade will not be indulged in this year. The money which would be expended for this, can be better spent for relief to the unemployed.

The only cut made in the Mayor's budget for the Executive Department was an item of $300 for convention expenses outside of Massachusetts. Alderman Bail said that it had been decided that department heads who wish to attend conventions this year (Continued on Page 6)

SLOANE WINS STATE 50 YD DASH CHAMPIONSHIP

Douglas Sloane was the sole Newton track athlete to win a State championship at the annual indoor track meet at the Boston Garden last Saturday afternoon. For the third consecutive year the team title was won by Boston English High in a thrilling struggle with Brookline, Newton was in fifth place, with Medford and Lawrence just ahead. In Class A three new records were established and one equaled but as the meet was held at the Garden track the old records will not be erased from the books. In Class B there was nothing to it but Everett High which had a six point margin over Worcester North, the nearest competitor. In this class three records were also established and another equaled.

In addition to the five points won by Sloane, who incidentally equaled the record of 5 3-5 seconds for the 50-yard event, Stan Johnson added six more with second places in both the hurdles and the standing broad jump while the relay quartet of Sloane, Johnson, Tuscher and Cahill tied with Malden for third best time to make the Newton total at 14 3-4.

In his semi-final heat Sloane broke the tape ahead of Roberts of Lawrence and in equalling the record in the finals to win the individual championship he licked Stanley Cohen of Brookline as well as Roberts and Reardon of Boston Commerce. Cohen was second, Roberts third and Reardon fourth.

Johnson had little difficulty in getting into the finals of the hurdles, defeating McCarthy of Mechanics Arts in the semi-final. Donovan was nearly a yard in front in the finals with Johnson having plenty to spare over Lawson of Brockton, third and McCarthy, fourth.

Johnson failed to win the broad jump although favored over Ted Plotkin of Brookline. Plotkin's winning jump was 9 ft. 11 in., with Johnson's best effort being but 9 ft. 10 1-4 inches.

The final outcome of the meet hinged upon the concluding relay between Newton, Boston English and Medford. At the time Boston English and Brookline were battling for the team honors, Brookline with 20 points and the Boston school with 18 1-2. Brookline had just finished in third place in its relay race with Malden and Lawrence and in order to tie the Boston English needed only to beat Malden's time of 2m. 16seconds. Inasmuch as the fast Everett relay had been clocked in 2m. 15 2-5 sec. in a Class B race it was a big question. When Starter McGrath pulled the trigger to start the lead-off men on their way every spectator in the place was on his feet to remain until the race ended.

Larry Scanlon, English star who had previously run the fastest 300 ever turned in by a school boy, reached the bank first with a slight lead over Higgins of Medford and Sloane of Newton. At the end of the two laps Scanlon had a couple of yards margin over Higgins. Barrill took over the baton for English, Murray for Medford and Johnson for Newton. The Medford runner put his team in front and from that time on Medford was never headed as Howard maintained the margin over Tanner of English and Tuscher of Newton while the anchor leg runners, Murphy of Medford, Marvin of English and Cahill of Newton, raced their legs off. At the finish Murphy had a two-yard margin over Marvin who in turn was four ahead of Cahill. When the time was announced Medford had been clocked in 2m. 15s., English in 2m. 15 3-5s., and Newton in 2m. 16s., had tied the Malden time. The 4 1-2 points for English against the 2 1-2 for Brookline in the relay times was just enough to give English the meet with 23 points. The other team scores were: Brookline, 22 1-2; Medford, 17; Lawrence, 15; Newton, 14 3-4; with Brockton, Malden, Lowell, Trade, Commerce, Mechanic Arts, Boston Latin, and Lynn English ranging from 7 down to 1 point.

Win Hockey Letters

By playing in the first Harvard-Yale hockey game last Saturday night three local youths won their varsity letters. Harvard won the first contest 4 to 1 but Yale is expected to offer sterner opposition tomorrow night at the Garden. Wilson Crosby, former Exeter academy player and West Newton youth, was at right defence for Harvard. Allie Fletcher, Newton High school athletic star, started at centre ice for Yale and Joe Gilligan, another ex-Newton high athlete, was used as a spare on the Yale defence.

Lincoln Park Still Winning

The Lincoln Park Baptist Church basketball team, the Fidelis Club, chalked up two more victories the past week. Last Saturday the team defeated the St. John's M. E. church second team, 40-24 at Watertown and on Tuesday defeated the Phillips Congregational team, 34-24 in another visit to Watertown. In last week's league game on Thursday the Fidelis team lost an overtime game to the St. John's M. E. first team on a foul shot, 30-31.

SCHOOL BATTERY CANDIDATES START BATTLE FOR BERTHS

Coach "Jeff" Jones of the Newton High school baseball team issued a call for candidates for the team to report on Monday of this week with about eighty youths signifying their intention to compete for places on the varsity, intermediate varsity and junior varsity nines. Of this group 35 are battery candidates. Following a meeting at which plans for the season were outlined Coach Jones ordered the battery candidates to take a short workout in the old drill shed. Since Monday daily sessions have been held with every pitcher and catcher having an opportunity under Coach Jones' direction. No cut in the battery squad will be made until the end of next week when the Newton mentor will decide which squad each player will be assigned to unless his future work merits advancement to a higher squad or he prove unequal to the task and is sent down a notch. The candidates for the infield have been ordered to report next week Monday and this group may also contain some of the outfielders who will take the opportunity to condition themselves and to get the feel of the ball.

Unless unforeseen circumstances develop Coach Jones will probably have but little to worry over his pitching staff which is led by Captain Tommy Rhodes and Phil Giles, sophomore stars a year ago. Both are letter men and with Jimmy MacAdams, a varsity twirler last year but who failed to make his letter because of scholastic ineligibility, will give the Newton coach a trio of capable performers. Rhodes, a southpaw with a side-arm motion which is difficult to solve, twirled some great games last year and with a year's growth plus the experience he has gained should be one of the leading pitchers in schoolboy baseball. The Newton captain is also a capable batter and when not on the mound saw considerable outfield duty on the 1931 team. Coach Jones doubtless will use his ability as much as possible this season. Giles is a right-hander with an overhand delivery and his 1931 experience should also prove of great value to him this season. MacAdams also twirls from the right side but uses a side-arm delivery. If he can raise his marks to an equitable standard Coach Jones could count on him to take his regular turn on the mound. When the pitcher on the mound got into difficulty it would increase the opponents' chances considerably to be able to send in a relief twirler with a radically different delivery.

Along with this trio there are several other twirlers seeking to earn their right to a position on the varsity squad and it is too early to state their chances as there are some good prospects in the group. Among the latter are Clifford Choquette, a sophomore southpaw, who pitched good ball last year with the F. A. Day Junior High team, Paul Andres, younger brother of the athletic Harold and Phil Andres of recent years, Vincent Murphy, William Robinson, George Taylor, varsity basketball player, and Charles Houghton, hockey defence player. The last named is a first baseman but has considerable speed and Coach Jones may be able to develop him for mound duty.

The leading catchers are Norbert Champagne, Alexander Kevorkian, Frank Feola, Siran Malkasian, and Jackson Skillings. Champagne has been a member of the varsity squad the past two years but ineligibility took him out midway of each season. Kevorkian was the regular third baseman on the intermediate varsity last year but the need for a catcher has caused the Newton mentor to break him in behind the bat. The other trio also show promise of developing and will make the battle for the regular berth an interesting one.

In addition to those mentioned twenty-one other candidates are out for positions and there may be a "dark horse" or two in the group.

With but four letter men on hand Coach Jones has a task to develop a team to back up his pitching staff but with many of the candidates who will report having shown some promise as varsity substitutes or intermediate and junior varsity players last year it is far from a hopeless job. In addition to the two letter men on the pitching staff, Captain Rhodes and Giles, Warren Huston, shortstop and Willie Mullen, outfielder, will report. Huston, one of the best all-around athletes at Newton in recent years, will have the first call at his old position but Mullen's weakness at the bat may make it difficult for him to regain his position unless he can show considerable improvement over his last year's work.

When the weather permits the squad to get out of doors it will be divided into three teams with Coach Jones handling the varsity. Coach Ralph Sanborn of the football team will take charge of the intermediate varsity and Carl Swan will coach the junior varsity.

SPORT NOTES

On Harvard Varsity

Bill Sutcliffe, former Newton high and Brighton Academy athlete, is listed as one of the outfielders on the Harvard varsity baseball squad. Donald Gleason, former Country Day athlete, is one of the pitchers with the freshman squad.

Second In Mile

Charlie Hall, former Newton track captain now a sophomore at M. I. T., placed second in the mile run at the annual Tech interclass meet last Saturday to aid his class in gaining the team victory. Bob Kinraide of Newtonville, a Tech junior, placed fourth in the broad jump.

OUR LADY'S ENDS SEASON WITH CLEAN SLATE AND TITLE

The Our Lady High School basketball team ended its Greater Boston Catholic High School League series this week Tuesday with a clean slate in its fourteen games and its first basketball championship since the league was organized a few years ago. The local five practically clinched the honors a week ago Tuesday by defeating St. Charles, 1931 winner and its closest rival. In its game last Friday Our Lady defeated Cathedral High of South Boston for its 13th straight league victory in a 43 to 20 game at the Cathedral gym. In its final game on Wednesday of this week the local quintet had little difficulty in turning back Mission High of Roxbury 50 to 16 on the Newton floor.

As in most of the games this season Steve McLean and Charlie Gallagher, Our Lady regular forwards, were the high scorers of the game with Leo Moran, centre, close behind them.

Compete In Triangular Meet

The two local athletes who competed in the triangular meet at the Garden last week failed to score points for their respective colleges. Carl Pescosolido of Harvard was left on his mark in his dash heat and failed to qualify. Ed Ebelhore of Cornell Cleared 6 ft. in the high jump but three Dartmouth jumpers all did 6 ft. 1 in. or better to annex all nine points. Hamilton Kollmyer, Harvard junior, ran third on the mile relay team and turned in a good three laps to increase the Crimson's lead from 15 to 20 yards which Capt. Record held to the finish.

Win Hockey Awards

Frank Spain, Bob Bennett, and Langdon Powers, former Newton high star athletes, now sophomores at Dartmouth, were among the sixteen hockey players on the varsity squad who were awarded "D's" this week. Both Spain and Bennett were lost to the squad just prior to the game with Harvard a few weeks ago. Nine of the sixteen letter awards went to sophomores, a record number, and a factor which should give the Green strong sextets the next two seasons. Phil Scully, another former Newton high player, was among the freshmen who were awarded numerals.

The new Nash models today make their bow to the American public. They are entirely new in appearance with complete Slip-Stream body design, Slip-Stream fenders, V-radiator, and Beavertail back. They are new in performance with greater power, greater smoothness, greater speed, greater driving ease and riding comfort. They are larger, longer, lower, roomier cars with important basic advancements in both chassis and body design. We believe that when you see the new Nash and drive it you will accept it—and prefer it—as a new kind of car with a new type of performance.

We're inclined to believe even the most punctilious of billpayers once in awhile have a bad moment and feel like dropping their monthly bills into a waste basket. However... bills will be bills. Ignore them and they'll bob cheerily up again... pay them, and they quiet right down.

So, to help you get this once-a-month duty out of the way as expeditiously as possible, we have a nice pleasant cashier in our Edison Shop in your neighborhood—who'll be glad to handle these bills, if it's more convenient for you to pay them in person. No need to go into town on this matter.

• And when you do visit our local shop, look around at the new appliances... there are lots of interesting ones on display right now—that will help you out of many an irksome task—all they ask is the chance. See them too in the shops of the other electrical dealers nearby.

During the business session an important proposed change in the By-laws will be considered for action, this change having been recommended at the last meeting of the Chapter, February 10th, by the chairman of the Finance committee, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, in regard to the annual payment of a hostess fee by all members.

The program for the afternoon will be an address by Rev. Robert Walker, on "Prisoners and Prisons as seen through a Prison Chaplain's Eyes"; and piano solos by Robert Rudy, of the All-Newton Music School.

The regent, Mrs. John F. Dunton, announces the selection of delegates and alternates to the Annual Convention of the National Society, Daughters of the Revolution, as follows: delegates, Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook, Miss Ruth W. Richmond, Mrs. George N. Putnam, Mrs. Everett W. Crawford, Mrs. William L. Ratcliffe, and Mrs. Willard L. Sampson; alternates, Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. Ralph C. Emery, Mrs. M. E. Gleason, Miss A. Gertrude Ensign, Mrs. Francis Murdoch, and Mrs. Sidney R. Porter. The regent announces also the appointment of the chairman of the newly-formed Program committee, Mrs. Arthur C. Johnson.

LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING
CHAPTER, D. A. R.

More than two hundred members and guests of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., met in the Parish House of the Congregational Church, Newton Highlands, on Tuesday, February 23, to celebrate the Bicentennial of George Washington's birth.

A reception preceding the entertainment afforded the members of the chapter an opportunity to meet the State officers who were present. On the receiving line were: Mrs. Albion H. Brown, regent of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter; Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd, State regent; Miss Nancy Harris, State vice regent; Mrs. Ernest Griffin, State recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur H. James, State corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank H. Warren, State historian; Mrs. James H. Groyer, State librarian; Mrs. Charles M. Bullock and Mrs. Hiram Miller acted as a colored servant. Eight scenes from the life and times of Washington were then presented, each character carefully chosen, and all so well done it would be impossible to select any one as being better than another. Besides the characters already mentioned, the cast included Mrs. Frederick Oliver as Martha Washington, Miss Anna Thompson as the mother of Washington, Miss Florence Chapple as Miss Nellie Custis, Miss Ruthena Warren as Major Lawrence Lewis, Mrs. Henry H. Wardwell as Betsy Ross, Mrs. Dorinda Story and Miss Marion Morse as friends of Betsy Ross, Mrs. James K. Hemphill as a colonial housewife, Miss Nancy Cody and Master Charles Farrar as colonial children, Miss Betty Bicknell and Master Richard Bicknell as Martha's two grandchildren, Mrs. Robert Rutherford as yesterday's girl of 'teens, Janet Brown, Harold Banks, Bradford Thompson and Allison Thompson as "The Spirit of '76"; Christmas guests at Mount Vernon, Miss Fanny Hall and Miss Madeline Foster.

The epilogue, "Principles of Washington Applied Today," was read by Miss Annie S. Head, founder and first regent of Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter.

Appropriate music was rendered during the afternoon by Mrs. Charles Miller, piano; Mrs. McMullen, cello; and Frances Tanner Bryan, who charmed all with her vocal solos.

Tea was served and an informal social hour brought to a close an afternoon long to be remembered.

Miss Flora Bosson, the coach for the finished and well trained production which ran so smoothly as professional talent. Much of the success of the afternoon was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Ruthena M. Warren, director; Mrs. Sanford Thompson, chairman of properties, and Mrs. Frank Shute, chairman of costumes.

The ushers were Mrs. Charles O. Farrar, Mrs. Esmond Rice, Mrs. Raymond Kent, Miss Jane Riley, Miss Lois Fletcher and Miss Virginia Fletcher. Mrs. Richard A. Cody was chairman of the social committee having the refreshments under her supervision.

The Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, D. A. R., elected delegates and alternates to the State Conference, this month as follows: Mrs. Albion

Y. W. C. A.

The girls of the Newtons who are of senior high school age and older are invited to be guests of the Boston Y. W. C. A. every Friday night, when open recreation is the program. This evening, Miss June Graham in "Songs of Old London" will be the special attraction. Those who prefer sports may swim in the pool, play Badminton, roller skate or enjoy other kinds of fun. The hours are 7:10 to 10 o'clock and at the Activities Building, Corner of Stuart and Clarendon streets.

Through leisure time interests, developed by expert instructors, the younger married people from Belmont, Winchester, Waban, Wellesley, and the Newtons are retaining and regaining health through the swing of the Badminton racket or diving in the spacious pool, or in the "Keep Fit" class, which has been exceedingly popular among Boston matrons. Senior life saving, dancing and gymnasium, prepares for summer fun at lake and shore and a bit later Mrs. Porter says that the program takes a turn for a definite sports calendar. Indoor golf instruction starts the anticipation for making good drives on the country club course, and indoor tennis brings happy results for playing on the open courts at shore and mountain resorts. Badminton still holds its popularity and many prominent matrons have passed from the class instruction into the players' group, either making up their own parties, or joining definite sports enthusiasts at the "Y" gym.

Mrs. William C. Blackett of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Harold G. Cranshaw of Newton are co-chairmen of a special committee of the Boston Y. W. C. A. sponsoring a concert of folk songs on the evening of April 8 for adults and on the morning of the ninth for children.

H. Brown, Regent; Mrs. Frank A. Shute, Vice Regent; Mrs. Frank Warren, Regent; Mrs. Charles Beane, Mrs. Esmond Rice, Mrs. William K. Crosby, Mrs. Gilbert Fletcher, Mrs. Richard Cody, Miss Annie S. Head, Miss Marion Dorr, Mrs. Sanford Thompson, Mrs. Chester Tudbury, Mrs. C. Warren Dilaway.

Delegates to Washington Congress in April will be: Mrs. Albion H. Brown, Regent; Mrs. Frank A. Shute, Vice Regent. Alternates, Miss Annie S. Head, Miss Harriet M. Ward, Miss Marion Morse, Miss Madeline Foster, Mrs. Charles Beane, Mrs. William J. Bicknell, Miss Katherine George, Miss Fannie Hall, Mrs. James Hemphill, Mrs. Dorinda Story.

Rotarians Hear Talk on Economic Outlook for 1932

Mr. Herbert N. McGill, president of the McGill Commodities Service of Auburndale and a member of the Newton Rotary Club, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the local service club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday noon. Mr. McGill spoke on "The Economic Outlook" to the great interest of his fellow Rotarians. Referring to the major causes of the present depression, the indices of business volume and price he acquainted his audience with the basis for the prospects of the future.

A common-sense viewpoint is needed more than anything else in considering the economic aspects of 1932. At present, business activity is at the lowest point in many decades, and general psychology and sentiment are extremely pessimistic. There are always two sides to the economic ledger. There is no question that there are many adverse factors that are prolonging the depression and also delaying improvement.

Outstanding is the maladjustment of gold distribution among nations. Gold is the basis of credit, and as the United States and France have in recent years accumulated more than 60% of the total world supply, all other nations have been severely handicapped in the endeavor to maintain international trade. Since 1929, twenty-four countries have either suspended the gold basis or changed exchange rates. Another disturbing influence is the lack of stability in the pound sterling coupled with the apprehension over the financial status of Germany and her ability to make reparations. Warfare in the Far East has added to the general uncertainty. There are other disturbing phases such as the flurry of bank failures and the resulting effect of complicated world financial troubles on international trade.

While the list of unfavorable influences is long, it should be recognized that all of the bad news which affects business is well known, has been digested, and is reflected in the critically low business volume which prevails today. The 1932 outlook is not without its optimistic factors, and on the optimistic side of the economic ledger, it is to be noted that the production of raw materials and finished goods has steadily declined until at present it is strictly in alignment with subnormal consumption. There is a huge accumulation of replacement demand from the largest industry down to the ultimate consumer. Purchases of raw materials and finished goods have been kept at a minimum for over a year, but constant utilization means that materials are wearing out.

Wage rates are being cut all over the country, and history shows that wage declines always represent the last stages of the orthodox business cycle during a depression. Commodity prices have not only dropped to pre-war levels, but are now the lowest in over three decades, comparable with 1901. The efforts of the Administration to stimulate business and restore confidence is beginning to show results. Recently we have witnessed the inauguration of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is designed to alleviate frozen credits. This important measure is fortified by the Glass-Steagall Bill designed to broaden the powers of the Federal Reserve Banks, allowing them to loan on securities which have heretofore been ineligible for rediscount. The Government is also planning the issuance of bonds of small denomination to curb hoarding. The New York Stock Exchange is strenuously endeavoring to curb short selling.

Already there has been an immediate response to the above influences. The stock market has shown more disposition to recover and speculative commodities are at new high levels for the year. Briefly, as 1932 progresses, bearish factors will be handicapped in exerting greater control over the business trend. It now appears that this year will prove an important period of economic reconstruction and will mark the first step upward in the gradual recovery of business, not only in the United States but throughout the world.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Eugene Ufford, of Central St., was hostess for the meeting of the Review Club last Tuesday morning, at which time three more Book Reviews were given. During the business session conducted by the president, a meeting place for the coming Annual Meeting next month, was considered. Mrs. Drew announced that she had appointed Mrs. Nathaniel Grant, Mrs. J. Franklin Leland, and Mrs. Albert Puifer to act as the Nominating committee.

Mrs. George E. Martin was then placed in charge of the remainder of the morning. Before giving her own paper, she called on Miss Eleanor Pinkham to read from George William Russell's poems. Miss Pinkham gave a short history of the man himself, and added that his writings are more often under the initials A. E. She quoted several critics as considering him the finest modern writer of Irish verse, and that his untimely end in an automobile accident had robbed the world of a genius. Among the short poems, Miss Pinkham read "Vale," "Frolic," "Refuge," and "A Memory."

Mrs. Martin then reviewed H. V. Morton's "In Search of Ireland," giving personal recollections of a trip to Ulster made several years ago. Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger had been given the author Don Byrne who was born in New York in 1829, but was sent back to be educated at Dublin, and who died only three years ago. She read "The Wake," a story so vividly written that her hearers seemed to see the characters as they talked. This brought to a close an interesting morning, given over to learning something of "Irish" authors.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Against a simple background of color, Irma Watson, Contralto, and Howard Harrington, Tenor, presented a most colorful program of songs before the Newtonville Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, March 1st, at the regular meeting of the Club in the Central Congregational Church. Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, presided at a short business meeting previous to the afternoon's program.

Miss Watson and Mr. Harrington, costumed to impersonate the characters of which they sang, were both charming and picturesque. The English folk-songs were given with a gay humor that typified the simplicity and wistful moods of the country lassie and the yeoman. Mr. Harrington, dressed as a Spanish senor, gave an unusual group of songs from the Spanish provinces. He put much feeling into these songs that were especially well adapted to his voice. Miss Watson captivated the audience with her Chinese group, her rhythmic gestures and colorful costume presenting a striking Oriental picture.

Dressed in the powdered wigs and brocade silks of the French Court, they closed the program, their voices blending beautifully, making a fitting climax to an unusual program. Miss Watson and Mr. Harrington possess not only lovely and well-trained voices but an ability to act as well, and the lowly peasant was portrayed equally as well as the gracious courtier.

Between the group of songs, Mr. Edwin Biltcliffe rendered, with artistic finish, several selections on the piano, as well as accompanying the singers.

At an informal tea, following the program, Mrs. Walter Kelley, chairman of Classes; Mrs. William Fish, who had charge of the program; Mrs. R. Charles Thompson, chairman of the Program committee; and Mrs. Harry A. Harwood, chairman of Volunteer Service, received with Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, president. The Hostesses, Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis, Miss Carolyn Lewis, Mrs. Ralph Nickerson, Mrs. Harry Sutton, and Mrs. George Waterman.

Beginning Tuesday, March 15th, a series of varied and interesting activities will mark the celebration of the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Newton Centre Woman's Club. There will be sufficient variety of entertainment to appeal to every taste, and it is hoped to make this affair a real community event.

Harrington, concert tenor, will entertain with a group of songs.

On March 12th, the program will be divided between consideration of health problems, and of matters of international interest, two State chairmen sharing honors: Mrs. Carl Weberling, Jr., chairman of the Division of Public Health, speaking to the title "The Road to Happiness", and Miss Helena B. Shipman, chairman of International Relations. The Cabot Club Chorus of Middleborough, W. D. Phillips, director, will entertain in the musical interlude.

MIDWINTER FLOWER SHOW. Newton has cause to be very proud of its Garden Groups, since they had such excellent showing in the recent exhibit held January 28th, in Horticultural Hall, Boston, in connection with the Conservation Conference. There were 49 entries in this Flower Show, put on by various Garden sections of Women's Clubs. Twelve Garden Clubs entered the competition. In the four classes of contests, the Garden Group of the Newton Community Club carried off honors in three—surely a record established by this Club's Conservation chairman, Mrs. Frederick H. Loveland, and her able committee, that is noteworthy history. In Class 3, Still Life Study of Flowers, this Garden Group took first prize; in (Continued on Page 6)

Police News

Clayton Rogers of Berlin, New Hampshire, was in the Newton court last Friday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $100 by Judge Bacon. Rogers and a companion were arrested the preceding night at Upper Falls by Serg. Crowley and Patrolman Carley when Rogers drove into a dead-end street and became confused.

In the Newton court last Friday Edmund Simpson, colored, of Hicks street, West Newton, was sentenced by Judge Brown to serve 6 months in jail. He was charged with seducing a 16 year old girl.

Salvio Cammarata, 19, and Robert McKeown, 18, both of Framingham, were arrested Sunday by Motorcycle Officer Dowling and Patrolman Cain after they had attempted to steal an automobile parked near Boston College. Their arrest was the result of quick action on the part of Allan McLean, 11, of 850 Beacon street, Newton Center, who was selling papers near the college. He noticed the pair trying to start a car, so he hustled to notify the police, who caught the two Framingham youths. In the Newton court on Tuesday they were given suspended jail sentences of 3 months each.

Mario Ingrassia of 121 Dorset road, Waban, appeared before United States Commissioner Jenney at Boston on Wednesday and was held in $5000 bond for alleged conspiracy to violate the prohibition act. Ingrassia had been indicted by a Federal jury at St. Joseph, Missouri.

SOCIETY HOLDS CALICO PARTY

The members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church were not carrying out the proposed boycott of Japanese silk when they wore cotton dresses to their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon of this week. Instead they were having a "Calico Party" when little calico bags, which were distributed several months ago, were brought in, containing money which had been saved in various ways. A short two-act skit entitled "The Calico Mite" was presented in which members of a Missionary Society met to tell how they had saved money for their "Calico Party."

Mrs. Clarence W. Williams, president of the Society, was in charge of the meeting. Prizes were awarded for the prettiest dress made by the wearer, the best re-modeled dress and the chicest costume. The winners were respectively, Mrs. Carl L. Swan, Mrs. Susan Flagg, and Mrs. Howard C. Thomas. Mrs. C. M. Foss gave three piano solos, "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms, "Morning Mood" by Grieg, and "Concert Etude" by Ravina. The hostesses were Mrs. F. E. Morris, Mrs. C. E. Thyng, Mrs. W. H. Timble, and Mrs. G. F. Williams.

School Notes

On March 2nd, Room 22 and Room 23 of the F. A. Day had a most interesting entertainment during the homeroom period. William Hayden brought his moving-picture machine and showed three reels of pictures. One of the pictures showed the class entering the homeroom at the close of a busy day, and was taken by Bill himself and developed especially for this occasion. A special committee, consisting of William Hayden, Gale Wisbach, and Donald Seeley, had charge of the arrangements.

The pupils and teachers of the F. A. Day enjoyed a very interesting assembly on Wednesday, March 2, when a brass sextet of boys from the Middlesex County Training School furnished the greater part of the program. Katherine Dempsey was the announcer. The sextet gave three numbers, entitled: "Independence," a march; "Flower Bell," a waltz; "Sentinel," a march. Following these, Geraldine Wisbach, a member of our own school, did a very charming "Old Fashioned Dance." The boys played two more numbers, following which the school orchestra played "Fortuna." Mr. Burkhardt then told an interesting story with a very worthwhile moral.

Kiwanis Club

A five-sided birthday party in honor of five of its members was celebrated on Tuesday noon by the Newton Kiwanis Club at luncheon in the Elk's Hall. The honored members were seated at the head table and their places were marked by birthday cakes lighted with candles. The men honored were: W. S. Wagner, Fred L. Briggs, William E. Pike, C. J. Hutchings, and Richard J. Davis.

Report of the Treasurer, George L. White, showed the club to be in excellent financial condition. The secretary's report also was read and accepted. The attendance prize, won by James B. Riggs, was auctioned by the winner and sold to the President, Charles A. Mahoney, the proceeds being added to the fund for underprivileged children.

The resignation of Walter A. Whelan, former president of the club, was received with regret. He has taken up new work which will take him away from Newton. Report was made by Lieutenant Governor James P. Gallagher regarding the funeral services in Norway, Maine, for the late Governor Bertrand G. McIntire.

Life Insurance, the great stabilizer of human welfare, carries on PEACE OF MIND, with which to face the present and plan for the future, never has meant more than it means today. These are trying times. It is difficult to believe that anyone has escaped the effects of a world-wide deflation of values, contraction of enterprise, social change.

That life insurance companies, during the past year, have been able to show an increase of insurance in force is indeed a tribute to the high purpose which these institutions serve. It indicates a growing national consciousness of this reliable form of financial protection.

Life insurance is, in a real sense, an investment in peace of mind, with interest payable in future comfort. It paves the way to education; to replacement of earning power cut off by death; to establishment of credit; to liquidation of indebtedness; to estate creation—to these and other family or business objectives.

LOWER TAX RATE MAY BE POSSIBLE

The 1932 budget has been passed with a total figure of less than that actually expended the past two years. Mayor Weeks' recommendations reduced the department heads' estimates by nearly $300,000, and consequently when the Finance Committee went over the items with a fine tooth comb it could do little more than scratch the surface to the extent of $11,400, all on small items. This paring of the budget will ultimately redound to the tax-payers' benefit in a possible reduction in the tax rate. More credit to the administration if the tax rate can be lowered without the postponement of certain much needed improvements.

LOWERING WAGE SCALES

While we do not contend that the City of Newton should take the lead in the matter of the lowering of the wage scale of municipal employees there is much merit in Alderman Chase's stand. Economists tell us that the last stage of every business depression has been the lowering of wage scales from the peak enjoyed in prosperous eras. Many Newton citizens have had their salaries reduced and ultimately it may be universal among federal, state and municipal employees. Newton, however, is not faced with financial distress and there is no actual need for adopting such measures at present. We believe the possibility of effecting a saving in this manner should be recognized, but that it should be postponed until the need is more urgent than at present.

A NEW SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

For the first time in eighteen years the Newton School Committee has elected a new superintendent of schools. The new head of this important department will take office at the beginning of the next year when the present superintendent, Mr. U. G. Wheeler, having reached the compulsory age limit, must retire. Mr. Lund, who has been elected to succeed Mr. Wheeler, is well known in educational affairs, not only in Connecticut, where he has served for some years, but throughout New England and also the nation. From all indications Mr. Lund has the experience, ability and training to qualify for the opportunity to uphold the Newton schools at the present high standard. While we regret the need for the change and the loss of Mr. Wheeler's services we commend the School Committee on its selection.

The kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby has torn the heart-strings of the nation. We have heard many suggestions as to the punishment which should be meted out to the criminals responsible for the deed. Any punishment we can think of is too good. And yet there are those who would abolish capital punishment.

Criticizes School Committee's Stand

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Charles B. Floyd of Auburndale severely criticized the School Committee for asking money to provide increases in school teachers' salaries this year. In the budget for the School Department are two items; one of $6716.67 is to provide increases for teachers in the public schools; another of $266.67 is to give increases to teachers in the Vocational School.

Alderman Floyd said the teachers had received salary increases last year, and in view of the present conditions, with efforts being made to economize, the majority of the members of the School Committee are not playing ball, or co-operating, when they ask for such appropriations. President Collins, of the Board of Aldermen, called attention to the fact that the $6716.67 will only pay the increases from the opening of the school in September until the end of this year, and the cost of meeting the increases for the remainder of the next school year will be considerably more.

Alderman Floyd continued to say that at a special meeting of the School Committee on January 11, while three of the members voted against giving the teachers increases, only two of these (Amesbury and Fernald) were really opposed. He stated that Chairman Tracy of the School Committee is most to blame for the action of the committee and that those members of the committee responsible for putting this added burden on the taxpayers should receive lots of criticism. Mr. Floyd added that the school teachers are not seeking the increases and that the Aldermen can do nothing other than to vote for the appropriations demanded by the

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

It's bad enough trying to get the best of these Chinese and Japanese names without Russia threatening to add to our war words worries.

Who Knows the Answer

That childish habit of asking questions has never left me. It may be a way of keeping young. On the other hand anybody who wants to be mean may say that some people never outgrow their childishness no matter how many gray hairs they get. Now for the question!

Why do they have "Stop" signs as well as illuminated traffic signals at the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Centre street. They are both set up to be obeyed but if the driver doesn't govern himself solely by the illuminated signs he is likely to get into trouble.

The other evening I had accepted the invitation of a friend to take a short ride. He drove up Centre street and at Commonwealth avenue paid no attention to the "Stop" signal. None of the line of cars in which we were traveling halted. All went on along the red and green of the lights 20 or more feet away.

A hound for law and order I said, "Why didn't you stop at the banjo sign?"

"Why?" he asked.

"Because it says 'stop'." I replied. "Yes, and have the car behind bump into me," he answered. "No, sir, the things drivers watch are illuminated signs. We'd be all mixed up if we paid attention to both."

Will someone untangle that one for me?

Diogenes, Please Write

It's so easy to become interested in something that is no concern of your own. At least, I find I have that tendency. I suppose I should strive to control it, but I never have and doubt if I should be able to. This is sort of an apology for my agitation over the patronage of self-service newspaper stands. If I haven't made it clear, I refer here to a pile of newspapers placed at a signal post stop on a trolley line (we have three in Newton Corner) where you may pick up a morning newspaper and put your two cents in a tin box.

What has worried me was whether people picked up newspapers without depositing the two cents, and what they did if they didn't have the right change. It is a terrible thing to be suspicious of a neighbor's honesty and possibly it opens one to the charge that he himself may not be as straight and upright as he should be.

They tell me that now they have tin boxes in which the coins may be dropped and the boxes are neatly wired to the trolley post and cannot be removed—well, conditions are just as near perfect as you can get them among human beings and the total loss of coins and newspapers has been reduced to a negligible quantity. Not so when the coins were left loose on the pile of newspapers. Folks didn't seem to be as honest then. No reason is given but I have an idea that the coins may have rolled off into the gutter. If the laws of gravity were different I might have thought the money blew up in the air into some one's hands or floated away with a high wind.

They tell me that as a convenience and a source of income the patron and the newsdealer are both satisfied. Whether it means anything to you or not I don't know, but personally I expect to sleep a great deal better now that this vexatious question is off my mind.

Contradicting the Professor

Life is becoming more and more complex. Here's a professor of psychology at one of the leading universities who has produced a new theory as to the cause of industrial accidents. He says their increase is not due to fatigue, but to the worker's looking forward impatiently to the pleasures of the evening. He further declares that the same accident increase is not found in the corresponding hours of the night shift. The night worker, he says, can look forward to going home to breakfast and bed, since, "it is not customary to make dates in the morning and the theatres are not open."

I suppose that the real trouble is that Americans are a forward-looking people. I had always imagined that such a quality was most desirable and far better than looking backward. But now I am going to meet our doom I think we had better spend our time reflecting on the past rather than contemplating the future.

The professor of course knows more about it than I do, but I have worked nights and I have gone off on a date after breakfast. Furthermore, there are theatres which open at 9 a. m., movies of course, but good enough to upset the professor's theory.

O, no, professor, I don't agree with you. People can get up early in the morning and rush around just as hard as they do late in the afternoon and harder and all because they're looking forward to joys of some kind. You ought to see certain folks I know starting off on a day's picnic. They bang the door of the garage at 4 a. m., run the car out, start the engine and haul back and forth from the garage to the house, shooting questions at each other. "Mother, where is that basket of fruit?" and "Ernestine, did you remember the paper dishes and napkins?" These and other queries and answers fill the air. I don't see why these people don't run as great a risk of accident as the people hurrying home at night. Often I'd like to throw something at them only to throw window and would if it wasn't too much trouble to get out of bed. Maybe that's how they escape, anyway.

Under The Gilded Dome

Ninety percent of the matters presented for the consideration of this year's Legislature have been given public hearings by appropriate committees. This statement is made to show how rapidly the session is advancing, for it is many years since the percentage of matters heard was as great the first week of March. About half of the entire group of bills have been reported upon by the committees. This leaves a large number of measures to be considered. Nevertheless, it is evident that the committees are doing their best under the urging of presiding officers to lose no time and effect, if possible, an early prorogation.

Here are some of the matters that have been disposed of for the present year since both branches have accepted adverse committee reports: That the Atlantic Union College of Lancaster be authorized to grant the degree of bachelor of arts; that the Middlesex College of Medicine and Surgery, Inc., be authorized to confer the degree of doctor of dental medicine; that the University of Massachusetts, Inc., be authorized to confer the degree of bachelor of science; that the State Department of Public Works be authorized to take land along the rights of way for the preservation of natural beauty and construction of parking spaces and sidewalks; that employees totally incapacitated in industrial accidents be paid compensation for not more than one thousand weeks; that the fees of sheriffs, deputy sheriffs and constables be increased; that a special commission be created to investigate the buying practices of city and town boards of public welfare; for an investigation by a special commission of the expenditure of school boards of cities and towns; that professional hockey games be licensed by the State Boxing Commission; that fees be established for boxers in preliminary bouts and that the name of the State Boxing Commission be changed to that of Commission on Athletic Sports.

The defeat of the bill for a referendum on horse racing and legalized pari-mutual betting thereon was not unexpected. There were recorded on roll call 108 against and 101 in favor. It is thought that had it been a bill to legalize betting on horse races the opposition vote would have been greater. There were several bills from different petitioners each of which provided for practically the same thing. One added dog racing and others included features not contained in the bill on which the fight was made. The latter measure was that supported by a number of prominent men throughout the State. All, however, were adversely reported by a majority of the Committee on Legal Affairs. A bit of strategy was employed when it was found that there was a strong sentiment against the general idea. Instead of seeking to overturn the report of the committee the friends of the proposed measure decided to offer a substitute bill which would provide for a referendum. They thought, it is believed, that such a bill might have a chance of passing. However, several bills from different petitioners each of which provided for practically the same thing. Authority On India To Speak

At the Unitarian Church, corner of Washington and Highland streets, West Newton, Sunday evening, March 6th, Dhan Gopal Mukerji will speak on "The India of Kipling and the India of Gandhi."

Dhan Gopal Mukerji can speak with full authority on India, as those who know his exquisite books well realize. Born into a Brahmin family, and being the youngest son, it fell to his duty to tend the village temple. Before he was eleven years of age he had charge of the rituals, performing the marriage ceremonies and burning the dead. At fourteen he was initiated in the Hindu priesthood, and after the ceremony set out with his begging-bowl and staff on a two years' pilgrimage, searching for the truth that lies beneath all things. But he craved larger freedom than the priesthood could offer and took up studies at the University of Calcutta. From there he went to Japan, studying industrial machinery and Western methods of production, and after that very logically turned his steps to America. He broke the ties of country, caste and past, and with his last borrowed dollar paid his entrance fees at the University of California.

The years that followed were very strenuous. He earned his way through by dishwashing, working in the fields, and other menial tasks. Often he went hungry, but in 1914 he was graduated from Leland Stanford University, and from that date on, his fame has grown, and Universities in both Europe and America vie with each other in seeking him as a lecturer. His books have won for him an international audience, for they are not only wonderful interpretations of the spirit of his native Orient, but they are also that very rare and intangible thing—literature. The exquisite beauty of his English, either spoken or written, shows many of us to whom it is our mother tongue.

His subject is a vital one at the present moment, when the eyes of the world are turned once more to India. So great is his appeal as a lecturer that at Harvard it is impossible to get a seat to hear him unless one is very early.

The lecture is preceded by an organ recital by William Ellis Weston, beginning at 7:30. There is no charge for admission but an offering will be taken.

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

Washington Bi-Centennial
During the past two weeks an interesting exhibit of the work done by pupils in connection with the Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration has been on display in the cases on the second floor. Here may be found articles made by the English classes, the social studies group and the clubs. Prominent in the display are figures carved from soap, including a minute statue of Washington himself, every detail of which is most carefully done. Other novel examples of soap carving are reproductions of Mount Vernon, of the famous cherry tree and hatchet, and the busts of Washington and his wife, the latter finished in color.

An interesting collection of stamps and coins bearing pictures of our First President has proved of great interest to most of the pupils. Among the larger object in the display are an outline map of Washington's complete travels, a relief map showing his route across the Delaware, a full-face sketch, and a striking silhouette of our Great Hero. In another case are attractive notebooks which have been prepared in the English classes. This exhibit has been greatly enjoyed not only by the pupils themselves but by many visitors to the building.

BOY SCOUTS VICTIM OF MEAN THIEF

At the Boy Scout Exhibition held at the State Armory, West Newton, last week, Arthur H. Crosbie, 2nd, a scout from Newton Highlands had an exhibit on mintage. Among the many samples of ore were several from the Royal Tiger Mines in Colorado. Among these were three small bottles of pure gold. Each bottle was valued at about $25. Saturday evening last, about 8 o'clock, some one stole one of the bottles; that containing bright gold. All the boys in young Crosbie's patrol want to share with him in paying for the stolen gold. As this would be a hardship on these youngsters, it is hoped that whoever stole the gold from the Scouts, will have decency enough to return it.

House of Representatives in session. Unfortunately the sessions of the Senate and of the Supreme Court had not opened.

Then came the ride to Alexandria and Mt. Vernon—upon which stops were made at the Christ Church, Carlyle House, and the George Washington Masonic Lodge. Then on to the Mount Vernon Estate, at which a pilgrimage was made to the tomb of George Washington. On Wednesday a visit to the National Girl Scout's House on New York Avenue and a call at the District of Columbia Girl Scout's "Little House" were only a preface to the most important event of the whole trip, a call at the White House to be received by Mrs. Hoover, who, ever the lover of all Girl Scouts, is never too busy for a call from them.

Bright and early Thursday morning the private car labelled "West Newton Girl Scouts" left Washington Station for the trip home. Friday morning brought all back to a realization that winter was not yet gone, for daylight showed a light snow and the bus trip to West Newton over icy road served all too well to emphasize the difference in climate between Massachusetts and Washington. The party reached West Newton—tired, happy, and well.

Those who made the trip were: Rosalind Bigelow, Margaret Cameron, Betty Cotter, Jean Eddy, Jane Hayden, Mary Hill, Frances Jennings, Adelaide Seeley, Audrey Seeley, Charlotte Stearns, Anita Velez, and Captain Bigelow; in Troop 10, Barbara Handy, Margaret Holmberg, Margaret Walker, Charlotte Klein, Muriel Bruce; in Troop 20, Ann Cummings, Helen Boyd. The chaperones were Mrs. Carl M. Bigelow, Mrs. Lowell G. Bruce, Mrs. Jose Velez.

The scholarship will be given to a girl selected by the joint committee.

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, general chairman, has appointed in charge of the bridge Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury, chairman, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, Miss Josephine Richardson, Mrs. Eva Whitling White, and Mrs. Stephen P. Hurd. Mrs. Ely Feibelman will conduct a food table assisted by the League of Jewish Women. RECENT EVENTS

Newton Community Club

The Thursday afternoon meeting of the Newton Community Club was opened by the president, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge at 2:30 o'clock. After a short business meeting Miss Phyllis Baker, president of the Junior Membership group, spoke on the work her group is doing.

A play, "Two Women and Washington," written by Gladys Black Wilcox, was presented by the following cast: George Washington, Mr. Edward Griffin; Mary Phillips, Mrs. Raymond H. Green; Hannah, Mrs. Wallace Wales; Martha Washington, Mrs. A. Thomas Lundborg; and a Revolutionary soldier, Mr. Raymond H. Green. The musical dances were: Miss Edith Pike, Mrs. Marguerite W. Tyler, Mr. Daniel M. Goodridge, Jr., and Mr. Henry A. Hewitt.

Music was furnished by the Regent Trio. Costumes and wigs were obtained from the Community Service of Boston, Inc.

In the audience there were one hundred and sixty-seven members and eighty guests present.

Colonial costumes were worn by the Social committee, and the pourers, who were: Mrs. Frederic A. Wetherbee, Miss Maud Henry, Miss Jessie Fisher, and Miss Margaret Ball. Coffee and pecan rolls were served. The table was decorated with red carnations and blue candles. Silver stars were strewn on a blue ground of tulle and cloth and the effect was very lovely.

A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Albert N. Walker and Mrs. William C. Ridge for their work on scenery and properties. Lighting effects were done by Mr. Philip Home and Mr. Robert Liberson.

A food sale, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Moore, was held in an adjoining room.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Miss Mary Carvel's lecture on "The Romance of Silver and the Art of Table Setting," before the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, February 26th, proved most instructive as well as entertaining.

As much of our American home life centers around the dining table, she said it should be made as beautiful as possible; and well-chosen sterling silver always lends an air of distinction to a correctly-set table.

She reminded her audience that the cloth must be fresh and suitable to the occasion—colorful for breakfast, luncheon, or supper, but for dinner only white is correct.

The centerpiece should be simple for all meals except perhaps, the dinner, when the decorations are next in importance to the food.

China, glass, and silverware should be conveniently placed with due regard to line, harmony, and balance. Candles may be placed on the table at luncheon, but should be unlighted unless the shades are down. However, candle light is ideal for the dinner table.

Through the courtesy of Thomas Long Company, Boston, Miss Carvel displayed a table correctly set with beautiful service plates and gleaming silver and, with the help of a maid, explained every step in the correct serving of a dinner. Later she gave directions for serving dinner in the maidless home, utilizing a tea cart or rolling service table.

Miss Carvel's statement that soup tureens are again being used on the table was received with smiles, but when she said ice cubes should never be put in water glasses but should be placed only in the pitcher, the audience seemed a bit disappointed. Every one was interested in the new napkin, called a "lapkin," which she said is being introduced in New York, and will, doubtless, be seen in the Boston shops soon. It is oblong in shape and used at formal dinners.

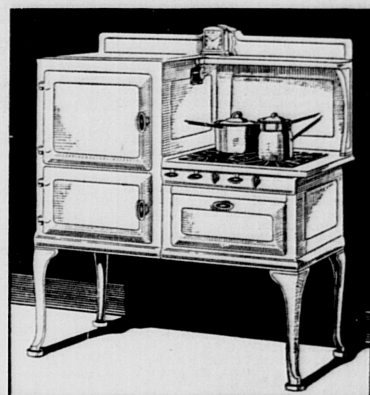

Previous to the lecture Master David Brackett, son of the Club's president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, and Miss Thelma Furbush delighted the members of the Club by dancing the minuet. They were dressed as George and Martha Washington.

In the tea room, which was attractively decorated with flowers and candles of red, white, and blue, Mrs. Ernest P. Robinson, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, and Mrs. Harry S. Wells, acted as hostesses, and were charming in powdered wigs and costumes of Washington's time.

West Newton Junior Educational Club

The February meeting of the West Newton Junior Educational Club took the form of a brief business meeting.

The question of new members was brought up for discussion. This subject caused quite a bit of controversy due to the fact that some members believed the Club should take in some younger girls to carry on the Club work. Others believed that younger girls would not care to mingle with the older ones, but would prefer to form a club of their own. At the conclusion of the meeting no decision was reached.

A committee was appointed for a dance to be held April 1st, at the West Newton Neighborhood Club, with Miss Elizabeth Bencks acting as chairman, and Miss Eleanor Rhodes, Barbara Lester and Harriet Hadd comprising the committee.

The treasurer, Miss Eleanor Rhodes, read the report of the bridge party held the first of the month at the home of Miss Phebe Giles, of Waltham street. It was voted that the sum derived from the bridge should be donated to the Mayor's Relief Committee for the Unemployed.

A report was made by Miss Constance Dort, who is in charge of the Club's "family," who stated that she had purchased a large grocery order for them, which had been warmly received.

Refreshments were served by Miss Bernice MacDowell and Miss Virginia Collins at the close of the meeting.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

At the monthly meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday, February 26th, Judge Emma Fall Schofield, of the Civil Court in Malden, spoke on "Women and the Law." As the first woman to be appointed a Commissioner of Massachusetts, she was well qualified to treat this subject.

Judge Schofield outlined the position of women from the middle ages, showing their advancement during each century, and declaring that with emancipation in this country they can achieve great things in politics, especially where women and children are involved.

She also brought up many interesting aspects of the law little known by the layman. For instance, only very few contracts have to be in writing to be binding. As an example, she spoke of a case where a woman, seated at her window saw a man start to work in her garden, and he saw her. When he had finished he produced a bill for services, which she was required by law to pay, since she had allowed him to proceed although there had not even been a spoken word on the subject.

Another legal point she made was that a man cannot escape the responsibilities of his wife's bills by stating in the press that he will assume no obligations for her because she has left his bed and board if the wife can prove that she left because of cruel or abusive treatment.

The usual monthly business meeting preceded the talk by Judge Schofield, and tea was served following it.

GETS LIFE FOR NEWTON MURDER

William I. Brown, 17, who on December 28 shot and killed his stepfather, Richard B. Wilson, in the latter's home at 263 Church street, Newton, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury at the Middlesex Superior Court at East
Cambridge last Friday. On Tuesday Judge Hammond sentenced Brown to life imprisonment. Brown, at the trial, stuck to the story he had told the police on the day of the murder.
He claimed the shooting resulted after his stepfather had come home, found Mrs. Wilson out, and asking the son where she was, had made a disparaging remark about the woman, which Brown resented. The defendant alleged that a fight ensued in which he used the shot-gun; he reloaded the weapon and shot Wilson twice.

The prosecution had as a witness against Brown a 13-year-old stepsister, Gladys Wilson. The little girl testified that while her stepmother was absent from the house, attending a "movie," Brown had his younger brother call her into the house. She testified that Brown then made improper advances towards her, and that she broke from his grasp and threatened to tell her father. The prosecution contended this was the reason for Brown's attack on Wilson when he came to the house about 5 o'clock on the fatal day. The government also contended that there had been no fight between Brown and Wilson.

Brown was also accused of having stolen money from the victim's person after the murder, and his brother from Malden was used as a gov-

SCHOOL LECTURES ON WASHINGTON

On March 2 an interesting lecture on the life of Washington was given before the assembly of the Burr School of Auburndale by Miss Sarah Harding of the promotion department of the Boston Edison Company. The talk was illustrated by lantern slides and gave an insight into his characteristics as a youth and into his home life at Mount Vernon. Of special interest was the speaker's account of Washington's first visit to Boston when he came here to seek a commission in the King's army.

Miss Harding will repeat the lecture before a group of girls at the Senior High School Monday morning.

NOTED POET TO SPEAK

Edwin Markham, considered by many to be America's greatest living poet, is to be the speaker at the Union Lenten Service this coming
Sunday evening at the Channing Church. The Choir of Grace Church is to furnish the music.

It is a rare privilege to be able to have Mr. Markham for this community service. Many have followed his career ever since he sprang into prominence by the writing of "The Man With the Hoe." He was chosen by the Washington Bicentennial commission to write a poem on Washington for this anniversary year which he read two weeks ago. On April 14th his eightieth birthday is to be celebrated in Carnegie Hall,
New York, with Chief Justice, Charles Evans Hughes presiding. At that time a new book of his poems is to be published.

pared by the supper committee. After a short entertainment by Sam and furnished by Dimock and Turner. The

Mrs. Frederick Webber, and Mrs. Alice

Harrington, Miss Alice Cushman, Miss Greta Sundholm, Mr. Charles Lucky, chusetts Institute of Technology and

FIRE AT NEWTON CENTRE INVESTIGATED

At 11:30 last Friday night Box 81 was pulled to call firemen to the house at 15 Exmoor road, Newton Centre.
The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Silverman and title was held by Mrs. Silverman. The fire was discovered by a neighbor, David Rosenberg. When the firemen arrived the blaze had obtained much headway and before the fire was controlled the building and its contents had been damaged to an extent estimated at $8000. Because of circumstances connected with this fire, Chief Randlett ordered the State Fire Marshal's office Inspector Shumway of that office has been investigating the fire.

At 11 last Friday night a still alarm brought firemen to the home of Dr.
Thomas Hennessey, 29 Carver road, Newton Highlands. A short circuit in a radio set caused a slight fire.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Some interesting sidelights affecting the plan of the Mayor to only resurface part of Washington street between West Newton and Newton Corner were revealed at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night when the budget was discussed and passed. One was that the Commonwealth had already paid to the City of Newton the sum of $23,- 000 as compensation for damages to parts of Washington street caused by the laying of the big water main. This money, instead of being held for the definite purpose of being used to help pay for the reconstruction of Washington street, has been diverted into the Excess and Deficiency Fund of the city. This sum is in addition to the $35,000 which the State has agreed it will pay towards the cost of resurfacing the street; making a total of $58,000 which the city will receive from the Commonwealth on this work.

A few of the Aldermen evidenced some interest in the Washington street matter. Alderman Gallagher inquired as to how much of this terrible street will be resurfaced this year. Alderman Murray, chairman of the Public Works Committee, answered that the section from Peabody street, Newton, to Lowell avenue at Newtonville will certainly be resurfaced; and that the entire length to the railroad bridge at West
Newton will be done, if funds permit.
This explanation satisfied Alderman
Gallagher. Alderman Smith of Auburndale expressed the opinion that the Federal Government ought to assist in the project and that the State should contribute a larger share of the cost. But, none of the Aldermen, especially those from Wards 1, 2, 3 and 4, took the floor to voice a protest against the preposterous proposal that only part of Newton's infamous main street will be made whole, instead of remaining whole without more delay. And then Alderman Hall, speaking for the Finance Committee, gave the information that the Excess and Deficiency Fund of the city is the largest ever, amounting to $530,- 000. And we are told that the city cannot finance the work of resurfacing all of Washington street between West Newton and Newton Corner.

Talking about Washington street, the State is going to pay about 25% of the cost of this work—or less. And the State is going to have complete control of the job. Does this mean that some outside contractor, perhaps even from outside Massachusetts, will get the work. And few, or no Newton men will obtain employment on this job?

TO KEEP CITY HALL PONDS CLEAN

The reflecting-ponds, lagoons, or what you will, which will add to the aesthetic effect at the new City Hall, are going to be kept free from sand, silt and other debris if present plans go according to expectations. Mindful of the mud shoal which for years has caused Bulbough's Pond to be less beautiful, city officials will endeavor to keep the ponds at City Hall free from alluvial soil which Hammond Brook and Cold Spring Brook may gather in their torrential periods. To this end, the Street Commissioner has asked for bids on a reinforced concrete sump to be built at the outlet of Hammond Brook at Homer street. For the benefit of those who may not know, a "sump" is a pit or well, excavated lower than the level of the drain which flows into it, or over it. So, into the proposed sump, the solid matter gathered by Hammond Brook is expected to sink, collect and be removed.

Several years ago a concrete weir was built at the outlet of Cold Spring Brook at Bulbough's Pond.
This contrivance was expected to prevent alluvial soil from sitting into the pond and forming mud shoals.
But it hasn't. Perhaps the sump will work better.

benefit of the unemployed fund. An ferent villages of Newton will be called upon. The play will be given April 28th and 29th at the Newton

Underground Conduits for Electricity on Homer Street Opposed by Residents

Object To Being Forced To Pay For Installation Of New Service Connections

A regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held Monday night. Aldermen Bail, Harte and Howlett were absent. President Collins started the meeting at 7:55. The session was featured by the appearance of John M. Fitzgerald of North street, Newton Center, in the role of attorney for residents of Homer street who object to the petition of the Edison Company for a permit to place underground conduits in that section; and by a spirited debate on the confirmation of the appointment of Louis Ebb as a Newton constable. There was also a short recess which started at 9 o'clock and finished at 10:40. During this interval the aldermen went into a huddle in a committee room to discuss some matter of importance. Whenever the Aldermen have anything to discuss, of seeming importance, it has been the practice in recent years, in contradiction with the rules of the Board to hold secret meetings as a committee of the whole. Trivial matters are discussed in the open Board meetings.

The first business before the Board was a hearing on the petition of the Edison Company for permits to construct and maintain underground conduits on Homer street from Commonwealth avenue easterly towards Walnut street, on Lowell avenue near Foster street, and on Foster street. Mr. Peppin, representing the Edison Company, said this proposed work is in line with the agreement between the city and the Edison Company to replace a certain amount of overhead service each year by underground service for the purpose of eliminating unsightly poles and wires. Asked by Alderman Gordon if customers of the Edison on the streets named must change to the underground service against their wishes, Mr. Peppin replied that he does not think the customers must do so. Alderman Hill said definite information should be given on this matter. President Collins remarked that the present time is a poor time to place extra expense on people.

John M. Fitzgerald of 19 North St., identified himself as Superintendent of the Newton Postoffice and stated that he appeared to protest against the Edison petition in behalf of Homer street residents. He asserted that residents on Homer street had been billed in advance for the expense of connecting their homes with the proposed underground service; the bills ranging from $60 to $100. He produced a bill received by a Homer street resident many months ago, but it was explained that this was not a bill, but a "pre-payment request." This request, however, if signed, would have obligated the signer. Mr. Fitzgerald stated that the Edison Company had built a transformer station on Homer street about 25 years ago and had made several additions to this station in recent years without obtaining the consent of people residing nearby. He asserted that this station is a nuisance; that there is a hum from it 24 hours each day and that in justice to the people living in the neighborhood, the Edison Company ought to assume all the cost of the underground service connections. He stated that this company is in excellent financial condition and well able to stand the cost.

Alderman Pratt again asked the Edison representative if the change from overhead to underground service is optional? Mr. Peppin of the Edison Company replied that he could not answer positively; in Boston customers must pay when such a change is made, but in Newton conditions are different. Alderman Collins said that persons residing on Lowell avenue and other streets in this city have had to change to underground service in the past, when conduits were laid on their streets, and had to pay for the connections. Mr. Peppin answered that on Lowell avenue some of the customers get service from overhead wires and some from conduits. Alderman Smith explained that the law does not permit public utility companies to apply private equipment to private property without being paid; capital invested by stockholders in these companies cannot be so used.

Ralph Lowell, representing the Standard Oil Company told the Aldermen that the petitions of this company for additional tanks and pumps at the stations—1100 Beacon street and 58 Winchester street, are to enable the sale of a third grade of gasoline. Alderman Murray cautioned against action on the Winchester St. station as the city contemplates taking this property as an addition to the Newton Highlands playground.

Reuben Klugman, appearing in behalf of his father, Jacob Klugman, made his "steenth" appearance before the Board to again petition for a permit to establish and conduct a gasoline filling station at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville. He told the Board that such a station will assist his father and himself in making a livelihood. He promised that the station will be attractive in appearance and will improve the looks of the property 100%. The usual letter of protest against the Klugman petition from the Newtonville Improvement Association was read.

The regular monthly meeting of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion will be held in Elks' Hall, Newton, on Thursday, March 17, 1932 at 8:00 p. m. Commander Harold D. Ames has invited the fathers of the members to be the Post's guests that evening, and Frank R. Gaw, the chairman of the entertainment committee has arranged for a pleasant evening.

The speaker for the evening will be Mr. William O'Brien, Commissioner of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth, who is well known as an orator and entertainer. Newton Post No. 48, American Legion Band, under the direction of Charles Seested will provide the music, and a collation will be served under the direction of Irving W. House.

In addition to the entertainment many important committees will make reports at this meeting. Leon H. Mayer, the Chairman of the Seventh Annual Welfare Concert Committee has arranged to conduct the annual show in the Newton High School Auditorium on the evenings of April 14 and 15, and the entire caste is now rehearsing for the annual show. This show is staged each year by the local post to secure funds for its Welfare Work, as the Newton Post does not conduct poppy or daisy drives in the City of Newton.

Arthur McCarthy, Newton's prominent welfare officer, attended the New England Conference of Child Welfare Officers at Hartford, Conn., on Friday and Saturday of this week, and he will report on the work of this conference.

Local Veterans of Foreign Wars Meet

The Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr., Post No. 2384, V. F. W., assembled at their new quarters in Mague Hall, 1244 Washington street, West Newton, Mass., on last Monday evening. The hall will be open to members continuously and they can gather there and discuss their experiences at will. The guest speaker of the evening, John Wallace, contact officer of the V. F. W. at the Veterans' Bureau, was introduced by Commander John A. Keefe, who commended the valorous work accomplished by Mr. Wallace on behalf of United States Veterans. Mr. Wallace gave a very interesting talk on several subjects dealing with the veteran and his needs.

The organization now has a membership of approximately 130 members, having initiated 30 members last Monday. From reports received, the transfers and new membership should boost the organization up to 200 before the end of March.

The Post will cooperate with other organizations of this city both in the defense of its country and in rendering aid to worthy veterans. Assistance will be gladly extended any veteran regardless of his membership status.

CAR CRASHES PIAZZA AT NEWTON

The piazza of the house at 62 Maple street, Newton, owned by E. L. DeWitt, was demolished Wednesday night when hit by an automobile. The car, minus a front wheel, was driven a quarter of a mile and abandoned on Bigelow terrace. Half an hour later, William Garfield of 32 Parkvale street, Allston phoned the Brighton police that his car had been stolen. Sgt. Moran and Patrolman Stevens went to Garfield's home and interviewed him. Patrolman Halloran investigated the matter and had complaints issued against Garfield, charging him with driving while under the influence of liquor, and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known.

POLICE NEWS

Arthur K. Lewis of Albemarle road, Newtonville, was in the car yesterday charged with larceny of $331 and $20. It is alleged he gave worthless checks to the manager of a chain store at Newton Corner. His case was continued until March 24.

Sharp Debate Over The Appointment Of Constable Ebb

Four Aldermen Question Legal Residence Of Collector

A sharp controversy ensued at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night over the confirmation of Mayor Weeks' appointment of Louis Ebb as a Newton constable. Ebb, who has been a resident of Dorchester for years, has made a specialty of collecting taxes from delinquents and has been quite successful. For several years past he has been engaged by Francis Newhall, Tax Collector of this city. Last year a law went into effect making it mandatory for a constable to be a resident of the town or city where he holds office. Ebb's appointment to this position was held up last year because of controversy over his place of residence. In the Newton list of assessed polls of 1931, Ebb was listed as residing at 12 Rickert terrace, Newton, which is the residence of Timothy Donnelly.

At the meeting Monday night Alderman Temperley objected to the confirmation of Ebb's appointment, stating that he had been informed that this person is not a Newton resident. Temperley asked that action on the appointment be deferred until the following meeting. Alderman Floyd objected to Temperley's request. Floyd asserted that he could positively state that Ebb is, and has been a resident of Newton and has been valuable in helping City Collector Newhall gather delinquent taxes. Alderman Sprout inquired if Ebb had been registered as a voter in Newton last year and was informed by City Clerk Grant that Ebb was not registered. Sprout added that in this large city there must be persons qualified to serve as constables without bringing in an outsider. Alderman Murray said that he is sure Ebb is a Newton resident, that his car is registered from Newton and the State statutes demand one must be a resident to be appointed constable. Murray added that at a conference held in Mayor Weeks' office two weeks ago at which the Mayor, City Solicitor Bartlett, James P. Gallagher and he were present, it was shown that Ebb is a Newton resident.

Alderman Gallagher, contradicted Murray and said Ebb's car is registered from 27 School street, Boston; that Ebb does not live at 12 Rickert terrace; that he gave another address as his residence when he was involved in this matter last year. City Solicitor Bartlett said that if it is proved that Ebb is not a resident of Newton his election by the Aldermen will be of no value. Alderman Grebenstein said Ebb has been an efficient collector and is being opposed because Newton constables want the work. He added that the local constables have not been satisfactory. Alderman Gallagher said the position should be given to a Newton man. Alderman Temperley raised a character objection against action being taken at the meeting. President Collins ruled that Temperley's objection was not in order. Ebb was confirmed by a vote of 14 to 4. Those voting in the negative were Farrell, Gallagher, Sprout and Temperley.

Sharkey Wins Decision In Suit

Jack Sharkey, leading heavyweight pugilist and resident of Chestnut Hill, was the defendant in a suit for $407 brought against him by Jim Toland, proprietor of a gymnasium on Friend street, Boston. The case was tried before Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday. Toland testified that Sharkey had been occupying lockers there for 39 months and had kept stalling on payments for this service. Sharkey transferred his belongings last December to a gymnasium conducted by his manager, Johnny Buckley. Toland testified that when he conversed with the Chestnut Hill pugilist about Buckley owing money for the use of the gymnasium by his stable of fighters, Sharkey said—"Why don't you send the pig a letter?"

Sharkey denied making the uncompilimentary reference to his manager and testified that Toland had urged him to train at the gymnasium free, to enable Toland to profit by charging admission to those who came to see Sharkey train. Buckley, Jack McCarthy, the Roxbury pugilist, and others corroborated Sharkey's testimony. Judge Bacon found for Sharkey.

Captures Trio Of Young Robbers In Auburndale

Patrolman Jenkins Chases Gas Station Robbers

Patrolman Charles Jenkins captured three young robbers at Auburndale Wednesday night after they had held up and robbed E. A. Darrah, manager at the Shell Gasoline station, 2012 Commonwealth avenue. Jenkins noticed two men run from the station as he drove by in his car. He chased the automobile in which they fled and forced it to the curbing near Rowe street, a short distance away. At gun point he arrested the three occupants of the car. The robbers had cut the telephone wires at the station, but Darrah ran to a nearby house and called police headquarters. Serg. Leehan and Patrolman Walker drove to the scene and assisted Jenkins to take the captives to the police station. The robbers are Orlando Covenio, 21, Westminster avenue, Watertown; Fred Russo, 22, Winter street, Watertown; John Zanco, 22, Calvary street, Waltham. Questioned by Lieut. Veducio, the two latter admitted having held up and robbed Donald Stewart at a chain grocery store in Newtonville on February 25. Jenkins found a revolver and a blackjack in the car used by the three. In the Newton court yesterday Judge Bacon held the three for the Grand Jury. On Jan. 19th Jenkins captured two armed men at Newton Lower Falls and about a year ago he captured three robbers at Auburndale. He is on the job.

Dog Knocks Down And Bites Man

Thomas Halfrey, 81, a well known resident of Nonantum, who resides at 20 Faxon street, was severely bitten last Saturday afternoon by a collie dog owned by Gertrude Schwartz of 95 Faxon street. According to reports, there has been long standing enmity between the aged man, who is a British Army veteran, and the collie. Halfrey owns an Irish terrier which has been in fights with the Schwartz collie and in separating the dogs in encounters, the collie had bitten Halfrey. It is claimed that when the dog and the old man met last Saturday, Halfrey was armed with a piece of iron pipe. The collie got the better of the fray, knocked Halfrey to the ground and bit him five times. The wounds were on Halfrey's face and right hand. The man was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

"Legs of the Law to Run Faster" as Radio-Police Patrol Goes Into Effect

Can Reach All Cars Within Two Minutes—Patrolmen Near Stores And Traffic Officers to Remain on Foot

The Newton police department inaugurated its motorized radio-police patrol, taking practically all of its foot patrolmen off the streets, day and night, and placing them in automobiles which will continuously patrol zones assigned to them. Men on fixed traffic posts will remain afoot and other police officers on foot, have been assigned on each of three shifts daily to business districts in every one of the 11 villages of the city.

With the departure of the cars from Police Headquarters this morning, Mayor Sinclair Weeks made an appeal for public cooperation so that the new service may be as nearly perfect as possible. Tests have shown that every police car in the city can be reached within two minutes and citizens are urged to report law violators, and suspicious persons, directly to the cruising cars or police headquarters, so that the efficiency of the radio-police cars will be increased.

Notices explaining the new departure in Newton police work are being distributed to every home in the city. They are headed "Legs of the Law Run Faster", indicating the speeding up of the modern police work. The house-to-house distribution of the notices also began today and is being made by unemployed "white collar" workers of the Mayor's Relief Committee.

"All of the police cars are marked clearly with large letters and numbers so that law-abiding citizens may identify the machines, report law violations, and at the same time realize that our men are on the job protecting them," declared Chief Michael T. Hughes. "The law-breakers will know that fast motor cars in all parts of the city, instead of officers on foot, make Newton an unhealthy place for them to operate."

Back of the right headlight on each auto, is an extra light about the same size as the headlight. It faces toward the rear, however, and when flashed on, as the police car draws alongside another auto, reads: "Stop—Police". A siren is operated in conjunction with the flashing command to stop. This arrangement, the police announce, properly identifies the police when stopping another auto at night and eliminates the possibility of having motorists mistake them for hold-up men.

"We frequently have to halt law-abiding citizens at night, for various reasons," declared Chief Hughes, "and they have a right to know who commands them to stop. If they don't stop after the notice given them by siren and flash lamp, it is reasonable to assume that they are not law-abiding. Then, of course, our officers use other means to stop them."

Radios in the police cars will operate continuously, being tuned in only to the State Police broadcasting station in Framingham. Broadcast bulletins are repeated twice and are easily distinguished in all parts of the city. All steel bridges and three small areas are marked on the cruising maps as "dead spots" where the broadcasts are very weak. It takes only a few seconds, however, for the cars to pass through these spots and to pick up the bulletin when it is repeated.

Between bulletin broadcasts musical records are played on the radio. In that way, it is pointed out, once the music stops the officers in the car are notified automatically that a bulletin is coming. The new police plan is the most radical ever undertaken in Newton and is being watched with interest.

Quick Action Saves Man From Death

Eric Higgins, 26, of 25 Brackett street, Brighton was nearly burned to death at 11:30 last Saturday morning when the automobile he was driving crashed into a tree opposite 855 Centre street, Newton near the old cemetery. Apparently Higgins rounded the curve at a high rate of speed and lost control of the car. The impact wrecked the small coach and rendered Higgins unconscious. The broken gasoline tank burst into flames and only quick action on the part of three men saved Higgins from the flames which rapidly consumed everything combustible in the car. Robert Burke of 825 Centre street, James Quinlan of 945 Centre street, and an unknown truck driver rushed to Higgins' rescue and succeeded in pulling him out of the blazing car before the flames reached him. Higgins was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He had a fractured right leg, severe cuts on the head and face and other injuries. The fire department was summoned by Gardner Walworth of 855 Centre street.

Active at Blair Academy

James Albee, of Shaw street, West Newton, is one of the student leaders at Blair Academy in New Jersey. He entered Blair in 1928 and has participated in swimming and soccer every year. In his first year he won his scrub letter at diving for the swimming team and at present is also coaching this event. He was one of the academy's representatives in a European conference and was expected to start on the indoor track team this winter only to be forced to give up the sport because of an operation on his knee. Chamberlain has recovered from the operation nicely and should be ready for the spring track season.

May Play on Polo Team

A movement to add polo to the athletic activities of Boston University has been gaining headway for some time and it is possible that in the near future a team may be formed. Among those interested in adopting the sport are Dan Harrington of Newtonville and Arthur Chamberlain of Abundant. Both are former Newton high school stars now active in B. U. sports. Harrington is a football and hockey star, while Chamberlain was on the football team and was expected to start on the indoor track team this winter only to be forced to give up the sport because of an operation on his knee. Chamberlain has recovered from the operation nicely and should be ready for the spring track season.

SPORT NOTES

Runs on Harvard Relay
Hamilton Kollmyer, former Newton high track athlete, ran third for the Harvard mile relay team which placed fifth in that event at the intercollegiate meet at New York last Saturday. Placing fifth in the relay gave Harvard a point enabling the team to take second place in the meet with a half point margin over Pennsylvania. Kollmyer's time of 4:6 was the fastest turned in by any of the Crimson quartet.

Active at Stearns School

John West of Sylvan avenue, West Newton, is active in athletics at the Stearns School, Mt. Vernon, N. H. He is a member of the hockey squad which recently completed its season and last fall played centre on the football team. He has taken considerable interest in dramatics at Stearns school and is a member of the cast of a play to be presented at the school today.

Letters To The Editor

REDUCING WAGES

To the Editor of THE GRAPHIC:
Alderman Chase of West Newton deserves the thanks of the taxpayers of Newton for his stand and vote on the new budget for 1932 as reported in THE GRAPHIC. It is to be regretted that in the whole board there was no other member who agreed with Mr. Chase or who voted with him. Mr. Chase is aware to the fact that a member of a legislative body in dealing with the appropriation of public money owes a duty to the taxpayer from whose pocket the money is to be taken as well as to the one into whose pocket the money is to be paid. It is altogether too much the habit to forget the rights of the taxpayer, altogether too much the habit to forget that every cent taken as taxes is money earned by the taxpayer and taken out of his pocket by the tax levying power. Taxpayers are too apt to suffer and submit in silence while those who benefit from the dispensing of tax money are vocal to the point of vociferousness and at elections cohesive in support of their benefactors. It is never pleasant to cut wages, even when necessity demands that it be done, but with reductions in the wages of the employees of railroads and other public utilities in order to enable them to make both ends meet, with wage reductions in the great run of industries, it is hard to see why the harassed taxpayer should be expected to maintain at their peaks national, state and municipal wages.

So far as Newton's budget for 1932 goes the Mayor, the Aldermen and the School Committee appear to have gone about the making of it with the idea that somehow it will be possible for the taxpayers of Newton to hustle about and scrape together the money with which to pay taxes even if at the same time they have to cut their own personal expenditures to the bone and perhaps go into debt to keep going. That has been the method in which Newton, and other cities, have proceeded for so long that reform can not be expected at once. Perhaps Alderman Chase's remarks and his vote may give them pause, may call a halt to the "easy come, easy go" policy of municipal finance and may wake Newton to the fact that the matter of Massachusetts tax burdens is becoming a serious one, a grave threat to the business and the commerce of the state.

LODGES

The General Hall Lodge, A. O. U. W., will hold a white party in Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, Friday evening, March 18, at 8 o'clock.

OVER ONE HUNDRED CANDIDATES FOR NEWTON HIGH NINE

With about one hundred and twenty candidates for the 1932 Newton High School baseball team working out daily in the old gymnasium there is little argument in this section that the national pastime is losing interest. The squad which is getting into condition for the coming season under the direction of Coach "Jeff" Jones, is the largest in years and is of such proportions that it is difficult for one coach to handle. Accordingly next Monday the squad will be divided with assistant coaches Ralph Sanborn and Carl Swan handling those who have little chance to make the varsity grade in an early afternoon workout and enabling Coach Jones to concentrate on those who show more promise at a later session. The pitchers and catchers have been working out for nearly two weeks with the squad being increased to its present size with the reporting of the infielders and outfielders last Monday.

Captain Tommy Rhodes and Phil Giles are two letters available for duty upon whom Coach Jones will rely as his mainstays in the box. Jimmy MacAdams, a veteran, who is ineligible at present, and Clifford Choquette, a sophomore southpaw, are showing considerable promise along with a number of other twirlers. Norbert Champagne, Alexander Kevorkian, Frank Feola and Steven Malkasian are the most promising catchers with the possibility that Jackson Skillings may make a close run for the receiving berth. Skillings is a member of the All-Suburban hockey team which plays a Montreal schoolboy sextet at the Boston Garden tomorrow after which he will put his goalie's pads and skates aside.

Charles Houghton, first baseman, on the Huntington School nine last year, is considered the outstanding prospect for the initial sack but as he is also on the all-star hockey aggregation he has not yet reported for practice. Meanwhile the leading prospects are Albert Robinson, Renfield Lamphere and John Hervan. Robinson was on the varsity squad a year ago while Lamphere was the intermediate first sacker.

A close race will be staged for second base between Charles Flagg, who has come up from the Warren Junior High, Robert Patterson, second baseman on the intermediate varsity the past two seasons, John Waters, another intermediate and Lawrence Killian, a reserve infielder on the varsity squad a year ago.

The veteran and outstanding all-around athlete at Newton High, Warren Huston, has the call at shortstop with Claude Frazer and Killian the best prospects as Huston's understudy.

At third Bill Duane, the youngest of the Duane brothers who have represented Newton High in recent years and Alexander Kevorkian have a slight edge although if Kevorkian develops as a catcher he may forsake the berth he held down on the intermediate team last year. In this case it is probable that Coach Jones will capsize his batting ability by using him regularly again. Mullen's speed makes him a great ground coverer but in order to make sure of a berth his hitting must improve or his job will be taken over by a candidate who is more potent with the willow. Among the leading gardeners seeking positions are Tommy Lyons, who would probably clinch the regular catcher's berth but for a bad finger, Bill Terry, who was halted last year through an injury to his hand, and Al Carvelli and Joe Mastropiere of last year's intermediates.

Squash Raquets

All preliminary matches have been played off in the Blaisdell Cup Squash Raquets Tournament being played for members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. The Blaisdell Cup is to become the permanent property of any member who can win the squash raquets tournament any three years. Mr. John L. Sullivan has won this championship two years.

The results of this year's preliminary matches so far are as follows:
J. L. Carr defeated N. Wetzel, 3-0;
E. G. Bates defeated C. V. Moore, 3-0;
A. C. Barker defeated W. E. Sands, 3-0; J. L. Sullivan defeated A. Jacobs, 3-0; and D. E. Brackett, 3-0;
Howard Fitts defeated G. G. Kitchin, 3-0; and W. F. Chase, 3-0; W. F. Chase defeated J. S. Irving, 3-1; W. F. Baker defeated J. Parker, 3-0; K. W. Gerritsen defeated Ben O'Neil, 3-0; and C. Bills defeated W. MacKenzie, 3-0. In the quarter-final matches E. G. Bates defeated J. L. Carr, 3-0; J. L. Sullivan defeated A. C. Barker, 3-0; and K. W. Gerritsen defeated L. C. Bills, 3-0. In one of the semi-final matches Sullivan defeated Bates, 3-0.

Wrestling

The Y. M. C. A. Wrestling team won the Y. M. C. A. Two-State (Mass. and Rhode Island) Wrestling Championship which was held Saturday evening at Providence "Y" with a score of sixteen points. Boston "Y" was second, Providence "Y" was third, and the remaining points were scored by the other "Ys" participating. In an entry list of one hundred and twenty-eight competitors, Leo Cormier, captain of the Newton team, and Henry Vachon, also of Newton, duplicated their successes of previous years by Cormier winning the heavyweight division and Vachon the 145-lb. Class.

This is the fourth consecutive year that Vachon has won first place in this class. Newton also captured two second places, Joe Arsenault in the 145-lb. Class and Warren Storer in the 123-lb. Class. During the six years that the "Y" Wrestling Team has been coached by Dr. Fred E. Simm, Newton has won the State Championships in 1929, 1930, and 1932, and in 1931 it came second. Dr. Simm is also the Chairman of the Y. M. C. A. State Wrestling Committee. The final total score compiled in the Providence Meet did not show the actual scoring ability of Newton's team, as it narrowly missed winning two other second places.

Outstanding features of Newton's part in the Meet were the work of Arsenault and Vachon in the 145-lb. Class and the fact that Leo Cormier in the Heavyweight Class won all of his bouts by falls within three minutes. A newcomer on Newton's team who is showing unusual ability is William Place of Wayland who is competing in the 191-lb. Division. Other men who competed for Newton "Y" but did not score were Sackis Bazarian, Dick Young, J. K. Barrett, Ray LaRose, Salvatore Graceffa, Wesley Curran, Arthur Boughan, Arthus Evans, Henry Parkinson, Bob Young, George LaRose, Murdock Weathers, and Charles Basile.

CENTRAL CHURCH WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MEETS

Interest and enthusiasm are at high tide in the Woman's Association of Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, as was evidenced by the large attendance at the all day meeting on Wednesday, March 2nd. The Association has been divided into ten groups with every member in a group and all busily engaged in various projects to raise money for the church budget. A few quarter parties and silver teas have already been held and larger activities are planned for the near future. A very successful food sale was conducted by Mrs. Wallace Boyden's group in connection with this meeting.

The luncheon in charge of Mrs. Charles P. Frail was served at one o'clock. Mrs. Gorham W. Harris and her serving committee had decorated the tables in appropriate colors for the Easter season.

The afternoon session opened with a hymn, after which Mrs. John F. Brant conducted the devotions. The reports of the last two meetings were read by the Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Richardson. Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, who presided, announced a number of group meetings to be held soon.

The speaker of the afternoon, Miss Grace Boynton of Yenching University, Peiping, China, immediately transported the audience to far Cathay and held them spellbound as picture after picture was thrown upon the screen. Scenes of Peiping, lakes, camel trains and street life took them far away. The pictures of the Yenching University buildings modeled on palace architectural lines showed how the beautiful Chinese curves could be adapted to modern buildings.

—On Sunday, March 13 at 4 p. m., there will be a musicale at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Rust, 98 Kirkstall road.

—Mrs. E. D. Van Tassel of Newtonville avenue entertained her son, Mr. E. D. Van Tassel, Jr., of Norwich, Conn., over the week-end.

—Mrs. Frank C. Mildram of Turner street is taking an active interest in the Bridge Party to be given on March 19 by the Boston Branch of Vassar Alumnae at the Choate School in Brookline. This is given to aid the new gymnasium fund.

—Miss Hope Hanly of The Colonna gave a shower on Wednesday evening for Miss Elizabeth Leighton of Proctor street whose engagement to Mr. Thayer Greenough Richards was announced last summer by Miss Leighton's mother, Mrs. Eugene W. Leighton.

—Fred L. White of 22 Woodrow avenue died on Wednesday, March 9, at his home in New Brunswick and for 43 years had been in the employ of the Gas Company. He had been a resident of Waltham for many years before moving to Newtonville. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret White and one son, Lawrence White. He was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. TO PRESENT GROUP OF PLAYS

Great interest is being shown in the unusual group of plays to be given Saturday evening, March 12th, in the Playground House by the Newton Dramatic Club. "The Pot Boilers" is a farce cleverly put on by a group of the younger actors of the club.

The cast will include Rosalind Harris, Dorothy Boggs, Robert Foote, Newton Douglass, Frederick Sears, Francis Ober, and Jack Allen. Miss Rosalind Harris is coaching the play.

The second play, "Shall We Join the Ladies" is a mystery play centering about a sudden death at Monte Carlo. The twelve guests in evening clothes about the banquet table change from mirth to suspicion and fright under the clever detective work of their host. Sumner Smith will play the part of the host. Other parts will be taken by Mrs. Melville Lining, Harry Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norton, Wm. Freethy, Mrs. Albert Muther, Mrs. H. L. Harris, Gilbert Hamlin, Virginia Cameron, Mrs. Gardner Walworth, Chester Gray, Mrs. Geo. Waterman, Francis Ober and Miriam Rix with Mrs. Everett W. Varney directing.

The third play, "The Chamberley Triangle" is one of A. A. Milne's best one act plays. It is a clever tense plot and will be well acted by Miss Joan Damon identified with best of amateur circles, Mr. Robert Currier, a resident of Newton, who has been playing leading parts with the Somerville Stock Co. and Mr. Carlton.

Mr. Edward Griffin is in charge of the evening's entertainment.

The work for the afternoon will be the Review of "The Tempest", in charge of Miss Edith M. McCann.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club comprise the cast of the play "Let It Go At That", which production the Professional Women's Club of Boston has done them the honor of asking that they repeat for their Club on Monday evening, the 14th, at the Rensselaer Theatre. This is the Annual Dramatic Reader Guest Night of the Professional Women's Club, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Maud McGarry Tibbitt. The Newton Centre women who have received this compliment are: Mrs. William Brackett, Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis, Miss Carolyn Lewis, Mrs. Ralph Nickerson, Mrs. Harry Sutton and Mrs. George Waterman.

The week of March 15th is filled with many delightful Club programs, arranged to make distinctive this anniversary of 45 years of activities since the founding of this busy and worthwhile Club. Plans have been scheduled so that the community as a whole may take a share in this celebration, which will be most welcome news. Not only are there lectures of practical nature, artistic, and of world information, but there is a fascinating Bazaar and Fashion Show, an Art Exhibit, and a Children's Carnival.

The Community Musical Hour scheduled for Sunday, March 20th, has been postponed to April 10th, so as not to interfere with the musical programs in the churches on Palm Sunday.

On Tuesday, the 15th, at 9:15 a. m., the American Home committee will present Mrs. Caroline Bixby, who will speak on "Time Saving Meals for a Week". Mr. Burton Davis will also give a short talk on "Diamonds in Your Ice-Box". Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Whelden, Cen. New. 9835-R.

The same morning at 10 a. m., Mrs. Miriam Franc Skirball will review Mary Beard's book "On Understanding Women". This intriguing subject which has puzzled the world since the beginning of time, should prove of never-failing interest.

On Wednesday, the 16th, starting at 10:30 a. m., there will be a Bazaar, luncheon, bridge-party and fashion show, and the opening of an Art Exhibit from the Guild of Boston Artists. Tickets for the Bridge-Fashion Show may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Anderson, Cen. New. 3278. A Food Table will be in charge of Mrs. W. A. Anderson and Mrs. S. B. Ward; a Flower Table in charge of Mrs. Fredrick Robinson and Mrs. Roy Hewitt; a Candy Table in charge of Mrs. R. E. Houghton and Mrs. Arthur Hoyt; and Mrs. G. A. Holmes and Mrs. C. B. Gordon will be at the Miscellaneous Table.

The Cafeteria Luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. Fred Shaw and Mrs. Robert F. Hayden. At 2 p. m., there will be tables ready for Contract or Auction Bridge with attractive prizes, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Keller and Mrs. George Remick. At 4 p. m., Mrs. Henry Goodnoo has arranged to have a Fashion Show put on by Mrs. Edith Goodell, whose shops are well known in Cambridge, Belmont, and Falmouth. Club members will act as models, showing the latest styles.

The Art Exhibit which has been arranged by Mrs. Maurice Goldberg, promises to be of real interest and there are in the Stearns School special classes for the children who do not make satisfactory progress in regular class work, where special emphasis is placed on hand work and practical training for useful living. There are lip reading classes for the children whose hearing is subnormal, an itinerant teacher is employed to instruct the 12 crippled children who are unable to come to the school buildings and 12 children with defective vision are receiving special attention in "sight saving classes."

merit as the exhibitors are in the first rank of American painters, and comprise such artists as: Frank W. Benson, Aldro T. Hibbard, Charles Hopkinson, William J. Kaula, H. Dudley Murphy, Elizabeth and William Paxton, Marian Sloane, Charles Woodbury, and many others.

On Thursday, the 17th, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Raymond T. Rich will give the last lecture in the series sponsored by the International committee. She will speak on "New Concepts for Old at Geneva".
On Friday, the 18th, at 2:30 o'clock, there will be the regular business meeting, followed by a talk by Mr. Leonard Craske on "The Making of a Statue". Mr. Craske is an eminent English sculptor. Among his best-known statues is "The Gloucester Fisherman". At the tea following the program, there will be a birthday cake to celebrate the Club's 45th anniversary, and another attractive feature will be costumes of that period worn by the pourers, Mrs. Alexander Kevoorkian will be in charge of refreshments. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, first vice-president, and Mrs. Roy C. Baker, chairman of Fine Arts of the State Federation.

On Saturday, the 19th, at 2 p. m., there will be a Children's Carnival with sleight of hand performances, specialty dancing, and general dancing. Ice cream, candy, and grabs will be available. Mrs. Vincent Maloney and Mrs. Walter Bryant are in charge of arrangements for the afternoon.

Waban Woman's Club

Alice Dixon Bond will speak on "The Great and Near-Great of the Season's Books" at the meeting of the Waban Woman's Club, March 14th. Mrs. Bond arranges her lecture as a course meal in Books, starting with canapés, soup, fish, and continuing through to ices and demitasse. Grouping the books under the various courses, she reviews the more important ones of each group and briefly touches on the others, so giving a most extensive list of fiction and non-fiction from which one may intelligently choose one's own reading for the coming summer months.

The Social committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Samuel La Rhette, will be in charge of the social hour following the program. Mrs. Homer F. Prouty and Mrs. Herbert R. Stearns are the hostesses for the afternoon.

Auburndale Woman's Club

"Sunday Night Suppers", a topic of interest to all housewives, will be presented at the next meeting of the American Home Group of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Monday evening, the 14th, at 8 o'clock. Miss Edith Eastman, one of the faculty of Lasell Seminary, is to give this talk and will illustrate her suggestions with practical demonstrations. The hostess for the meeting is Mrs. H. A. Hansen, of 5 Cheswick road.

The meeting of the C. L. S. C. of Newton Highlands on March 14th will be held at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Isaac Goddard, 154 Lincoln street. Mrs. William E. Leonard is in charge of the afternoon, the general topic being "The Victorian Ideal in Poetry".

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, of 366 Central street, will be the hostess for the meeting of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, March 15th, at 10 o'clock. Suggestions for a suitable place in which to hold the coming annual meeting will be discussed during the business hour.

Miss M. Elizabeth Wells, chairman of the morning's program, will give a review of Hugh Walpole's well-known book, "Judith Paris", and Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle will follow, with "Maid in Waiting", by Galsworthy. The last book in this morning's list of recent fiction will be "The Winding Lane", by Gibbs, and will be reviewed by Mrs. George Knapp.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Arts and Crafts Exhibit, which is featured almost every year on the program of the Newtonville Woman's Club, this year will be given under the joint direction of the Art committee, Conservation committee, and Garden Club.

The committee in charge is desirous of exhibiting specimens of art or handicraft completed within the past two years by Club members or by residents of Newtonville. Any member of the Art committee will call for such articles if notified, or they may be left at the Club not later than 10 a. m. on March 15th.

This meeting on Tuesday, the 15th, from 2 to 9 p. m., at the Central Congregational Church, will be an Open Meeting, to which Club members are urged to bring guests, as the committee is planning an unusual exhibition. There will be a demonstration during the exhibit of carding, twisting, and weaving. A sculptor will give an exhibition of modeling and there will be an exhibition of Norwegian tapestry. Block printing, making of Venetian point lace, quilting, rug-making, and the knitting of dresses will be demonstrated by Club members.

With spring not far away, the Garden Club is beginning to make plans accordingly. On March 17th, Mrs. George S. Maynard will discuss "Roses, Delphiniums, Iris, Lilies, and Phlox".
On this occasion, Mrs. George E. Glover will be the hostess at her home, 48 Oakwood road. A cordial invitation to all members of the Woman's Club to attend these interesting meetings has been extended by the Garden Club.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

President's Day, March 15th, will also be Demonstration Day, for the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, as the Music, Art, Drama, Social, Hospitality, American Home and Community Service committees, as well as the officers of the Board, will cooperate for its success.

The regular program, which will start at 2 p. m., on the 15th, in the Congregational Parish House, will include: Songs in Costume, by Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Simonds; a one-act play, "Grandfather's Chair", by Willard Pritchard Eaton, read by the Drama Class, under the direction of Mrs. Herbert N. Odell; a Cantata, "Rose of Arontown", by Mrs. H. A. Beach, sung by the Club Chorus, directed by Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn, and with soloist, Mrs. John F. Westrel, and accompanist, Mrs. Maurice A. Rely.

After the program in the Parish House, the guests will be taken to the Club Workshop for a social hour and to enjoy an exhibition of class work by the Art committee. The Garden Club will have window decorations on display.

Refreshments will be served to Club members in the Parish House while the guests and their escorts are served in the Workshop.

The guests of honor will be Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, second vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. Selden E. James, Twelfth District director; Mrs. Samuel N. Braham, president of the Newton Federation, and Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, first president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club.

Social Science Club

On Wednesday, March 16th, in Channing Church Parlor, Mrs. Carlos Pierce will entertain the Social Science Club by reading a paper on "Lucy Stone". The hostesses will be Mrs. Alden Clark and Mrs. Sidney Peterson.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Music committee of the Community Service Club of West Newton, of which Miss Maude C. Scudder is chairman, announces the following artists for the Annual Musical, on Wednesday afternoon, March 16th, in the Unitarian Parish House, at 2:30 o'clock: Bernard Zighera, Harp soloist; of the Boston Symphony Orchestra; Elizabeth Cushman, Soprano soloist; and Mary Pumphrey Tower, Piano soloist.

Mr. Zighera, born at Paris, April 1, 1904, of a Roumanian father and a Polish mother, studied at Paris Conservatory, where, as a pupil of Marcel Tournier, he was awarded the first prize for piano playing as a pupil of Jaime Augustin Antonio Riera, known as Santiago Riera. In Paris, he was a member of the Conservatory Orchestra (Société des Concerts du Conservatoire), and also a soloist in concerts. He became a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1926, being then associated with Alfred Holy, succeeding him as first harpist when Mr. Holy resigned.

Elizabeth Cushman needs no introduction to a West Newton audience and will receive a hearty welcome on this guest day program.

The Club is fortunate in numbering among its members Mary Pumphrey Tower, who is well-known in Boston and vicinity as an accomplished pianist, and whose appearance on this afternoon as piano soloist will add much to the pleasure of her fellow Club members.

Following the program tea will be served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. Quincy W. Wales.

Newton Federation

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs will dedicate its Mid-Year Meeting, on March 18th, at 3 o'clock, in the Newton High School Auditorium, to Commemoration of the Bicentennial of George Washington, and invites all interested women and school children to join with them at that time. This occasion will give an opportunity for Newton to pay its homage to the "Father of Our Country", and a suitable program has been arranged for the afternoon. Rev. Samuel Macanley Lindsay, D.D., will be a speaker, and also Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Massachusetts Regent of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union, will speak on "The Preservation of Mount Vernon". Another feature will be the singing by the Newton Centre Woman's Club Chorus of "Hymn to America", the words of which were written by Clara Endicott Sears and the music by Mrs. M. H. Gulesian. The Art committee of the Newton Community Club, of which Mrs. Albert W. Walker is chairman, will be in charge of the stage settings.

State Federation

WAR VETERANS' DIVISION. Mrs. Walter H. Woods, chairman of the State Division of Cooperation with War Veterans, whose keen interest in her work is shown by her many kindly ideas of service for "our boys", has arranged opportunity for Clubwomen to join in a visit to the United States Veterans' Hospital at Northampton, on Thursday, March 17th. Those who do not have the pleasure of going up by automobile, may take a train at the North Station at 8 a. m., which will arrive at Northampton about noon.

Brave, indeed, is Mrs. Woods, to have her Conference the next day, the 18th. Perhaps it is as well to have this, she feels, while enthusiasm is high, and visitors can be brought to Boston from Northampton to join therein, even if the two days are strenuous.

RECENT EVENTS

Auburndale Woman's Club

Prof. Brewer G. Whitmore again faced a good-sized audience when he gave his third talk on Current Events before the Auburndale Woman's Club last week. Appropriately his first remarks were on the recent kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, and he said that added to his personal feelings of regret, was the feeling that so much notoriety as the newspapers were giving the case, was prolonging a return of the child. Mr. Whitmore took up the conditions in the Far East as nearly where he left them as possible. He spoke of the recent election at which the winner assumed the title of Chin Chin, a synonym for Dictator. He also gave the important items in the State document sent to Senator Borah by Mr. Stimson, also mentioning President Lowell's suggestion of Japanese boycott.

France was passed over with just the mention of the overturn in the Ministry. In Germany he called attention to the fact that Hindenburg and Hitler are opposing each other at the coming elections. In Greece the three-day-a-week breadless days which have been ordered were explained by the excess of imports over exports. In passing he mentioned the proposed sale of Labrador and New Foundland.

In our own country he called attention to the passing of the House of the famous Norris Amendment, which aims to do away with the Lane Duck Session of Congress. At his final talk on the 31st of this month Mr. Whitmore will include Hawaii, and he spent the last few minutes of his talk in building up a foundation for the understanding of our relations to our Foreign accessions.

Shakespeare Club

Mrs. A. L. Pratt of 67 Fisher avenue, as hostess, gave the Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands at its last meeting a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. F. S. Keith had charge of the work, Acts IV and V of "The Tempest".

Many points of interest were brought out, among them that "The Tempest" was performed on the occasion of the Princess Elizabeth's wedding, and the wedding masque, with its mythological figures Juno, Ceres, and Iris, occupied nearly all of Act IV; also that it was evidently Shakespeare's intention in "The Tempest" to give a picture of mankind as he saw it, a typical representation of the different phases of humanity.

Another point made was that it was written as a farewell to art, and everything in the play bespeaks the touch of autumn. In the closing scene, one feels that Stratford was the poet's Milan, just as Ariel's longing for freedom was the yearning of the poet's genius for rest.

Newton Federation

At the invitation of Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, a Luncheon-Conference was held at the University Club, Boston, on March 3rd, which was attended by thirty-one women who are actively engaged in the Federation work, either as officers, directors, chairmen of committees or presidents of Clubs belonging to the organization. Several important and interesting questions were brought up for discussion and the interchange of opinions proved of value in the consideration of matters to be brought before the Federation in the near future.

Newton Circle, Inc.

The end of February was a busy time for the Circle. On Friday, the 26th, its regular monthly meeting was held. Mrs. J. T. Lodge being away, Mrs. E. P. Brown presided, the usual routine of business being carried on. Then on Monday, the 29th, the Annual Card Party was given at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House. A large and enthusiastic number attended and played until 4 o'clock when tea was served by Miss Todd and her efficient helpers. Everyone reported an enjoyable afternoon.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Mrs. Henry E. Williams was in charge of the three-act play, "The Brat," read by the Drama Class of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club in the Club Workshop on March 4th. The following members of the Club were in the cast: Mrs. Henry E. Williams, Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse, Mrs. Perry Wood, Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, Mrs. George W. Barker, Mrs. Charlton D. Miller, Mrs. Lloyd Yeager, Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, and Mrs. James Kingman.

"The Brat" was given first in London, then came to New York City and had the longest run of any play ever given in that city. It then went back to London.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A decidedly novel idea for Women's Clubs was presented before the Auburndale Woman's Club last Tuesday afternoon. The title, "Window Shopping" (Now and Then) was carried out by groups of models who appeared in turn, on either side of the stage, clad in garments of the late nineties, compared with the latest word in today's fashions.

In the first group of displays were Millinery, Evening Gowns, and Coats and Suits. Those demonstrating the modern styles were Mrs. Frederick Briscoe, Mrs. Wilbur Gilpin, Mrs. Alice Southgate, Mrs. Winthrop Stiles, and Mrs. Charles C. Willson, Mrs. Alfred Becker, Mrs. Austin Fisher, Mrs. Ralph Weston, Mrs. Arthur Shaw, and Mrs. Thomas Dearborn.

On the opposite side of the stage, in startling contrast, were some most remarkable creations worn by Miss Anne Bunker, Mrs. Thomas J. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Lane, Mrs. Andrew Laurie, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. Herman Krueger, and Mrs. Joseph Badger.

Interludes between the "Groups" had been arranged, and during the first one a scene called "Church Music" was given. A quartette consisting of Mrs. Walter Amesbury and Mrs. James Patterson as females and Mrs. Arthur Furbish and Mrs. Earl Ordway as males, sang feelingly "Where is my Wandering Boy," to the accompaniment of an ancient organ played by Mrs. Raymond Perkins. In contrast to this, Mrs. Edward Dana Kendall sang Bizet's "Agnus Dei," accompanied by Mrs. John Starkweather on the piano, with the violin obligato played by Miss Irene Forte.

The second group included Fads and Fancies, Sub-Debs, and Livery. Four members of the Auburndale Woman's Club Juniors, Miss Jane Alley, Miss Lucile Cate, Miss Barbara Southgate, and Miss Shirley Williams, acted as models. During the next interlude

there was an exhibition of dancing by Miss Grace Gellinas.

Another spectacular scene was a display of wedding garments. Mrs. Earl Ordway, as an old-fashioned bride in elaborate gown and train, was accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Perkins as the groom. As a charming contrast of simplicity, Mrs. Ralph Weston, in severely simple gown of white with its sheer veil, was attended by the Misses Palmateer gowned alike in pale blue.

Another exhibit was Lingerie, and the old fashioned corsets, ferris waists, and red flannel underwear attracted more attention than the dainty gowns, pajamas and dance-sets.

The entertainment closed with an Evening at Home. On one side of the stage the old fashioned family kissed each other good night at nine o'clock, and the younger ones retired. The modern family was represented by a noisy group who mixed cocktails, read very modern magazines, and made dates for the evening, all to the accompaniment of incessant jazz music.

This entertainment was staged for the Club by Mrs. Walter Wells, assisted by Miss Anne Bunker, Mrs. James Dunlop, Mrs. Clinton Elwell, Mrs. Harry Every, Mrs. Ernest Law Johnson, Mrs. Benjamin Pepper, Mrs. Arthur Shaw and Mrs. Donald Williams.

Police News

In the Newton court last Friday three East Boston boys were charged with larceny. The three are—John Steiner, 15; Ronald McDonald, 14; Mario Cayon, 14. They were caught by Patrolman Brayton stealing articles from the car of B. R. Collins as it was parked opposite the owner's house at 18 Athelstane road, Newton Centre. They guided the policeman to a cave in Hammond's Woods, Chestnut Hill where they had established a hang-out. There the patrolman found automobile registrations, licenses, keys and other articles which the boys admitted having stolen from six cars. Judge Bacon imposed suspended sentences to the Lyman School on the three.

William McGeever, 16, of Reservoir street, Needham and Leonard Corcoran, 15, of Ledges street, Needham were in the Newton court last Friday charged with stealing three automobiles in this city. They were found guilty and given suspended sentences to Shirley Industrial School. The two were caught after they recently stole the car of Joseph Glorioso of Wellesley and abandoned it at Worcester and Reservoir streets in that town. It had been snowing and the footprints of the pair were followed from where they abandoned the car to their homes by Serg. Crowley, Patrolman Stanton and Patrolman Carley of the Newton police.

Special Officers Feeley and Mullen recovered a car on Saturday in this city which had been stolen in Philadelphia on February 27. The car, a Packard coupe, is the property of Russell King of Detroit, Michigan. The car was found in the basement of the Atlas Parlor Suite Manufacturing Company on Chapel street, Noranton. Alfred Scheinefein, owner of the company, told the police he had bought the car from a man for $425 and did not know it had been stolen.

Gerardo Nicolazzo, 19, of 25 Smith court, West Newton, was fined $10 in the Walham Court Monday morning. He was arrested for creating a disturbance at the Embassy Theatre in that city.

Five prisoners escaped from the Middlesex County jail at Billerica on Monday night. Bars on a jail window, sawed with a hacksaw, enabled the escape. Two of the prisoners were captured shortly afterwards in the adjoining town of Carlisle. One of the three remaining at large is John L. Anzivino of Columbia avenue, Newton Upper Falls, sentenced to jail for larceny. He was implicated in the theft of hens in that city.

Harold F. Reed, formerly of 649 Watertown street, Newtonville, was in court yesterday charged with larceny of money from the C. F. Eddy Coal Company. His case was continued to March 11.

Captain Joseph Seaver of the Newton police, and Mrs. Seaver are making a tour of the West Indies. They departed from Boston last Friday.

Condemned Fire Traps Are Razed By Unemployed

Wood Obtained From Buildings Distributed to Needy

A number of unemployed men in this city were given temporary work tearing down several old buildings which were designated as fire-traps by Chief Randlett of the Fire Department. This work was concluded last week and those engaged on it were then advised to endeavor to obtain work through other sources. The buildings torn down included an old barn on the Watt estate at Centre street, near Walnut street, Newton Highlands; a smaller barn at the rear of this structure; an unoccupied old tenement house on Mullen court, Newton Highlands, owned by the Mullen estate; the ruins of the old tenement house formerly owned by the Boston Ice Company near Hammond's Pond and later the property of Michael Barry, and an old barn on the Paul estate, Centre street, Newton Centre. The wood obtained from the razing of these buildings was distributed to needy families.

This week 150 men were given employment by the Mayor's Relief Committee; last week 200 men were given employment. The committee has prepared a report showing receipts and expenditures. This will soon be distributed to all who have contributed.

She has three sons and three daughters; two of her sons carry on the business founded by their father. Noted Poet and Large Chorus in W. Newton Recitals

Edwin Markham and Hubbard Chorus Close Series

Sunday evening, March 20th, at the First Unitarian Church, West Newton, Edwin Markham, America's best loved poet will give a recital from his own poems.

The name of Edwin Markham is a household name on this continent. His poems are known wherever the fine things of heart and mind are appreciated. "The Man with the Hoe" marked him as a true poet of social justice and democracy. His "Lincoln" is one of the highest and most sensitive tributes ever paid to that great soul, and America has signally honored itself, as well as him, in asking him to write the commemorative ode for the George Washington Bicentenary. An impressive figure, with flowing white hair and beard, Mr. Markham is still in the fullness of his mighty powers, and he thrills whatever audiences have the privilege of hearing him. He will interpret his poems which have added new riches to the cultural heritage, not only of America, but the whole world.

The recital of Mr. Markham is preceded by an organ recital by William Ellis Weston, beginning at 7:30.

On Tuesday evening, March 22nd, at 8:15 the final number of this series of lectures and recitals will be given by the Hubbard Chorus of seventy voices, composed of singers from all over Massachusetts, under the leadership of Mr. V. V. Hubbard. This is an unusually interesting program and a cordial invitation is extended to all to attend. There is no charge for admission to these recitals but an offering will be taken.

THE VILLAGE PLAYERS

The Village Players will offer as their spring production the play entitled, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," by St. John Ervine. This will be given on three evenings, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 30th and 31st, and April 1st, at the Unitarian Parish House at 8:15 p. m., in Newton Centre. The cast includes Mrs. Wesley M. Dynes, Mrs. Lawrence B. Farwell, Mrs. Frederick M. Sears, Mrs. William H. Brackett, Miss Beatrice MacRobbie, Mr. Wesley M. Dynes, Mr. Edward N. Griffin, Mr. Harry E. Moore, Mr. Dan Tracy, and Mrs. Donald Cummins.

PAINTERS ACCEPT LOWER WAGES

Newton Local 545, Painters and Decorators at its last meeting voted to accept a lower wage scale. Heretofore the painters have been paid $10 per day. The new wage is $8 per day or $1 per hour. The Master Painters Association of Newton has reduced its charge for journeymen painters from $13.20 to $10.80 per day; this is at the rate of $1.35 per hour. The new rate took effect on March 11 and the agreement is for one year.

Discuss School Affairs at Meeting Of Association

Newton Centre Organization Hears Several Speakers

The March meeting of the Newton Centre School Association was held Wednesday, last, in the Mason School Hall.

Mr. Paul spoke briefly of the need of maintaining the school budget at its present level in spite of depression since it meant so much to the children to have plenty of good teachers, small classes, and the best equipment.

Miss March of the Ward School spoke of the gain made in understanding a child when the teacher and parent could meet and compare notes. The child was often quite different in school and at home.

Mr. Spaulding, director of instrumental music in the Newton Schools gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on his department. There are now, he said, 1190 children studying musical instruments in the school classes. There are 76 beginners in classes starting in third grade. In the Junior High Schools there are 8 orchestras and 4 bands. The pupils are put in one of these bands as soon as their playing justifies it and they maintain their position or move up to a better one by a system of challenging between 2 players.

The schools own 92 instruments, some of them the more unusual and expensive ones, which the children can rent. If they decide to buy an instrument they can, by partial payments and what they have paid in rent will be applied toward the cost of the instrument.

This certainly is a wonderful opportunity for the children and what they have done with it was shown by the solos given by some of the pupils illustrating the beginners' work, that of more advanced students, and that of the best of the High School orchestra.

"DIVINE COMEDY" PORTRAYS HIGHEST IDEALS OF LOVE

The "Divine Comedy" of Dante portrays the highest ideals of love and friendship, said Dr. Edward Howard Griggs in giving his Read Fund lecture at the Underwood School last Friday evening. When Beatrice, the woman whom Dante had passionately loved on earth, said, "Dante, why did you do this when you were on earth?" she showed the highest form of affection, for true love cares more for the ultimate good of the lover than it does for his immediate happiness. He also said that Dante, in turn, showed the highest affection for Beatrice when upon meeting her in the lower world he immediately set about to see what he could do for her happiness. True love seeks to serve.

Dr. Griggs also said that Dante paid the old Latin poet Virgil the highest possible compliment when with an exquisite touch of refinement, having helped Dante through all his wanderings up to the gate of Heaven, he has Virgil leave him immediately with his new found Beatrice, following which Dante quotes two lines directly from Virgil.

The last of the series of five lectures on "The Divine Comedy of Dante" will be given at the Underwood School this evening. The assembly hall has been filled to capacity each previous evening, showing that both the speaker and his subject were well chosen.

DE MOLAY AT ELIOT CHURCH

The members of Newton Chapter, Order of De Molay will attend church on Palm Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Eliot Church, Newton. They will assemble at Masonic Temple in Newtonville and march to the church escorted by their band and patrol.

MRS. STARR ELECTED DEAN

The trustees of Damon Hall Junior College for Girls have elected Mrs. Mary Geran Starr, as dean and head professor of English. Mrs. Starr is widely known as an author, traveler, lecturer and diplomat. She received her degree of A. B. from Middlebury College on her M.A. degree at Yale. Pre-School Child Discussed By Central Council

Monthly Welfare Conference Addressed by Dr. Moore

On Wednesday, March 9th, 1932 the Conference Welfare Problems held their monthly luncheon and meeting at Bond's Restaurant. The subject under discussion was "The Pre-School Child". Dr. Frederika Moore, of the Massachusetts Division of Child Hygiene reviewed that part of the White House Conference pertaining to the pre-school child between the ages of two and six years. President Hoover was not the first president to call a conference on child welfare; for President Roosevelt in 1908 held a conference to discuss dependent children and President Wilson in 1919, with the co-operation of the Children's Bureau called a conference to which delegates from other countries came particularly to discuss their work during the war. Before calling the conference, President Hoover appointed a planning committee of 17 members to study the status and well-being of children, to collect material and make records. One and one half years later the Conference was held. The recommendations were supposed to be followed up by state organizations, not to end merely in talk.

A conference committee was appointed in Massachusetts with Dr. George Bigelow at its head, and Dr. Mary Lakeman as executive. They are establishing well-child conferences for pre-school children with periodic health examinations. A consultant nurse has been appointed to give demonstration well-child conferences in any community where they may be desired after which there is follow-up work. The State Department is glad to send a specialist to any clinic already established for consultation. The State Department is also pushing the summer round-up of children about to enter school to insure that they enter school in the best possible physical condition. The State Department should be at the head of this round-up, with all other organizations co-operating. They also recommend that a Community Health and Education Council be established in each community to educate parents, to further clinics, and periodic examinations. They are sponsoring child guidance clinics, nursery schools, playgrounds for little children, and adequate nursing facilities. Newton has a wonderful reputation for health work in its schools.

Dr. Francis Curtis, Chairman of the Health Department of the city of Newton told of Newton's part in the Pre-School Health program. Pre-school clinics are held in parts of Newton where they are needed, to correct defects before the child enters school. Where there is no pre-school clinic, parents are urged to consult their family physician. In the home interview survey in which 146 cities took part all over the United States and in which were studied health and dental examinations, and immunization from small-pox and diphtheria. Newton stood second in its dental examinations, and fifth in small-pox immunization, and was the only Massachusetts city to make this record. In Newton's own group of 37 cities of her own size she stood fifth in health examinations, first in dental examinations, first in small-pox immunization.

Miss M. Gertrude Martin, consultant in Public Health Nursing in the State Department of Public Health, said that community health work is being studied intensively at present to learn the problems and make recommendations. Newton is outstanding in nursing service.

Mrs. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools in Newton, spoke of the health work in Newton schools. Dr. Curtis plans the clinics, hires the doctors and nurses, and the school department furnishes the children and the meeting place. The School Department and the Board of Health are working hand in hand for the health of school children.

Plan Benefit Performance For Unemployed

To Stage Three-Act Comedy In Newtonville

An interesting event in the amateur theatrical undertakings in Newton will be the premiere presentation of the three-act comedy, "T. N. T.," on the evenings of April 27th, 28th and 29th at the Newton High School auditorium on Walnut street, Newtonville. Leon B. Rogers, chairman of the Mayor's Committee for Relief of the Unemployed, has appointed John H. Eddy of Newtonville head of the committee which is in charge of the entertainment. As the entire proceeds will go to the Mayor's relief fund, enthusiastic support is being generously volunteered by individuals and organizations.

The cast for the play has been carefully chosen from the outstanding talent of the different villages of Newton with the dramatic organizations being exceptionally well represented. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane and Miss Dorothy DeWitt who will portray two of the leading characters were selected from Auburndale for their splendid work with the Auburndale Club Players. Mrs. Harold C. Bond of The Players and Mrs. S. L. Sholley of the Village Players, both residents of Newtonville, have a large and enthusiastic following because of their outstanding work. Mrs. Sholley is departing from her usual role and will take the part of a bewildered Swedish maid in "T. N. T." Mrs. Henry H. Skelton of Newton Highlands who has been with the Dramateurs and The Players and who did such a splendid piece of acting as the mother in the recent performance of "Skidding" will have a similar part in this play. William V. M. Fawcett of Newton needs no introduction to the theatregoers of his home city. As a member of The Players his histrionic talent and his artistry as a coach and producer are well known. Sam Tut-hill, also of Newton and who with Mr. Fawcett gave such a remarkable performance with The Players last pre-season, "The First Mrs. Frazier," has the leading male role. Mr. Tut-hill has also had leading parts in the Tau Beta Beta shows in Brookline as well as also on the professional stage.

Miss Marinda Comer of West Newton, one of the outstanding young artists of the city has just finished playing the lead in the Newton Dramatic Club's presentation of "Behold The Dreamer," which was given in both Newton Centre and Waban to capacity audiences. John C. Miller of Waban who has been seen with the Dramateurs and many other similar organizations and who played the part of the German doctor in the play with Miss Comer was chosen because of his ability in character portrayals. Cushman Clapp of Newton Centre is one of the younger group whose work on the stage is creating favorable notice. His performance in The Village Players recent premiere of Mr. Cobb's "Picore" qualified him for a place with this group.

At the Wednesday and Thursday evening performances the Newton Post American Legion Band will furnish the music and at the Friday evening performance the orchestra of the Newton High School will be heard.

BAR WABAN ROAD

A strip of land between Troy lane and Cotter road, Waban, which has been used as a road between these two short streets has been closed to automobile traffic by its owners who adopted the simple method of felling a tree across the land to serve as a barrier. Complaints made to Street Commissioner Stuart brought the information to those complaining that the land is privately owned and the city has no control over it. The land is part of the Cotter estate.

Week's Vacation With Pay Reward To Police Officer

Patrolman Jenkins' Alertness Officially Recognized

Leave of absence for one week with pay was ordered Tuesday for Charles H. Jenkins, Newton police officer, by Mayor Sinclair Weeks, in recognition of extraordinary police service. Jenkins recently captured single handed 3 armed gunmen. He has performed similar service 3 times within a year. Tuesday's action by Mayor Weeks marks the first time in the history of the Newton Police Department when meritorious service has been recognized. He sent the following letter to the Chief of Police:

"Dear Chief Hughes:
"I have observed in the press and you have officially called to my attention the occasion on March 9th, when Officer Charles H. Jenkins took into custody three men who, while armed, had just previously held up the Shell gasoline station on Commonwealth avenue near Rowe street, Auburndale.

"No citizen who is acquainted with the facts can feel other than a sense of pride and confidence in the manner in which Officer Jenkins handled the situation described above. The judgment, courage, and devotion to duty which he displayed reflects great credit on him and on the Department of which you are in charge.

"As some slight measure of appreciation of this service which Officer Jenkins has performed I am glad to direct that you grant him one week's leave of absence with pay, and I should appreciate your having this letter read at the next roll call after receipt, so that the officers of the Department may be acquainted with the fact that the service of one of their number is known and appreciated, not only by the writer, but by our citizens generally.

"Very truly yours,
SINCLAIR WEEKS (Signed)
Mayor."

Principal Palmer Given Reception By H. S. Faculty

Surprise Affair For Retiring School Official

One hundred fifty teachers and former teachers of the Newton High School showed their appreciation and lasting esteem of Principal Irving O. Palmer when they tendered him a reception on Wednesday evening. Thirty-five years of service and devotion must have seemed a very short time to Mr. Palmer when he and Mrs. Palmer were ushered into the Technical School Library and found a banquet spread and saw his host of friends who had gathered unknown to him to do him honor.

The after dinner program was in charge of Charles B. Harrington, head of the science department. The program was arranged so that every year of Mr. Palmer's association with the school was briefly reviewed. The program delightfully introduced by the Toastmaster was thoroughly enjoyed by all. "The Crimson Rose" was sung by the Faculty Chorus after which the following toasts were given: "Here It Was That Things Began," Emma F. Johnson, teacher of English, 1887, 1914; "The Teacher," Samuel Thurbur, head of the English department; "Friend and Counselor," Maynard Maxim, head of the commercial department; "Principal of the Technical High School," Caroline M. Doonan, English department; "The War Years," George L. Rohrbough, English department; "Now," Paul E. Ellicker, Assistant Principal; "The Long View," Ulysses G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools. The toasts were interspersed by an instrumental trio with Mary Puciarelli, '21, with the violin, Doris Forts, '19, with the cello, and Francesca Barker, '27, at the piano and also by a male quartet, Raymond A. Green, Francis J. Foster, Walter M. Taylor, Jr., and Lawrence G. Drury, which sang "Rolling Down the Rio."

At the close of the program a surprise was staged by Cora E. Riley, Charles H. Mergendall and Carl Swan, terminating in the presentation to Mr. Palmer by the Master of Ceremonies of a memory book of the school and its activities and a purse of gold. The fitting and sincere tribute to Mr. Palmer was arranged by the Social Committee of which Mr. Harrington is chairman.

Mr. Palmer came to the Newton High School in 1897 as head of the science department. In 1910 he was appointed principal of the Technical High School and was made principal of the High School when it was unified in 1924. At the end of this year Mr. Palmer will have completed 35 years of loyal devotion and untiring service to the faculty and students of Newton High School.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON BASEBALL SQUAD AWAITS WARMER WEATHER

The Newton High baseball squad, which is working out daily in the old drill shed at the High School, is anxiously awaiting the advent of warmer weather. As soon as the weather is sufficiently springlike and the diamond at Claffin Field has dried out Coach Jones will get to work in earnest for the coming season, which opens three weeks from next Wednesday.

On Monday of this week Coach Jones divided the squad in order to give undivided attention to those who are known to be of varsity calibre. This squad has one two-hour workout and four hour workouts during the week. In addition to the regular warming up sessions the infield candidates are having instruction on throwing to first base, on double plays and some batting practice with a soft ball. On Wednesday Coach Jones picked out two teams and staged a practice game with the use of a sports ball.

The varsity squad now includes Norbert Champagne, Jackson Skillings, Frank Feola and Siran Malkasin, catchers; Captain Tom Rhodes, Phil Giles, Clifford Choquette, Paul Andres, Vincent Murphy, William Robinson and George Taylor, pitchers; Charles Houghton, Al Robinson, Lamphere, first basemen; Francis Flag, Robert Patterson, Waters and Killion, second basemen; Warren Huston and those named for second base are working out at shortstop; Alexander Kevorkian, Hudson, Elliot Robinson, Bob Goff and Johnson at third base; Willie Mullen, Bill Terry, Joe Mastropiere, Al Carvelli, Tommy Lyons, Tommy Rhodes and Hudson, outfielders.

The remainder of the squad which increased to about one hundred and fifty candidates in all, has been divided into the intermediate and junior varsity groups. The former is working out twice a week under Ralph Sanborn and the latter twice a week under Carl Swan.

Play in Tie Game

The all-Greater Boston interscholastic hockey stars and the Catholic High school team of Montreal played a thrilling 4 to 4 tie game at the Boston Garden last Saturday afternoon in the closing scholastic hockey game of the season. After taking the lead with the opening goal of the game the Hub team then saw the visitors score twice before the end of the first period. The middle period was scoreless but the third period saw three goals, two for Boston being sandwiched by one by Montreal to leave the score at 3 to 3 at the end of the regular sessions. A ten-minute overtime session was played with the visitors scoring with in the first two minutes. Again Boston tied it up two minutes before the game ended. The four Newton high players on the Boston team, Sostilio, Skillings, Houghton and Kelley, all got in to the game with Sostilio the only starter. The Newton defence star, passed the puck to Jerry O'Neil, Melrose star, for the tying goal near the end of the regular sessions.

FLETCHER NAMED HOCKEY CAPTAIN AT YALE FOR 1933

Alexander G. Fletcher, a former outstanding Newton High athlete and prominent in Yale athletics the past few years, has been elected captain of the 1933 Yale varsity hockey team. No other candidate opposed the Newton youth who was unanimously chosen at the meeting of the Blue lettermen in hockey last week Friday. He is the only regular who will be available for service next winter.

For the past two years he has played wing and centre for the Elis and as a freshman was one of the leading scorers on the freshman sextet where he played at centre ice. Fletcher is also a star baseball player and last year as a sophomore he played regularly at second base for the varsity. In his freshman year he was at second for the yearling nine and was one of its stars. It would not be a surprise to local sports followers should the Newton youth be elected captain of Yale's 1933 nine as well as the hockey team for he has been as outstanding in both these sports as the most famous Yale athlete of recent times, Albie Booth, was in football and basketball. Booth captained both these sports but failed to win the baseball captaincy for this year when Edgar Warren was selected. Incidentally, Warren is a former Newton high athlete and Fletcher was a teammate. Warren will lead the Yale nine this year from the bench as the loss of his left arm in a motorboat accident last summer unfortunately terminated his active athletic career. Fletcher, or "Allie" as he is familiarly known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Fletcher of Charlesbank road, Newton. He graduated from Newton High in 1929 where he made an athletic record, which with his high scholastic ranking, brought him the award of the Dickinson Cup for that year.

In the spring of 1928 he played second base on what was considered one of the greatest defensive baseball teams ever turned out at Newton High. That team was captained by Spencer deMille, first baseman, and the remainder of the infield included Fletcher, Spain at shortstop and Warren at third with Phil Andres behind the bat and Don Wilson, Bill Reilly and Rolly Coombs as the pitching trio. Outfielders included Arthur Wilson, Creighton Gatchell, John Muller, Sutcliffe. It won thirteen of its fifteen games and captured the Suburban League championship with a record of 8 wins and 2 losses. One of these defeats was handed out by Everett and the other by Somerville in the well-remembered seniorless game.

The following year Fletcher was captain of the Newton team which won the league title for the second consecutive season but in an altogether different manner. The 1929 nine was perhaps one of the weakest Newton teams on the defence in many years but it more than made up for this lacking by its power with the bat. In the infield Fletcher covered first base, Barry second, Dunn shortstop and Wilson third. The outfield field had Phil Andres, Johnny Mullen and Perry Elrod as its most frequent players with Bartlett Nichols and Bill Reilly filling in occasionally when not twirling. Bill Anness was behind the bat and Reilly, Nichols, Kraber and Jim Pillion comprised the pitching staff. Five regulars on that team had batting averages of over .368 with Fletcher leading the way with a mark of .461 for the season and .548 for league games. His 1928 season mark was .429. In winning the Suburban league championship the 1929 team won 9 games and lost 1 with a season record of 11 wins and 5 defeats. In many the opposition was spotted several runs through loose fielding on Newton's part but in most instances was overcome by superior batting ability.

SPORT NOTES

Named Hockey Manager

Henri J. Bournneuf of Chestnut Hill and a junior this year at Harvard has been named manager of next season's varsity hockey team. While at Newton High he was a member of the golf team and this coming spring has the opportunity to make the varsity golf team at Harvard. Last year he was a member of the Crimson jockey links outfit.

Stout Succeeds Houghton

Donald Houghton of Waban, St. Charles coach in football, basketball and baseball, has resigned his position because of the strain upon his health. He will retain his position as coach at Weston High which he has held along with his duties at the Waltham school. At St. Charles Houghton will be succeeded by Victor Stout, ex-Newton, Worcester Academy, and Boston University athlete. Stout is at present a senior at the Hub School. He will begin his new duties with the coming baseball season.

Wins Hockey "Y"

Allie Fletcher, captain-elect of the Yale hockey team and one of two local youths on the varsity squad, was among seventeen players awarded the trip "Y" for the past season. Joe Gilligan, the second local youth on the squad, was a spare defence player but did not get his letter as no opportunity presented to let him get into the Harvard series.

PLUMBERS WAGES REDUCED

The local union of journeymen plumbers including those serving the Newton, the Newton Methodist Church basketball team will play the Mattapan Baptists. The local five is tied for first place in the Newton Church league and the Mattapan team recently won the championship of the Boston Church league. The Y. M. C. A. juniors will play a game preliminary to the game between the church teams.

JOHNSON AND SLOANE ELECTED TRACK CAPTAINS

Stanley Johnson and Douglas Sloane have been elected captains of the track teams at Newton High school. Johnson, the most versatile and high scoring athlete on the indoor team the past season, will lead the outdoor team this coming spring. Sloane, state champion in the 45-yard dash, will captain the indoor team next winter.

At the beginning of the recent indoor season Coach Enoch was none too optimistic regarding the team's prospects but several promising athletes developed to uphold the team strength of the orange and black in the dual meets. Thus Captain Jimmy Cahill and his mates chalked up a fourth consecutive undefeated dual meet season for Newton indoor track teams. Although Newton did not fare as well in the interscholastic meetings as the strong 1930 team did, this year's aggregation placed well up behind the leaders.

The coming outdoor season will open with the interscholastic meet at Worcester Polytechnic Institute on Saturday, May 7th. Newton won the title in this meet a year ago and will be trying to defend its honors. Coach Enoch will have Captain Johnson and Sloane as the nucleus for his outdoor team and as soon as the weather allows sufficiently candidates will be asked to report for practice on the new cinder path at Dickinson field.

Johnson will give the major part of his attention to the hurdles, both the high and the low, but will also spend some time on the running high and broad jumps. He is a potential point scorer in all four events. Sloane's favorite event is the 220-yard dash but he will also carry Newton's hopes in the 100, Jimmy Cahill, Frank Tuscher, Joe Pescosolido, Elliott Bradley, Roger Maynard, Tom Fitzgerald, Tom Molloy and other members of the indoor squad will compete for places on the outdoor team.

The speaker at the Fellowship Club last Monday evening was Mr. Stewart B. Johnston, Agency Director of the New York Life Insurance Company, whose subject was "Sales Resistance, the step-ladder to success". The interest was so great that many stayed beyond the time of closing to ask questions.

The two had quarrelled at a dance held in Columbus Hall, corner of Adams and Watertown streets and as they reached the sidewalk after leaving the hall, young Covino drew the weapon and fired. He then fled along Watertown street and was caught at the corner of Chapel street by Patrolman John Murphy. He was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday on the charges of assault with a dangerous weapon and with carrying a revolver without a permit. He was held in $1300 bonds for appearance in the juvenile court today.

While patrolling along Washington street near Harvard street shortly after midnight Wednesday, Patrolmen Goddard and Whelan observed a car being operated without number plates. They gave chase and caught the car beyond Newtonville square. The driver, Howard White, 19, of Faneuil street, Brighton, was arrested charged with driving without a license, driving an uninsured and unregistered car and with stealing the automobile. His companion, Joseph Coughlin of Brackett street, Brighton, was also arrested charged with larceny of an automobile. The car, owned by William Hayden of Upland road, Brighton, was in dead storage at the Faneuil Garage and it is alleged were arraigned there by the pair. They were arraigned in the Newton court yesterday and released on bail for trial on March 25.

MEETING THE TEST

Meeting the test of today's economic conditions requires financial protection both adequate and reliable. Millions of forward looking people in this country and Canada are now meeting the test through a definite program of life insurance best suited to their needs, and issued by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

That life insurance companies, during the past year, have been able to show an increase of insurance in force is indeed a tribute to the high purpose which these institutions serve. It indicates a growing national consciousness of this reliable form of financial protection.

Life insurance is, in a real sense, an investment in peace of mind, with interest payable in future comfort. It paves the way to education; to replacement of earning power cut off by death; to establishment of credit; to liquidation of indebtedness; to estate creation—to these and other family or business objectives.

FEBRUARY HEALTH REPORT

The report of the Newton Health Department for February shows that there were 57 deaths in the city last month; 17 males and 40 females. Of those who died 6 were over 60 years of age, 17 over 70 years, 17 of 80 years. Tuberculosis caused 2 deaths, cancer 4, cerebral hemorrhage 2, heart ailments 19, arterio sclerosis 4, pneumonia 8. The death rate per 1000 for the month was 10.03 as compared with 8.94 for the corresponding month in 1931.

Communicable diseases reported during the month included the following cases: scarlet-fever 64, measles 156, mumps 19, whooping cough 20, chicken pox 3, pulmonary tuberculosis 2. Of the 64 cases of scarlet-fever, 29 were in ward 2, mostly in Nonantum. Of the 156 cases of measles, 139 cases were in Waban.

INSURANCE COMPANY REPORTS INCREASE

The officers of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company have a right to be pleased with the figures they were able to report at the annual meeting on January 27. The Boston Mutual Life fared very well indeed in 1931, for it issued the largest amount of life insurance in that year of any year in its history. The total amount of insurance in force on December 31, 1931, was $173,902, a net increase over the previous year of $2,803,610, or 4 per cent, represented by 238,687 policies.

Its officers were also able to report that policyholders found the service of this company to be prompt and dependable in this trying year. Altogether it paid them $1,848,449 for one just cause or another, such as death claims, or endowments. Mrs. had come to maturity, or the benefits due them for disability or double indemnity, or the dividends that their company had earned for them by prudent conduct and wise investment of funds. These payments of $1,848,449 represented an increase of $331,000 over the payments in 1930. The dividends to policyholders amounted to $161,533. The policyholders also found that the promise of this company to lend against policies is a dependable source of relief to policyholders in distress, for the company took prompt care of every application of this sort.

CLIMAX OF SERIES AT LINCOLN PARK CHURCH

At the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton this Sunday the pastor, Rev. John Shade Franklin, will conclude the two series of sermons on the Parables of Jesus and on the earthly life of the Christ, which have been in progress throughout the past three months.

The climax of the morning series is entitled "Bubbles" and is a Palm Sunday message based upon the parables of warning told by Jesus during Passion Week. Miss Olive K. Burris will sing "Ride On! Ride On! In Majesty!" by John Pringle Scott. The anthem by the Junior Choir is Topliff's "Consider the Lilies of the Field."

Specialty featured at the West Newton Community Evening Service is the first appearance of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Orchestra of the Lincoln Park Church. This six-piece musical organization will assist the organist, Miss Mabel Adams Bennett, in the Song Service. Mr. Franklin's sermon subject is "Jesus Forsaken." The Choir will sing Goss' "O Saviour of the World."

Robert Walker, chaplain of Concord Reformatory, give a worthwhile description of crime and criminals, tracing causes as shown from his vast experience, in a lecture entitled "Prisoners and Prisons as seen through a Prison Chaplain's Eyes". Robert Rudy, a pupil of the All-Newton Music School, shared honors in the program, giving several piano solos that were greatly enjoyed.

During the business session, at which the regent, Mrs. John F. Dunton, presided, an important change in the By-Laws was unanimously voted, by which hostess fees will be paid annually, instead of biennially as in the past. Three guests of honor spoke briefly when introduced: Mrs. Hamilton, former regent of Peter Faneull Chapter;

Kiwanis Club

KIWANIS CLUB

Cancellation of the European War debts by the United States was advocated by Frank L. Richardson, leading Newton banker, at the regular noon-day luncheon of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday. This country, he pointed out, should forego the annual collection of millions from foreign countries in order to restore the lost earning power many times the size of those collections.

Mr. Richardson's talk, clearly delivered and exceptionally well balanced, was illustrated by graphs and figures which he made on a blackboard. At the close of his discourse he was kept busy for more than 15 minutes by numerous questions asked by the club membership.

The speaker opened his remarks with the statement that he was about to prove from a strictly economic standpoint that the United States as a creditor nation should cancel the European War debts. He asked his audience to forget the political aspects and all other phases except one of economics and then he proceeded to show through the use of well illustrated data the present financial condition of the world. He developed the important point that we should and could properly forego the collection of 250 million yearly if it meant the restoration of a lost earning power yearly of 14 billions.

Digressing a bit, and through the use of red chalk upon a large blackboard, Mr. Richardson showed the relation of this country's gross wealth of 360 billions to credit balances in banks due customers of 41 billions and the total gold and currency in the entire nation of a little over 5 billions. The absurdity and serious effect of hoarding were brought out through the use of these figures in a most comprehensive manner.

K. OF C.

The "Golden Anniversary" banquet to be held March 29th at the Newton Catholic Club promises to eclipse all activities of the year. Plans for a memorable opening of the Golden Anniversary Year, commencing with the banquet are rapidly nearing completion. A large attendance is expected and speakers of national prominence will address the gathering.

"Past Officers Night" will be observed at the first meeting of the Council in April. William J. Gentry, P.G.K., is chairman of the committee in charge and will be assisted by Past Grand Knights.

NEW CADILLAC SERVICE

Cadillac and LaSalle owners in the Newtons are afforded expert service through Hayes and McManus who have opened quarters at 409 Washington street, Newton. Frank Hayes has been connected with the Packard and Cadillac agencies in this city and is an expert in the automotive selling field. Charles McManus, for many years an expert automobile repairer, and for several years with the Anderson-Cadillac Company, is well known in this city and bears a high reputation for his skill.

Mrs. Farmer, at one time regent of Dorothy Quincy Chapter, and also a State officer, a friend of the mother of the hostess, Mrs. Davis; and Mrs. Come of Newton.

The regent reported important matters discussed at the last meeting of the State Society, Daughters of the Revolution, and also plans for the next meeting of this organization. She announced that Mrs. Edson J. Gould, Mrs. Elmer L. Gibbs, and Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge would be the general managers of the Rummage Sale, which will take place probably April 29 and 30; and that they would be assisted by Mrs. Willard L. Sampson and Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook.

Mrs. Goodridge explained the plan to secure a fund for a scholarship to be given to some worthy girl annually, for which the thirty or more women's organizations which assisted in the recent celebration at Symphony Hall in celebration of the Washington Bicentennial are planning a George Washington Memorial Scholarship Bridge party to take place in the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore on the afternoon of March 23rd.

It was voted to send flowers and letters of cheer to two members who were ill, Mrs. Robert J. Estabrook and Mrs. Stephen Holmes.

The councillor for the afternoon was Mrs. Arthur D. Weston who introduced the speaker.

After the program, there was a social hour with refreshments. Mrs. Edson J. Gould and Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge poured. The other hostesses were Mrs. Edgar M. Horne, Mrs. Ellen P. Harris, Mrs. Warren F. Gregory, and Mrs. Harry I. Hunt.

They are: "Molly Bawn", "The Irish Emigrant", and "Kathleen Mavourneen". He will introduce a new song by the author of "Roses in Picardy" which is destined to become very popular. It is called "Once in a Blue Moon". In response to many personal appeals, Mr. McCormack has also promised to reintroduce the favorite "Mother Machree" which he has not sung at any of his Boston concerts during the past three years. NASH CARS MAKE HIT

The new series of Nash motor cars, placed before the public two weeks ago, are creating the greatest interest of any model in the history of this company. August Osterlund, president of the Nash Sales Company at 724 Beacon street, Newton Centre, reports that more persons are coming to see the beautiful new Nash cars than have come to view new models in the many years he has been in the automotive industry. The advanced design and engineering of the new Nash and the beauty of its slipstream body are putting this great automobile ahead in revived buying interest.

Police News

Monday night about 11 a squad of police headed by Serg. Mahony went to the Bacon Building at 277 Washington street, Newton upon being notified that a fight was in progress there. They were informed that a card game had resulted in a fracas. When the police entered the room where the game and scrap had occurred they found John Lavelley of 26 Clinton street, Newton and William Burke of 19 Boyd street, Watertown. Both were arrested for having committed assault and battery. Lavelley had a bad gash on his forehead. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. The two combatants will be tried in the Newton court on March 23.

James Tetrault, 48, who conducted a barber shop at 62 Pettie street, Newton Upper Falls, was in the Newton court Tuesday charged with having committed assault and battery on two 15 year old girls who had come to his shop for hair-cuts. He was sentenced to serve two months in Middlesex County jail.

William J. Garfield of 132 Parkvale road, Allston was fined $100 in the Newton court Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor. He was also fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. He appealed. Garfield was identified as the driver of a car which sideswiped another automobile on Maple street, Newton one night last week and then drove in to the piazza of the house at 62 Maple street, badly damaging it. He then drove the car, with one front wheel off, a quarter of a mile to Bigelow terrace and abandoned it. A half hour later he telephoned from his home to the Brighton police station that his car had been stolen. Patrolman Halloran testified that he went to Garfield's home and detected liquor from the latter's breath.

ton court last Friday charged with riding a bicycle on a sidewalk. He pleaded guilty and was placed on probation until September 17.

Paolo Mazzuchelli of Burrell street, Roxbury was arrested Saturday noon at his home by Special Officer Feeley charged with non-payment of wages to two men who had worked for him on a house recently built on Montrose street, Newton. As Mazzuchelli was due to sail later that afternoon on a boat bound for Italy, the arrest was quite embarrassing. He was taken to Newton police headquarters where he gave a bank book as security for the money due and he was allowed to depart, to hasten to the boat.

A car owned by Eleanor Gibson of Dudley road, Newton Centre was stolen from the garage at that address on March 8. Last Sunday Chief Magory of the Hudson police discovered the car abandoned in woods between that town and Maynard. Magory first saw the car there last Tuesday, but thought someone had parked it. When he went by the place again and the car was still there, he investigated. The car had been driven into a tree and the stump of the broken tree was holding the automobile. Newton police were notified. Inspector Good and Officer Feeley went to Hudson equipped with a saw and an axe. They released the car which was then towed to a garage. The thieves had stripped the car of some of its accessories.

Edward Cloran, who deals in antiques at 137 Stuart street, Boston, was arraigned in the Boston Municipal court last Friday, charged with receiving stolen goods. He was held for the April session of the Suffolk Superior Court. According to the police silverware stolen a couple of months ago from the home of Mrs. Ella Street, Hamlin road, West Newton, was bought by Cloran and was on display in the window of his store. Cloran was also charged with conducting a pawnshop without having a license.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

EDITOR'S NOTE. Newton Clubwomen will be interested to learn that congratulations are in order to the Newton Centre Woman's Club, its president, Mrs. John F. Capron; its chairman of Art for last year, Mrs. William C. Noetzel; and to Mrs. Murray P. Horwood, Press chairman, whose article upon certain of the Club's activities appears in the March issue of "The Clubwoman", official organ of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, together with pictures of the president and the Club House. The special feature of the presentation is due to the prominence of this Club's officers in service of and honors to Grace Morrison Poole, candidate for the presidency of the General Federation. Mrs. Capron having served as chairman of the Pop Concert held in connection with the Grace Morrison Poole Bazaar on November 4th, and Mrs. Frank H. Stewart as chairman of the Club dinner for Mrs. Poole on November 19th held at the Newton Centre Club House. Mention is made of the annual event, the International Dinner, of the Art Gallery, and of the splendid accomplishments in art which resulted in the awarding of the prize in the Penny Art Fund last year by Mrs. Roy T. Baker, State Art chairman.

Newton is glad to share in reflected glory from this bit of appreciation from the General Federation in publicity which is carried nationwide.

COMING EVENTSNewton Centre Woman's Club

On this day, the children will have their turn at celebrating, as there will be a Children's Carnival at 2 p. m. A sleight of hand performer will start the program. Specialty dancing will follow and then general dancing. There will be ice cream, candy, grabs, and many other attractive features.

Christian Era Study Club

A meeting of the Christian Era Study Club will be held on Monday afternoon, March 21st, at the home of Mrs. Alfred L. Billings. Two papers will be given, one on "President Hayes," by Mrs. Shepard, and another on "Prosperity and Economic Problems," by Miss Mary Gould.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, well-known Newton Clubwoman and lecturer, will appear before the Auburndale Woman's Club at its next meeting on Tuesday afternoon, March 22nd. Mrs. Palmer was so fortunate as to witness the latest production of the Passion Play at Oberammergau last year, and her lecture on this subject should be of interest to all clubwomen. Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Day, will introduce the speaker and has also provided for the program.

Newton Community Club

The March 24th meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held in the auditorium of the Underwood School at 3:30 o'clock, at which time Mr. Frank Hardy Damon, principal of the Damon School for Girls, will speak on "Oriental Rugs; What Their Designs Mean." Mr. Damon's interest in the symbolism of Oriental rugs began over a third of a century ago, while he was on a visit to English people who had lived for years in the East and who had returned home with a remarkable collection of rugs of many kinds. This experience turned his attention to the study of the lore of rugs, especially in the interpretation of the designs, and from that time he missed no opportunity to increase his knowledge from all available sources.

Owners of Oriental rugs say that their treasures have a greater interest and value after they have learned what their patterns mean, proving that such a club program holds valuable information.

On the same program Club members will hear one of Newton's promising young pianists, Miss Edith Temple, of Willard street. Miss Temple, secretary of the Crescendo Club, will be remembered as a gifted member of the Salon of Allied Arts and of the Chromatic Club. She has studied with Mrs. Langley, Edward MacDowell's most noted pupil.

Tea and a social hour will follow.

State Federation

RADIO. "Curing the Accident Habit" will be the theme of Lewis B. MacBrayne, general manager, Massachusetts Safety Council, speaking on the Saturday morning broadcast program of the State Federation over WBZ, March 19th, at 11:30 a. m. Mrs. Reuben Gleason, Jr., of Milton, Press chairman, and Miss Alice F. Titus, Publicity director, will speak on the common topic "Do You Know?" A program of songs will be given by Meriel G. Blanchard, Coloratura Soprano.

On the 26th, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell, chairman of Motion Pictures, will be the chief speaker, and, also, Newton will be especially interested in that the Twelfth District director, Mrs. Seldon E. James, will speak.

SCHOLARSHIP BRIDGE. Mrs. William J. McDonald, of 128 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, is in charge of the State Federation tables for the George Washington Memorial Scholarship Bridge, sponsored by thirty organizations, to be held Wednesday, March 23rd, at 2 o'clock, at the Hotel Kenmore, Boston. A talk on libraries, their work, and ways in which officials cooperate for their use, will be given. Supt. Howard B. Gill, of the State Prison Colony, will tell of pioneer work in education there. There will be an exhibit of work done at the Charles River School of Dover, and methods used and results obtained will be explained by representatives. In the afternoon two addresses: "Parent Education" and "Progressive Education" will carry forward the Conference.

A buffet luncheon will be served at 12:30, tickets for which at $1.00 may be obtained from Mrs. Arthur R. Taylor, 44 Tower avenue, South Weymouth, before March 22nd, by sending check, and self-addressed stamped envelope.

BEST WISHES TO MRS. PACKARD. Dr. and Mrs. John W. Westfall (the former Mrs. Azel A. Packard, of Springfield) are at home to their friends at Hotel Barclay, Philadelphia. Mrs. Westfall, who has a host of friends throughout the state as president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, 1928-1930, and Dr. Westfall have been at Palm Beach since their marriage in mid-February. Dr. Westfall, who is recognized as a leading life insurance expert, is vice-president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Stewart gave a very interesting lecture, illustrated with beautiful pictures, on the Washington Cathedral. Mrs. Edward A. Estaver, accompanied by Mrs. Kirtley F. Mather, entertained with some beautiful violin selections. Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., read a charming group of original poems, one of which has recently been published. Mrs. Arthur D. The members of the West Newton Women's Educational Club were delighted to have the Twelfth District director, Mrs. Seldon E. James, as guest of honor at their meeting on Friday, March 11th. Several Junior Club representatives were guests, also, and Miss Kate Black, factotum, gave a most interesting resume of the work which the Juniors have done and are doing this year. She expressed appreciation for the help and interest received from Mrs. J. S. Franklin, director, Mrs. Victor D. Ratzburg, assistant, and Mrs. B. Howard Lester.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Adele Hoes Lee, a member of the faculty of the Leland Powers School, and a woman of fascinating personality, and recognized ability. Her subject "Instruments on Which All the World Must Play," meaning voice and body, is one which she is particularly well fitted to discuss.

Thought, she explained, is the most powerful thing in the world today; and, too often, neither voice nor body are adequate to express what a person really thinks because of the lack of proper training.

She urged her listeners to keep an advanced foot, an upright position, and to speak with vitality and distinction, and contact with the world would then add joy and beauty to life and much of the burden be taken from it. Mrs. Lee's reading of "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," a one-act play by J. M. Barrie, was enthusiastically received.

The president, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett, made the announcement that, at an early date, the Club will add a book on the life of Washington to their M. Alice Early Memorial Library in the Levi F. Warren Junior High School. Coffee and dainty cakes were served by the Hospitality committee. Mrs. Wilson C. Dort and Mrs. D. Webster Anders presided at the urns.

The next meeting of the Club will not be held until April 15th, since April 8th, which would be the usual Club date, is Good Friday.

Shakespeare Club

In Memoriam
MRS. SARAH E. K. MICK President, Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands
 1906-1908

The Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands pays loving tribute to one of its members, a past president of the Club, who died March 4, 1932. Mrs. Sarah E. K. Mick, wife of Rev. William Marcellus Mick, of 559 Parker street, Newton Centre, was in her 83rd year. To her husband, to her son, W. R. K. Mick, and to her two daughters, Mrs. William E. Sanderson and Mrs. Everett C. Winslow, all residing in Oak Hill, Newton Centre, where Mrs. Mick's ancestors were among the earliest residents, and to other relatives the Club offers its sincere sympathy. She was a direct descendant of Dr. John King, of Newton, and her grandfather was Noah F. King, one of the oldest residents of Oak Hill section of the city.

She graduated from Newton High School, taught in the schools of Newton and Belmont. Resided in Windsor, Vermont. Dr. Mick's first pastorate; Lambertville, New Jersey; Providence, R. I.; and Waltham; remembered with affection and veneration. Fond and loving mother. Faithful and devoted companion. True and loyal friend, comforting and befriending those in need and in sorrow.

Lover of literature, which gave her glimpses of life in which she beheld the Divine currents, in richness and mystery. An unusual woman, always dependable, and executing every duty with thoroughness and earnestness. President, Newton Women's Christian Temperance Union for twenty years, and made its honorary president in 1928. Vice-president, Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. In latter years of her activity served on Legislative committees thereof. President, Shakespeare Club, 1906-1908. President, Monday Club of Newton Highlands, 1922-1924. President, Philathea Class, Baptist Church of Newton Centre.

On November 2, 1929, Mrs. Mick entertained for the last time the Shakespeare Club, on her birthday. She was showered with flowers and gifts, and a tribute paid her at that time by the secretary, Mrs. William Moore, serves today as the Club's loving tribute.

"You make us happy, and you make us good. By simply being with you. We are most glad, since you were sent to earth."

It was while we are here; not hastened down. To shine amidst the splendors of the past.

By Edw. H. Powers

The GRAPHIC has received a copy of a poem written February 1, 1879, by A. B. Crane an old resident of this city who was the father of William Crane, a well known actor a generation ago. The copy of the poem sent to the GRAPHIC was presented by Mr. Crane to Vincent A. Pluta, a well known resident of Auburndale in 1879. The poem is entitled

"WHERE'S NEWTON?"

To Newton do you wish to go?
(Which Newton pray?)

There's eight of them, you know.

1. There's Newton Centre,
On the hill-top crest,
Where the weary find a rest.

2. There's Newton Highlands,
On the summit set,
Of little can be known,
As yet.

3. U Then the Falls,
Of little need be said,
L Where labor scarce can earn its bread.

5. There Auburndale, the Saints retreat,
A better place, you seldom meet.

6. Then West Newton, where the City Fathers meet, to vote
Themselves enough to eat.
There doth the City Hall arise, Where genius points beyond the skies.

7. There is a place called Newton-ville,
With all her faults, we love her still.

8. Then in the corner set,
That is Newton Corner yet,
Where the sun doth rise and set,
Aristocratic, and withal devout, Supposed to know what they're about.

Then the gateman
(O, what a whopper!)
When he directs to Newton Proper,

Sincere beyond a doubt
And tries to do his best,
Yet, hoping these few lines
Will give him—a rest.

To find Newton Proper
Still remains
A conundrum for our senses
And our brains.

If there is any attempt to disfranchise deserving voters this year who may have had to appeal to Welfare Departments of cities and towns for aid, such action will have serious results. We hear and read of denunciation of the "Reds". But, if those who possess wealth and influence attempt to gain political advantage by depriving honest, industrious people of the right to vote they may live to rue the day. The long continued depression has reduced to poverty many who heretofore were prosperous, who were always willing to work, who were reasonably frugal.

Much organized opposition has evidenced itself at the State House against the proposed legislation which would place a special tax on chain stores. The big corporations which conduct the chains have not started in attempting to defeat the proposed law. One of those most prominent in combatting the proposed law and in lauding chain stores is an individual who has appeared at the State House on numerous occasions and who has volunteered advice and information to the Legislators on subjects quite diverse. He strongly advocated professional sports on Sundays, he is quite concerned over legislation controlling the milk supply of Massachusetts and intended to save the farmers of this State from financial ruin. He is not actuated by altruistic motives.

Individually owned stores must pay taxes to cities and towns at the same rate prevailing for all individuals in the community. Chain stores pay only at the rate of $5 per $1000 of assessed value and this payment is made to the State as a corporation tax. Thus, while individually owned stores in Newton are assessed at the rate of $25.60, chain stores in this city pay no taxes to Newton except on the machinery they contain, such as coffee grinders and refrigerators. The First National Stores with 28 units in this city is assessed on only $11,400 worth of machinery and pays $308.24 to Newton. The A. & P. Company with 15 stores in the city pays $212.80 on machinery valued at $8,000. The Economy Grocery Stores with 8 units in the Newtons pays $101.08 taxes on machinery valued at $3800. These corporations pay no taxes to Newton on the stock in their stores here. Individually owned stores must assist in bearing the cost of running this city.

The argument is offered that chain stores have reduced the cost of living and materially aided the masses. They have also taken comfortable livelihoods from hundreds of thousands, have removed from communities the purchasing power formerly possessed by owners of and employees in local owned stores. How much work is given to local mechanics and tradesmen by chain stores as compared with that which would be given by individually owned stores? What are the working conditions of employees in chain stores? How many hours do they labor? How frequently chain stores ask the Newton police for permits to allow their employees to work on Sundays? What part do they take in local civic activities?

MR. JOHN LUND

Newly elected Superintendent of the Newton Public Schools, who succeeds the present Superintendent, Mr. U. G. Wheeler, on September 1st.

TRIPS TO EUROPE ON DEFERRED PAYMENTS

The American public has long been accustomed to purchase its automobiles and electric refrigerators on the Instalment Plan; in fact, practically everything with a value in excess of fifty dollars is purchasable today in this manner, except steamship transportation. Now the application of the deferred payment plan to foreign travel is announced. In the future it will be possible to go to Europe by paying 25% cash and the balance at so much per month after the trip is made.

Strangely enough, this typically American custom is first applied to foreign travel by a 91 year old British shipping concern—The Cunard Steam Ship Company Limited, regarded as one of the most conservative corporations in the world. In common with other steamship companies, the Cunard and Anchor Lines have felt the depression. This innovation is hailed as the panacea for the ills from which the shipping industry has been suffering for the past two years.

In financial quarters it is pointed out that this is the first time a proposed large scale instalment financing project has been applied to an "intangible." Usually, in case of default of payment, the automobile or radio can be repossessed and any loss minimized or possibly prevented. However, foreign travel offers no possibility of repossession.

"The extension of the deferred payment plan to steamship travel is a subject to which we have given long and careful consideration," said H. P. Borer, Cunard's General Passenger Manager, in making the announcement. "The existing conditions here and abroad, resulting in tremendous increases in value for the travel dollar, make the inauguration of such a plan of deferred payments, particularly propitious at this time. We have concluded negotiations with Morris Plan which enables us to make this method of payment available to Cunard-Anchor Line patrons.

"The plan will be open to the public generally and we believe there are many thousands of people in the United States who, through the use of Cunard's Deferred Payment Plan, can for the first time enjoy the benefits and pleasures of foreign travel. It is designed primarily for the use of school teachers, educators in general, professional people and others whose usefulness and ability will be enhanced by foreign travel, but who do not find it convenient to pay for the full cost of their passage before sailing. This plan will also apply to all of our cruises."

Cunard's exclusive arrangement with Morris Plan greatly simplifies arrangements for the instalment financing. All details will be handled by the local steamship agent or Cunard's offices, where the passenger will be assisted in arranging for his loan at the same time he is booking his passage. In most cases, no comakers or endorsers will be required and the only interest charge will be 6% per annum on the amount actually borrowed.

A minimum down payment of 25% will be required before sailing. It is pointed out, that this payment for round trip accommodations to Europe may be as little as $34, the balance to be paid at less than $10 a month. No payments will be required for about 60 days after the passenger sails, which will give the average tourist time to complete his trip before his instalments start.

The development of the plan will be watched with interest in both financial and shipping circles.

The Newton Steamship Agency at 11 Centre avenue, Newton, are agents for the Cunard line.

The Newton Public School System

By Robert V. Spencer

Editor's Note—The following is the first of a series of four articles on the Newton Public School system which will appear in these columns in the near future.

It is characteristic of the American community that, however indifferent it may be towards other departments of its municipal government, it is proud of its public schools. It reveals in their athletic contests, it stands rather in awe of the impressive school architecture and its glories in the ever increasing number of high school graduates who go on to college "So that they will not have to work so hard to earn their living as father and mother have been obliged to do." It cheerfully votes appropriations for the annual school budget and for new buildings without stint. It then indifferently elects the new members of the school committee and promptly forgets about the whole matter.

The City of Newton differs only in degree from other communities. All of us have a rather vague notion, at least, that our public school system is one of the best equipped and most highly organized in the United States.

The whole city knows whether Newton wins or loses its football games with Waltham and Brookline, and we all of us know that our high school graduates, who are enrolled in most of the leading colleges of the East, stand well. The community trusts the School Committee and the administrative officers whom it has chosen to maintain the high standards which it takes for granted, but when we pass our splendid school buildings and watch the crowds of pupils going to and from school and at play upon our athletic fields, we realize that our ideas are for the most part general and that we know little about modern scientific pedagogy and the highly complex organization which is Newton's answer to the great ideal of American education. "An equal opportunity for every boy and girl to attain the best which is in him or her."

It requires a decided mental stretch to realize that Newton was not always a leader in public education, and that it has required eighty years of continuous effort to produce the present satisfactory situation. Newton historians tell us that in 1845, out of 48 towns in Middlesex County, Newton, with its 11 schools had the poorest record for attendance, something less than 50 per cent. of its school population. In 1810 Seth Davis, who for ten years had been the school master at the Highlands, broadened his curriculum by the introduction of geography, map drawing and declamations. This aroused the neighborhood that a public meeting was called which decided that geography was all right but declamations were a waste of time and must go.

In 1847 school matters took a turn for the better and before Newton became a city in 1874 it was spending $130,000 a year on its public schools. By 1883 the school budget was by far the heaviest city appropriation and its per capita cost of education was one of the highest in the state, which standard has been steadily maintained since that time.

As was pointed out in the Graphic recently, the annual budget appropriation of $1,438,147.03 was more than twice that of any other department of the city government a year ago. Of this amount, $989,133.97 was for the maintenance of our regular schools and $447,737.97 was for the vocational schools. Items of interest were $20,091 for medical inspection, $67,861.57 for building maintenance and $10,415.54 for grounds upkeep, which figures show the emphasis now placed upon the health of the children and keeping the playgrounds and athletic field in first class condition.

During the past twelve years the improvements in housing and equipment have been enormous. Within this time the population of the city has increased approximately 48 per cent. Our schools have kept pace with this rapidly increasing school population by the construction of the three junior high school buildings and other improvements in housing and equipment. From 1919 to 1931 the total valuation of our school buildings and equipment increased from $2,017,850 to $9,824,475. Portable buildings are now in use only at the Horace Mann and Stearns Schools and part time classes, so common in larger cities and rapidly growing communities, are unknown in Newton.

Newton has taken the problem seriously of providing the best which modern scientific knowledge has to offer for every child regardless of mental and physical differences. Neither study nor expense has been spared to meet the needs of unusual children. Emphasis is placed upon hand work and practical preparation for useful living and the Barnard School for the benefit of children who do not adapt themselves readily to graded classroom work. There are lip reading classes for the children whose hearing is sub-normal, an itinerant teacher is employed to instruct the 12 crippled children who are unable to come to the school buildings and 12 children with defective vision are receiving special attention in "sight saving classes."

Statistics are the least important of facts regarding a school system, but the following registration figures are interesting. There are 11,459 pupils registered in the 23 elementary schools, the four junior and the senior high school. Of these, 6,762 are in the elementary schools, 1,358 in the junior high schools and 2,699 in the Senior High School. In addition to the Superintendent and his assistants, there are 96 teachers in the Senior High School, 4 principals and 104 teachers in the junior high schools, 210 teachers including principals in the elementary schools, 4 kindergarten teachers and 17 elementary supervisors and teachers of special subjects.

The above figures mean that the schools are well provided with teachers under an adequate staff of supervisors and administrative officials. They also mean another most important thing; that while the Newton school system is large enough to afford wide differentiation in courses of instruction under competent supervision, it is not so large as to be unwieldy. There is no excuse here for that heartbreaking lockstep found in many of our larger cities where the teachers, like the police force, are always looking forward to the time when they can retire on a pension, and where the children, in a sense, are herded like dumb driven sheep. For the above and other reasons, the Newton public school system is one of the most interesting in the United States for study.

Home Women Are The Real Savers

The woman who stays at home really does the saving, according to Mrs. Jessie L. Hardy, president of the Massachusetts Association of Savings Bank Women, and assistant treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank. At the two-day conference of women executives of the state's mutual savings banks, which opened here yesterday, Mrs. Hardy said that the woman who goes out to business may know more of modern economy, but the woman who stays at home understands the true art of saving.

"A great many people think of wealth as something to be achieved by one stroke," she said, "but wealth for the average man or woman is seldom acquired except by the patient multiplication of one dollar by another. Women have this instinct for accumulation in greater degree than men. And the woman at home understands practical economy better than any one else."

"When a woman goes out to work and comes in contact with the larger affairs of the business world, her viewpoint becomes something like the viewpoint of the man in business. But the woman who stays at home knows it is the little things that count. So she saves a little here and a little there and before long she has a sizable savings bank account."

"I wonder how many men have been astonished to learn, in the last year or two, that the woman at home has built up a savings account of some hundreds or thousands of dollars—money which the man of the house never knew about? Such savings accounts have proved the truest sort of friends when work became slack or ceased altogether. It is impressive to see how hard the average home woman will strive to avoid drawing upon the family savings account. But if draw she must, it will be in as small sums as possible."

Mrs. Hardy added that the old-fashioned woman who "couldn't understand a bank statement" is almost extinct. She has disappeared along with the woman who thought that "no funds in the bank" meant she should write another check.

"Present circumstances have prompted all women to strive toward a better understanding of business," she continued. "Nowadays we find it is the women, rather than the men, who come into our banks seeking information about investments. Sometimes we are surprised to learn how carefully they have studied financial statements."

"No matter the times, the will to save is strong and active in most women's minds. They may go to business for themselves, or they may stay at home, but women of all classes are saving their money today. Curiously, perhaps, the well-to-do class of women—and many of the men, too—are just as anxious to save as those of us who are less well off. We note that the rich and the comparatively rich are opening savings accounts to put aside small sums regularly. I suppose that they want the added protection—a sure, ready source of money."

GARAGE BURNED AT OAK HILL

Fire which started in the garage of Arthur T. Vignoles, 29 Greenwood street, Oak Hill about 2 o'clock Sunday morning destroyed the structure and an automobile and spread to the adjoining Vignoles residence. The damage is estimated at several thousands of dollars. Mrs. Vignoles was aroused by smoke and awakened her husband and two servants. Box 912 was pulled at 2:11 and the firemen succeeded in checking the flames in the dwelling and preventing their spread to a nearby stable where 40 riding horses are kept. The cause of the fire is not known.

INCREASE IN MUNICIPAL COSTS

In our last issue we published an interesting letter by Mr. John Cutler on the subject of reductions in salaries of city employees. The letter contained a suggestion that the publication of a table showing the amounts raised by tax levy, school costs, and tax rates since 1915, would be of interest to every taxpayer. We have compiled the following table with an additional column for population which has a direct influence on municipal finances.

Year	Tax Rate	Amt. Tax Levy	School Costs	Pop.
1915	18.50	1,516,884.66	391,887.04	43,113
1920	27.20	2,348,155.44	793,698.85	46,054
1925	27.40	3,229,111.92	985,484.92	53,003
1926	28.00	3,702,459.60	1,109,315.97	53,600*
1927	27.40	3,835,431.45	1,191,707.73	54,000*
1928	27.60	4,123,923.00	1,200,319.54	55,000*
1929	27.20	4,148,903.04	1,254,633.89	58,758
1930	27.20	4,351,475.04	1,292,712.50	65,276

*Estimated. †Amount appropriated in budget.

Since 1915 an increase in population of about 60% has caused a jump of 200% in the amount raised by tax levy and 250% in the cost of running our schools. These increases have caused an increase in the tax rate of 40%. Since 1920, however, the tax levy has been doubled, school costs have increased 75%, largely because of an increased population of 50%, but, however, with a slight decrease in the tax rate. Since 1925 our population has increased about 25% making for a 38% increase in the tax levy and a 40% increase in school costs against a 3% decrease in the tax rate.

The post war period followed by the prosperity era of the latter nineteen twenties brought a much higher standard of living, not only in Newton but everywhere in general. This fact, resulting in peak prices of various commodities, has had its share in the rate of growth of municipal costs. The great increase in Newton's population during the past decade made it necessary for additions to the school system both in new schools and more teachers.

Today we are facing a readjustment to a lower standard of living. This adjustment cannot take place overnight. We still must pay taxes for moneys previously spent. Newton's pay-as-you-go policy has aided materially in keeping our tax rate from being jumped in recent years, but the steady increase in state and county taxes has prevented substantial reductions. We believe that the state should lead the way in reducing governmental costs with the cities and towns falling into line as local conditions permit.

A TWO MILLION DOLLAR PAY ROLL

Newton has an annual municipal payroll of approximately $2,000,000. More than half of this sum is absorbed by the school department for teachers' salaries. A little more than a half million is required for the pay of all police and firemen. These three groups are employed on a scale which gives them a minimum for the first year and an increase for each year of service until a maximum is reached. The city has no control over the school teachers' salaries. This matter lies solely in the hands of the school department. Budgets for the year have been made up and approved, including amounts necessary for pay increases to those who are entitled to such an increase. The balance of the payroll not required for these three departments amounts to a little more than $250,000. With the exception of federal, state and municipal employees there are but few whose salary has not been reduced. In all probability this class of workers will ultimately be similarly affected. A 10 per cent reduction on a payroll of $250,000 is but a small drop in the bucket. It would have little effect upon the tax rate. Unless a reduction is general and includes all employees it would not be of material benefit to the taxpayer.

REWARDING MERITORIOUS SERVICE

For the first time in the history of the local police department meritorious service of an officer has been recognized by the granting of a week's leave of absence with pay. Officer Charles Jenkins was thus rewarded for capturing a trio of robbers in Auburndale last week—the third time within a year that he has successfully coped with armed criminals. The reward was a most deserved one. Increase in crime can be effectively checked by stimulating the custodians of the law to greater efficiency through special recognition of exceptional acts. Places which are known to be protected by conscientious officers are not fertile spots for criminals to visit.

REGARDING PROHIBITION

Is There No Way?

To the Editor of the Transcript: There has been so much loose talk regarding the question of a popular referendum on prohibition that the following statement may be of interest:

The discussion seems to follow three lines of thought—Federal action, State action, and a plank in the political platform of both Republican and Democratic parties.

1.—Federal action. I have it on high parliamentary authority that Congress has no power to demand or require a nation-wide poll on such a referendum.

2.—State action. While it is possible for such a referendum to be held, there are many difficulties in actual practice. It would be necessary for the Legislatures of each State to determine the form of the question and how the vote shall be taken. In the absence of any centralized authority there would certainly be some confusion over the matter of detail. As many of the Legislatures meet only once in two years and as the expense of a special election would be prohibitive, it can readily be seen that it might take several years before a complete poll could be taken. In addition, it is certain that quite a number of States would not hold such a referendum and as the alleged value of the vote depends upon the completeness with which it is taken, these absentee States would mar the final result. Even if under these difficulties, a nation-wide referendum could be held, the outcome would be merely an expression of opinion with no power to enforce its conclusions.

3.—Political platforms. In view of the conditions outlined above, a plank in the national platforms regarding such a referendum could be a mere idle gesture and clearly intended to deceive the people.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

As Easter approaches the noble ambition to look one's best seizes everybody and incidentally makes a lot of trouble for some.

Signs Plus Signals

It seemed as if one or more readers of this column in every village found an explanation for the presence of both permanent stop signs and electric flash signals at several street crossings. You recall, the question was asked whether a motorist was to follow the traffic lamps or abide by the sign post for the curb.

One of the first responses was received the very day the Graphic came out with the story. Walter Whitney telephoned me from Ricker road as follows: "You asked a question about the stop sign and traffic lights at the corner of Centre street and Commonwealth avenue. Did you know that there was the same combination in Nonantum Square? On Centre street, as it turns into Washington, you will find a sign and also the traffic tower. You wouldn't think they'd want the sign when they have the tower, would you? Well, I was like you and I asked questions. And what do you suppose the cop told me?"

At this point I interrupted Walter with a loud shout of "What?", for it was the vital point of the whole matter. "The cop told me," declared Walter, "that the 'Stop' post on the curbing was put there to serve after midnight when the traffic lights in the tower were turned off. How's that for an answer?"

Until you think that one over you really don't appreciate how resourceful policemen can be.

From West Newton there came this: "The iron poles with 'Stop' on them are there for the benefit of patrons of the bus lines. If they didn't have those signs customers could never get a bus to stop. You'd think, wouldn't you, that with times as hard as they are the busses would be glad to stop anywhere for 10 cents."

A third explanation received from a friendly, though anonymous source, reads: "O, don't worry about those 'Stop' poles; they have nothing to do with traffic. They are put there to see what kind of a driver you are and give you practice in stopping and starting up again."

A fourth explanation came from a reader who declared, "These signs are put there to annoy people who like to sleep at night. There is one right under my window and I can manage to hear the squeaking brakes at all hours. It is my chief annoyance but all I can do is grin and suffer."

A long letter, written in sarcastic tone, says in substance that it is a money-making scheme and that the police spend their time lying in wait for violators so they can summons them into court where they are punished by the imposition of a fine.

I am going to take some little time to study these communications and maybe, through carefully weighing each reply, I shall arrive at the truth.

Do ou Agree?

Today's lesson, my dear scholars, will be on the automobile. You all know what an automobile is, or you think you do. If you can do more than drive one you may be said to be an expert. However, this is going to let you in on something straight from the Federal Department of Commerce at Washington.

The figures computed by the department—I have seen them—show that the average life of all motor vehicles in the country was 7.36 years in 1930. The figure has probably risen by now, the department declares, because previous records have revealed that in times of business slackness the average life of a motor vehicle tends to lengthen, while in times of business prosperity it tends to shorten.

Has anybody any questions to ask? Very well then I will proceed. There is a possibility that the average life of these vehicles has passed the high mark of 8.07 years attained in 1925. During a previous business depression the number of scrapped vehicles declined in two successive years, 1920 and 1921, resulting in an increase in the average life of motor vehicle from 5.65 at the end of 1919 to 6.63 at the end of 1921.

Now if you continue to pay close attention and not look out of the window, I will give you another morsel of truth. The average life of a motor truck, figured at 9.47 years in 1930, is considerably longer than for all motor vehicles. It is suggested that the indicated longer life of trucks is the result to some extent of the conversion of passenger cars to light delivery service and their subsequent registration as trucks, but this factor seems insufficient to account for the wide difference between the average life of passenger cars and trucks.

One more thing, dear scholars. Remember, you are learning something all the time. That's right, fold your hands and listen. Another important fact brought out by the Federal Department of Commerce is that the average life of trucks shows a decline in years of depression and a gain in years of recovery and boom periods. This trend is just the opposite of that for passenger cars, which show generally a slightly shorter life period than that of all motor vehicles. The 1930 average for passenger machines was 7.2 years.

That's all. Class dismissed!

Witty and Honest

One of the pleasant sights of the morning, at least on school days, is the policemen shepherding the youngsters on their way to school. The officers are performing what they call traffic duty and their assignment is a special one for they must leave their regular routes, or perhaps pause at one of the schools on their route. But that's all technical detail of police

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

A couple of weeks ago the GRAPHIC printed an item about the construction of a concrete sump at Hammond Brook's outlet near Homer street to collect silt which otherwise would flow into the little ponds at the new city hall park. This item referred to a concrete weir which had been built at the south end of Bullough's Pond to accomplish a similar result and which apparently had not worked successfully. We have been informed by a Newton man who had an official part in the building of the weir at Bullough's Pond, that this device would have prevented mud from forming shoals at the pond if it had been cleaned out, and cleaned out with sufficient frequency.

In Paris last Saturday Ivar Kreuger, 52, Swedish match magnate, committed suicide by shooting himself. One of the richest men in the world; creditor of a number of nations, in a comparatively few years by shrewdness, by concentration, he had amassed a fortune which gave him international influence and more power than most kings ever possessed. But, when the world-wide depression adversely affected him, in common with the great majority of persons in the "more civilized countries", he did not have sufficient moral courage to stand the gaff, so he killed himself. He achieved great success in life, but he did not make a success of life. George Eastman, another international figure, one of America's greatest industrialists and leading philanthropists, committed suicide. Ill health disgusted him and he decided to end his life. Mr. Eastman was in his 78th year, so perhaps he had slipped mentally, despite statements to the contrary. Both Kreuger and Eastman were bachelors. Possibly if they had been married, they would have been less self-centered and more accustomed to face trouble with fortitude.

A GRAPHIC reader phoned us Tuesday morning to protest against the action of Congressman Luce in voting against the Beck-Linthicum question to submit the prohibition question to the States. The Newton citizen who criticizes Congressman Luce asserts that Newton and the 9th Congressional district are "wet" and the congressman should vote in accordance with the sentiments of the majority of his constituents. Congressman Dallinger, of Cambridge, who will probably contest with Mr. Luce for the Republican nomination in this new 9th district, also voted "dry." So, there is no choice between these two men on the prohibition question.

The burlesque theatres have nearly all gone out of business. But, wrestling matches have become quite popular.

Poor unfortunate, victims of circumstances, of environment, who steal are sentenced to long terms in prison. Suave crooks who wreck banks and by dishonesty deprive hundreds of persons of their life savings and reduce them to poverty are "punished" by being fined a small fraction of the amounts they have misappropriated. And we see the strange spectacle of a judge seemingly arguing for the miscreants. All of which makes the effort to stop hoarding more difficult. Balzac wrote—"The law is a spider's web. The big flies break through. The little flies are caught and held."

Were the sidewalks slippery yesterday in 1879? Were the streets slippery last night? Yes; and again Yes! Would some sand on the sidewalks and on the streets have helped pedestrians and autoists? Yea, verily. And if a person falls on an icy sidewalk and receives a fractured leg or a broken arm, or some other injury, he or she is told that the city is not liable.

What doth it profit Newton to have its streets resurfaced by contractors, supposedly because of low cost, and then streets so resurfaced have to be patched and repatched by city employees when the work done by contractors does not stand the test?

Mr. Crane's poem was sarcastically directed at residents of Newton Corner in 1879, the most populated and wealthy section of the city. In the early part of the last century Newton Corner was known as Angier's Corner because a man named Angier conducted a general store in that section. Later the name was changed to Newton Corner, and after the Boston & Worcester Railroad came through the city, the industrial citizens of the Corner had the village name made more dignified by changing it to Newton, or as it was referred to—Newton proper. This action caused resentment among the residents of the other villages in the Newtons.

business. The interesting part is that the children know the officer and he knows them.

It isn't surprising that a police officer should have the confidence of the young people. He hears all about this and that, and how the dog ran away and didn't come back for two whole days and how Papa is going to let him keep rabbits, and many other intimate and personal matters.

I have heard the youngsters and their friends in talk over a lot of things. The friendly relations thus established have been extended to the fathers and mothers. Therefore, when one of the parents drives the child to school the policeman is there and exchanges greetings.

You get the situation, don't you? O. K.! Now then, one day last week—the coldest day we are likely to have this month—a mother brought her offspring to the Underwood School. The patrolman "Buster" Keating greeted the mother with "Good morning. A great day for freckles."

The mother was prompt with the come-back. She smiled and replied, "It isn't freckles that worry me—it's wrinkles."

Under The Gilded Dome

Evidence of the unusual activity of committees is shown by the figures compiled this week in the office of Speaker Saltonstall. Of the 1596 matters before the General Court this year there have been 1050 reported by the committees or more than 65 per cent. This is considered remarkable for this period of the year. Progress at this rate for the next few weeks would mean prorogation sometime during April. It would be something out of the ordinary if the Legislature finished its labors next month and yet many seem to feel that such an achievement may be reasonably expected.

Both branches have accepted the following adverse reports: Petition of Roswell F. Phelps, statistician of the Department of Labor and Industries, that insurance companies be authorized to issue group unemployment insurance policies; that employees of railroad corporations be included with in the provisions of the law granting one day's rest in seven; that incurable insanity be made a cause for divorce; that domestic contractors be given preference over foreign contractors in the construction of public works on behalf of the State; that the approval of contracts awarded by the State Department of Public Works be vested in the State Commission on Administration and Finance instead of the Governor's Council; that owners of motor vehicles be prohibited from taking insurance in more than one insurance company; that gas and electric companies be prohibited from engaging in retail business; to prohibit the spending of public funds for the care of indigent persons who are aliens; that the employment of children under 16 years of age be prohibited in certain occupations; that members of the General Court be notified of certain building construction projects advertised by the departments of the Commonwealth; that a special commission be appointed to investigate licensing of contractors and builders operating in the State and that preference be given to domestic products and contractors in construction of public works and purchase of supplies for public institutions and departments.

Representative Baker, of Litchfield and Thompson voted against the bill which the House substituted for an adverse committee report to provide that the law for one day's rest in seven be made applicable to watchmen and certain firemen.

Dumb animals have figured in two committee hearings and an enacted bill this week. Although the anti-steel trap law has been on the statute books only a year a strong effort is being made to have it amended. A bill was heard this week by the Committee on Conservation which would increase from the present 50 yards to 5000 yards the range within which traps may be set by a landowner or tenant to catch animals which are destroying birds or fowl or other property. Farmers argued that under the anti-steep trap statute they cannot fortify themselves against what they termed the vermin which infest their fields and gardens. For that reason they asked for a range of 5000 yards. Opponents of the bill reported that if the farmers wanted such legislation they should come out in the open and ask for the repeal of the anti-steel-trap law. It was an all-day hearing and lasted until after sundown last Monday.

Then came the hearing on bills to amend the laws relating to the licensing of dogs. The association of county commissioners was petitioner for legislation to permit drastic measures in the matter of stray dogs. One of the provisions of the bill would give local authorities the right to kill a dog at the end of 72 hours providing it had not been claimed. Lovers of dogs were up in arms and attended the hearing before the Committee on Agriculture last Wednesday. There was so many on hand that it was necessary to find a much larger hearing room. The Animal Rescue League brought to the State House a handsome dog which had been found recently in Stoneham. The committee was told that if the proposed law were passed this dog would have to be killed whereas the league was striving in every way possible to find the owner or place it in a good home.

The third reference to animals was less controversial. It was the signing of a bill by Governor Ely. The measure prohibits the hunting of beaver in this State. The reason is that there is only one remaining colony of beaver and this it is desired to protect.

Changes seldom occur in the official families of either branch. One has come this week when William H. Sanger, for many years clerk of the Senate, reached the retirement age limit of 70 years and relinquished his duties. His assistant, Irving N. Hayden of Wollaston was chosen by the Senators to succeed Mr. Sanger.

The recent tragic happening in New Jersey caused the filing of two petitions to make more drastic the measure prohibiting kidnapping which under the present law is 10 years imprisonment. One proposed bill would make it a life term and the other death in the electric chair.

The proposed amendment to the Federal constitution which among other things would abolish the "lame duck" sessions of Congress has been given a hearing by the Committee on Constitutional Law which has announced that it would report in favor of ratification.

Another attempt has been made to induce the Legislature to favor the construction of a bridge between Boston and Hull. This year the bill provides that the company shall be granted a charter by the Legislature.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 20.

The Golden Text is: "Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth" (Psalms 46:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished" (Isaiah 51:6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Moral and spiritual might belong to Spirit, who holds the 'wind in His fists'; and this teaching accords with Science and harmony. In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony" (p. 192).

SCHOOL NEWS

WEEKS JUNIOR HIGH

A vigorous drive is being made this week in all the home-rooms for subscriptions to the school magazine, The Weeks Junior World, which will shortly make its initial appearance. Room 204 is the first to be 100% in its list of subscribers.
That the Weeks' School contains some promising young playwrights was evinced at the Wednesday morning assembly of March 16, when the Collector's Club presented a play, "A Stamp Enthusiast," written by one of its members, Richard Massell. The second part of the program was devoted to an athletic demonstration by the Boy's Gym Team.
There is an unusual exhibit of model airplanes on display this week. The models were made by members of the Aviation Club and represent several types of planes, some of which will fly. Most of the models are painted, and make a very attractive showing.
The mid-winter meeting of the Newton High School Women's Club was held at the J. W. Weeks' Junior High School on Thursday afternoon and evening, March 16, 1932. There were 110 members present.

Busy Dollars

are not those that are hiding in the bureau drawer or even those which are being carried about in the pocket. The busy ones are those which are out at work. They toil without effort, but they do produce. This Bank simply directs the dollar on its way. This Bank makes no profit for itself—it simply takes a few dollars of yours and a few here and there from others, puts them all together and sets them to work. The owners of the dollars receive the benefit in dividends.

TRIBUTE TO GEORGIA H. EMERY

The Directors of the Massachusetts Audubon Society desire to express their personal sorrow and their deep sense of loss at the death on January 15, 1932, of Miss Georgia H. Emery, a Director of the Society from January 22, 1927.

Upon the organization of the society in January 1896 to discontinue the buying and wearing of ornamental purposes of the feathers of any wild bird, Miss Emery and her mother, Mrs. Daniel H. Emery were among the first to express their appreciation of the work of the society by becoming members. Their names are enrolled as such in the first report of the society published in October 1897. They at once put into practice the principles of the society and soon extended their interest to bird study and bird protection.

Miss Emery became a life member April 30, 1904. In 1910 she appears in the Annual Report as local secretary for Newton. In connection with her duties as local secretary she was a frequent visitor to the rooms of the society. This she became intimately acquainted with and actively interested in the work of the office. Her missionary efforts in behalf of the society were continuous and productive of results.

Her home with her parents at 70 Waverley avenue, Newton, became a miniature bird sanctuary where birds were fed, protected from their enemies and encouraged to nest. Later her home at Jeffrey, New Hampshire, and on Franklin street, Newton, was a similar sanctuary. Her interest in the study of birds was illustrated by her habit of reserving the week of the spring migration for observations in the field. Her training in art, opportunities and taste for reading, travel, and for cultivating perennial plants especially in her wild garden in her late home gave her an exceptionally well rounded development. In her death the cause of conservation and bird protection has suffered a great loss.

Central Church Groups Active

The Woman's Association of Central Church has been enjoying the accomplishments of its members and friends in their various group activities. The Dessert Bridge arranged by Mrs. Ellison Day's group and held at the home of Mrs. Fred W. Rust, 98 Kirkstall road, on March 8 was very successful from both a financial and a social standpoint. A hundred and thirty attended this function.

Mrs. Harold B. Sherman's group was responsible for the very pleasant, entertaining and informative afternoon spent at the Central Church Social Hall, on Wednesday, March 9, when about two hundred listened to Mrs. H. O. Bond give an interesting book review of the latest books and a delightful resume of Booth Tarkington's new book, "Mary's Neck."

Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden's group sponsored one of the most delightful of these entertainments, a musicale given at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rust on Kirkstall road, on Sunday afternoon, March 13. Mrs. D. E. Baker and Mrs. Mace Andrews arranged the program, which included an interesting variety of numbers. Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, accompanied by Mrs. Baker, sang charmingly a group of English songs, which were much appreciated. Mrs. Kenneth Hastings with Mrs. Harry Stanley accompanying, played the violin with her usual brilliancy and charming interpretation. The talented Address sisters gave pleasure with their trio, Charlotte at the violin, Ruth, the cello and Judith, the piano. Judith also sang from the "Noces de Figaro," accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Fleming Vose, well known in musical circles. Ruth Andrews, pupil of Miss Ruth Masters, gave some piano selections. Mrs. Vose accompanying. Mr. James Brown of California, in whom Roland Hayes is interested, was one of the performers. Mr. Brown is studying voice, organ and composition in Boston and is a very gifted musician. His selections included classical numbers as well as some of the appealing negro spirituals, beloved by all. There were over one hundred present at the recital.

The Browning afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brewer Eddy, 82 Kirkstall road, on March 16, proved a rare treat to the forty or more who gathered. Dr. Eddy, a great lover of Browning, and an able interpreter of his life and poems, gave much pleasure to his audience of Browning enthusiasts. He gave a brief outline of Browning's life, noting especially the Puritan influences that helped shape his life and the fact that it was a little Congregational church of which his grandfather was a staunch supporter that was largely responsible for his inspiration and the purity of his message. He dwelt upon the influence of Keats and Shelley and especially that of Mrs. Browning during their fifteen years of married life. Dr. Eddy then read selections from some of his best poems carrying his audience with him and making them realize anew that Browning was "the greatest thinker who used poetry as his method of expression."

The Executive Committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association will meet on Friday evening, March 18th, at the home of President George L. Curtis, 177 Walden street. This is a regular meeting of the committee, and in addition to reports from special committees who have been working on such matters as playgrounds and zoning, a considerable amount of new business regarding Newtonville's civic affairs will be discussed.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Ernest Braithwaite, of Central street, was hostess of the Review Club on last Tuesday morning, at which time three of the recent books were reviewed. Miss Elizabeth Wells, chairman of the morning, gave the story of Hugh Walpole's "Judith Paris," calling attention to a beautiful water-color of the Cumberland Valley in which the plot of the story was laid. This picture had been painted by a relative of the Braithwaite family. Miss Wells then asked Mrs. Charles Grover to read some English poems, and she chose several by W. H. Davies, a Welsh poet, who was discovered by Bernard Shaw.

Mrs. Susan Tuttle followed, with Galsworthy's "Maid in Waiting," and Mrs. George Knapp closed the program with Sir Philip Gibbs' "The Winding Lane."

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

Tuesday, March 15th, was President's Day at the Newton Highlands Woman's Club, and Mrs. Harry P. Forte, president, opened the delightful program in the Congregational Parish House with greetings to the guests. On the platform with the officers of the Club were Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, second vice-president of the State Federation; Mrs. Selden E. James, Twelfth District director; Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, president of the Newton Federation, and Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, the first president of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club. After the introduction by Mrs. Forte each guest of honor responded with five-minute greetings.

Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn sang several songs, in costume, in her usual charming manner. Mrs. Ginn was accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Simonds.

A demonstration of work in the Drama Class was given in the one-act play "Grandfather's Chair," by Willard Pritchard Eaton. This play was read by the following members of the Club, under the direction of Mrs. James S. Gove: Mrs. Henry H. Skelton, Mrs. John E. Peakes, Mrs. Arthur F. Brown, Mrs. John I. Linker, Mrs. Dana S. Sylvester, Mrs. Lloyd Yeager, Mrs. Hans E. Bernt, and Mrs. Malcolm Greene.

Mrs. B. Walter Godsoe gave a very short resume of the interesting afternoons which the Drama Class have given to the community this winter.

The Cantata, "Rose of Avon town," by Mrs. H. A. A. Beach, was very artistically sung by the Club Chorus, directed by Mrs. Thomas D. Ginn; soloist, Mrs. John F. Westrel, and accompaniment, Mrs. Maurice A. Reidy. Miss Madeline W. Cobb read the poem preceding the singing of the Cantata.

After the program the guests were taken to the Club Workshop for a reception, and to enjoy an exhibition of class work by the Art committee.

This very happy and successful afternoon closed with the serving of refreshments to the guests and their escorts in the Workshop, while the Club members were seated in the Congregational Parish House.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Craftsmen at work, a sculptor modeling from life, and Clubwomen talented with unusual ability in needlework, at a demonstration, held at the Newtonville Woman's Club, in the Central Congregational Church, on Tuesday, March 15th.

This Exhibit of Arts and Crafts, given under the joint direction of the Art and Conservation committees and the Garden Club, was unusual in that visitors saw not only the finished product, but also the artist or craftsman at work.

Mrs. R. Ward Hillman demonstrated hand-weaving on a four-harness loom. Mrs. Elsie Bockman showed her skill at weaving Norwegian tapestry, and carded and spun as her work progressed, using only hand-dyed wools. Miss Josephine Estes displayed a collection of miniature woven articles.

Mrs. Carl Somers and Mrs. Frank B. Thompson sat at a table, upon which they quilted a piece quilt, and Mrs. Elmore Spear and Mrs. Constance Kemper showed their ability at hooking rugs.

Mr. Connick had an exhibition of his work in stained glass. Among the artists, Mr. C. J. A. Wilson showed many of his etchings of engines and boats, for which he is noted; Miss Ruth Henestis, Mr. Fred Daniels, and Mr. C. Richardson showed landscape and water-colors; Miss Berta Reid showed some splendid subjects in oils.

Those interested in wood-carving were able to see Mr. Charles Sladen ply his craft, and also some wooden birds exhibited by Robert S. Bowen, who also had a collection of illustrated fairy tales.

Mrs. Percy Woodward, chairman of the Art committee, to whom may be attributed much of the success of the exhibit, demonstrated the art of needlepoint. Block-printing by Warren T. Berry was a center of interest for many, and Mr. Berry also exhibited several masks, proving his skill as a sculptor as well.

The Newton High School and the F. A. Day School were represented. The High School sent specimens of work done in the Art Department, and a Shakespeare exhibit from the English Department. A miniature City of Rome carved from soap was the work of the F. A. Day pupils. Crippled children of the Peabody Home sent a collection of basketry-work.

Suggestions for making a garden were well carried out by the Garden Club, displaying everything that is needed in making a garden, from seeds in great profusion to the entire setting. A garden-like scene surrounded a beautiful statue, the work of Helen Blair, sculptor. The scene, very tasteful.

Girl Scouts

Ten years ago the Newton Girl Scouts were asked if they would like to contribute $100.00 to the Children's Hospital and have the privilege of naming a bed the "Newton Girl Scout Bed." This appealed very much to the girls and it was decided to undertake the project. A moving picture show was given to raise the money and each year since then, the Girl Scouts have contributed $100.00 for this privilege.

Last Saturday was the date of our annual movie. It was given at the Paramount Theatre and was most successful.

The tickets for the movie were sold by the girls in the different troops and it was announced during the program which troops had been most successful. Troop 1 of Newtonville sold 335 tickets. Troop 5 of West Newton came next selling 111 and Troop 20 of Newton sold 106. Janet McKay of Troop 1 sold more tickets than any other Girl Scout; her number was 25. Nadylis Dalton of the same troop sold 20.

Candy, which was made by the Girl Scouts, was sold during the performance and the show netted over $350.00. Of this, $100.00 will be sent to the Children's Hospital and the balance will be used for other Girl Scout activities at the discretion of the Officers' Association.

Mr. J. N. Snider, manager of the Paramount Theatre, co-operated in every way possible and was most helpful in making the entertainment a success. The Girl Scouts also wish to thank Mr. Alfred Bevan, the New England district booking manager of the Paramount Public Theatres of New England, for arranging a very fine program.

The Bugle and Drum Corps—Junior and Senior, played during the performance and the selections were much enjoyed. This was the first appearance of the Junior Corps and the audience was much impressed at the progress they had made.

WILBUR IMPROVEMENT ASSO. MEETS

The Wilbur Improvement Association held its 23rd meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carter, 65 Harding street, West Newton, and was attended by a great number of its members.

A discussion was had with reference to the advisability of building a grammar school covering from the first to the fifth or sixth grades, and the laying out of a playground for the use of the children in the neighborhood. This suggestion was to be made to Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton.

Refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. Meeting was adjourned at 10:30 P. M.

fully done with palms and shrubs, was the work of the members of the Garden Club, of which Mrs. Alfred Zelig is president and the Conservation committee, of which Mrs. Perez Howard is chairman.

Miss Blair also modelled in clay form a life study, and exhibited many other examples of her art. Artists and craftsmen of Newtonville as well as club members exhibited. Those who attended were quite unanimous and enthusiastic in their praise and admiration of the artistic work shown.

Sen. Hollis Talks To Citizens' Club

The members of the Newton Citizens' Club were very fortunate in having Senator Arthur W. Hollis as their principal speaker at last Wednesday evening's meeting.

Mr. Hollis expressed his sentiments as far as the origin, purpose and growth of the club was concerned. "It is very gratifying to know that a group of men would get together for the sole purpose of making citizens out of non-citizens, voters out of non-voters and good citizens out of citizens," he said. He expressed his desire to see more organizations like the Newton Citizens' Club throughout the state in the future.

Mr. Hollis also gave a very interesting and educational talk on legislation explaining the functioning of both houses. After his talk he spent much time in answering questions to the satisfaction of all the members.

It has been the desire of the executive committee to bring its members into closer contact with various officials and ex-officials of our city, county and state. Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs has accepted an invitation to speak at its next meeting which will be held on the evening of April 6, 1932 at Columbus Hall. All citizens are cordially invited to attend.

NEW FORD MARKET

The Ford Market is now located at its new store, 317 Washington street, Newton, between Bacon and Peabody streets. It affords greatly improved facilities to its many patrons. Ample parking space is available. The large show windows at the store, facing the South give the market unusual advantages in obtaining natural light. An ultra-modern refrigerating system supplies a current of dry, cold air for the large storage chest, glass enclosed show cases and the corned beef tanks. The groceries in the store are displayed on conveniently arranged shelves. The color scheme of the store is ivory and green. The whole effect of the market is that of efficiency and cleanliness.

The proprietor of the market, Andrew J. Ford, has for 21 years been an important factor in the business life of Newton. He had the courage to pioneer in scheduled deliveries, in weekly payment of credit accounts and other methods which are now generally in use. He has been receiving commendations for the optimism he has displayed by moving to a new store and equipping it with entirely new and expensive fixtures while business men in general are discouraged because of the conditions which have been prevailing.

Associated with Mr. Ford in business is his son, Francis L. Ford, who has had a valuable technical training.

Newton Girl Will Enter Cnovent

Miss Evelyn K. Messer, 19, only child of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Messer of 8 Silver Lake avenue, Newtonville, will leave Wednesday, March 23 to enter the novitiate of the Sisters of Charity at Convent Station, New Jersey. She received her education from members of this Order at the parochial school of the Church of Our Lady, Newton, graduating from the high school in 1930. On the evening of March 10th her classmates and friends gathered at Columbus Hall, Nonantum and tendered her a surprise farewell party. On behalf of the class of 1930, and her friends, Mr. Lawrence Kerr presented her with a purse of gold.

Since graduating from school Miss Messer had been employed at the F. W. Woolworth store at Newton Corner. Her associates there presented her with a purse of gold when she ended her duties there a week ago. She is an accomplished pianist and took an active part in church and social affairs. Her many friends will miss her pleasant smile and pleasant words of good cheer.

ANNUAL MUSICALS

Miss Elizabeth Cushman, of Temple street, West Newton, who appeared in two groups of songs at the Annual Musicals of the Community Service Club, finds that her audiences show enthusiastic interest in her costume folk songs. To be of any real value, such songs must not only be aesthetically, but historically correct. Miss Cushman was fortunate on Wednesday in her selection of a group of Breton songs, for the costumes were in themselves beautiful and her introductory explanations gave to each song an historically romantic setting. When the curtain rose, Miss Cushman was no longer to her audience a West Newton girl acting a part upon a West Newton stage, but this audience saw only a Breton girl in her North France environment—the rag-picker, the soldier, the penitent before the shrine of the Virgin, the joyous singer in this month of May. An artistic production such as this was of necessity based on historical research, but Miss Cushman's introductory explanations were so simple that everyone in the audience was in rapport with the songs.

Aldermen Disapprove the Extension of Hunnewell Ave-- Appropriation to Drain Swamp

Mosquito Breeding Place at Dolan Brook To Be Removed-- Meeting Short and Unimportant

The meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night was short in duration and little business of importance was transacted. The Board did take action on two matters which will meet with the approval of many residents in two sections of the city. It voted adversely on the petition of the Whiting heirs to extend Hunnewell avenue at Newton from Elmhurst road to the Brighton line and an appropriation of $3087 was made to drain the swampy area in the neighborhood of Dolan Brook at West Newton. The large majority of residents on Hunnewell Hill opposed the petition for the extension of Hunnewell avenue and the draining of the Dolan Brook area will remove a mosquito breeding place at West Newton.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Edison and Telephone companies for a pole location on Hawthorne avenue, Auburndale. No one opposed this petition. On the petition for a sewer in Bonad road and Howland road, West Newton, Myron White of Colbert road spoke in opposition. He said he already had paid for a sewer assessment on Colbert road and that the proposed improvement is for the benefit of persons who wish to develop property and that they should bear the cost. Mrs. Bertha Eddy of 55 Bigelow road, opposed the petition for a sewer in Valentine street, West Newton, from Bonad road northerly. She said it is wanted only for the benefit of one house.

Dr. Bernard Luderman of 571 Commonwealth avenue spoke in favor of the petition for a sewer in Ivanhoe street from Kenilworth street to Montrose street, Newton. He said that the nature of the soil there renders it unfit for cesspools; the soil is of clay and even the dry-wells dug to catch the water from the house gutters overflow. Mr. Luderman said a sewer is necessary to protect the health of that neighborhood. Mr. A. Goodman of 571 Commonwealth avenue also favored the petition. The petition was opposed by John U. Lennon of 3 Ivanhoe street. Kate Emery of 15 Ivanhoe street and Caroline Bramer of 30 Ivanhoe street. Miss Bramer said the petitioners can install septic tanks to care for sewage disposal.

Arthur L. Brown of 53 Chapin road, Newton Center favored the petition to grade and accept that street. He said it is in deplorable condition, automobiles become mired in the mud there and all property owners on the street want it improved and accepted. Alderman Grebenstein asked that the rules be suspended to allow action on traffic ordinances affecting Church street, Newton and Washington Park, Newtonville. He explained that the prudential committee of Eliot Church at Newton want parking prohibited on the north side of Church street from Centre street to Farlow Park. With automobiles parked on both sides of this street cars cannot pass. To safeguard children attending the Clafin School it is deemed necessary to forbid the turning around of automobiles on this narrow street. The Aldermen passed both ordinances as suggested.

The Licenses Committee had recommended, according to the docket, that the petition of Josephine Gorgone for a permit to erect a 2 car garage at 6 Gannon court, West Newton be granted, and that the petition of the Jenney Company to install an additional tank at its station on Boylston street, Newton Highlands be refused. Alderman Hawkins, chairman of the committee asked that both these petitions be referred back to the committee for further consideration. A hearing was announced on the improvement of Cold Spring Brook from Beethoven avenue to the new playground in the Cold Spring area at Newton Highlands. No person appeared to favor or oppose this project, but it will, in all probability be carried through. Hearings were assigned on petitions of James Troy for a permit to erect a 3 car garage at 160 Allen avenue, Newtonville; Jack Connelly to erect a 3 car garage at 45 Needham street, Newton Highlands; John T. Burns to erect a 4 car garage at 10 and 16 Hunnewell Circle, Newton; Jeremiah Madden for a sewer in Maple Circle, Newton.

A communication was received from the Newton Citizens' Club asking that betterment taxes on sidewalks and curbs be apportioned over a period of 10 years. The trustees of the Cossens Fund were authorized to withdraw deposits of $2300 from savings banks and transfer them to a checking account to be available for investments. An appropriation of $657 was made to provide a pension for John Martin, a Street Department employee recently retired. He worked about West Newton Square. Another appropriation was $50 to Miss Annie Page for release of two parcels of land recently acquired by the City of Newton in Needham for its water supply reservation.

Other communications were from Mrs. Theresa Quinn asking damages for personal injuries caused by a manhole cover projecting at a sidewalk on Washington street, West Newton; from Davis & Vaughan asking for a sewer in Walnut Hill road, Newton Highlands; from Willis Fellows petitioning for a sewer in Solon street, Newton Highlands. Rev. Charles Bryson petitions for a waiver of the setback line on Wiltshire road, Newton from 25 to 12 feet.

As evidence of the depression was a petition received from the junk dealers of Newton asking that the annual license fee be reduced from $10 to $2. The dealers in old iron, rags and other claim their business is so terrible that they cannot afford to pay $10 fees this year. Louis K. Liggett Company again petitions to be granted common victualler licenses at their stores. The Liggett Company was twice turned down on like petitions a few years ago when the aldermen refused the pretzels and pretzels, drugs and doughnuts, coffee and cascara don't mix properly. Boleslaw Ebel sent in another petition for a pool room permit at 1028 Chestnut street. The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway asks for a permit to operate busses at Newton Center to serve the Oak Hill section.

The meeting adjourned at 9:15. The absentees were Aldermen Bail, Gallagher, Harte and Howlett.

NEWTON ALDERMEN WON'T OPPOSE COUNTY OFFICIALS

At the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted not to support the effort of the City Government of Melrose in curbing the power of Middlesex County officials. Melrose officials became indignant when that city was heavily assessed for the building of the new Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham. The City Government of Melrose has introduced a bill in the Legislature asking that county officials of Middlesex be forbidden to undertake projects costing over $250,000 without submitting such projects to the units in the county for their approval. The Newton aldermen refused to co-operate with Melrose. Newton's assessment on the new hospital was $300,000 and a bond issue of $300,000 was floated to meet this assessment.

Kiwanians Plan Carnival Knight To Aid Milk Fund

Underprivileged Children To Receive Entire Benefit

Ten acts of professional vaudeville will be included on the bill of entertainment of the Kiwanis Carnival, which will be held in the Paramount Theatre for the Milk Fund of the local Kiwanis Club on Monday evening, April 4th, beginning at 11 o'clock. Announcement was made yesterday by the large committee of local business and professional men who planned the event that the show, starting before midnight and ending about 1 o'clock in the morning, will be one of the biggest frolics ever held in the city.

Entire proceeds will be devoted to the underprivileged child movement for which the Kiwanis organization is noted. Every act is billed as a headliner and all entertainers have contributed their services without charge. Use of the theatre has been donated free. In its entirety the late evening vaudeville show has been fashioned after the midnight performance in the same theatre last November for the benefit of the unemployed of the city.

Free prizes—dozens of them—will be distributed during the performance. They have been contributed by members of the club and Newton merchants and will be given to lucky ticket-holders. Among the prizes are electric vacuum cleaners, fruits, candies, articles of clothing, sporting goods, books and household articles.

Mayor Sinclair Weeks, an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club, will take part. Acts which already have been assigned places on the bill include Chet and Ellen Bowdrot, professional vaudeville dancing team; a skit entitled "Foolin' Round"; Miss Mildred Beardsley, xylophonist; Joseph Antonelli in "Echoes of Caruso"; Miss Julia Gonsalo, the modern Nora Bayes, accompanied on the piano by Louis Tabaldi, and Thor Rylander, magician.

There are several other notable entertainers who will be announced later in a "surprise bulletin" to be issued next week by the Kiwanis Carnival committee.

NEWTON WATER DEPARTMENT MAY MAKE ELECTRICITY

At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night it was voted to authorize the Mayor and City Solicitor to seek legislation which will permit this city to generate electric power at the pumping station of the Water Department at Newton Upper Falls and carry this power to motor driven pumps on the water reservation. According to statements made in some papers it is contemplated to generate hydro-electrical power at the pumping station. This is erroneous. There is not any fall of water at the station sufficient to generate any appreciable amount of electrical power. Several different plans of obtaining motive power at the station are being considered. One of these is to install a turbine engine to provide power for the big pump at the station. If this is done the surplus power from this turbine would be used to operate the motors at the pumps on the water reservation. These motors are now powered by electricity purchased from the Edison Company. The monopoly enjoyed by the Edison Company in this and surrounding communities prevents current from any other source being transmitted over a public way. To overcome this obstacle, Newton seeks to get permission to send electrical current from the station (should this plan be adopted) to the reservation beyond Kendrick Bridge at Needham.

The meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted not to support the effort of the City Government of Melrose in curbing the power of Middlesex County officials. Melrose officials became indignant when that city was heavily assessed for the building of the new Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham. The City Government of Melrose has introduced a bill in the Legislature asking that county officials of Middlesex be forbidden to undertake projects costing over $250,000 without submitting such projects to the units in the county for their approval. The Newton aldermen refused to co-operate with Melrose. Newton's assessment on the new hospital was $300,000 and a bond issue of $300,000 was floated to meet this assessment.

Young Republican Club of Newton Elects Officers

Clarence Day Is Pres.—Desire Polls To Stay Open Later

The third meeting of about sixty interested in forming the Young Republican Club of Newton was held on Wednesday evening of this week at the home of Mrs. G. B. H. Macomber at 171 Highland street, West Newton. At the previous meeting, which was also held there when Mrs. Macomber graciously opened her home for the affair, a nominating committee was elected and instructed to present its report. Mr. C. Clark Macomber, chairman of the committee, presented the report and a vote was taken electing the usual officers with each Ward in the city being represented by a vice-president.

Mr. Clarence H. Day of Waban was elected president. Mr. Day is chairman of the Ward 5 Republican committee.

The seven vice-presidents, one from each Ward, include Steven Hodges, Ward 1; Alderman Donald M. Hill, Ward 2; Maynard Hutchinson, Ward 3; Alderman Charles B. Floyd, Ward 4; Doane Arnold, Ward 5; John V. Sapulding, Ward 6; and George R. Rawson, Ward 7. Mr. Rawson is chairman of the Ward 7 Republican committee.

Miss Margaret McGill of Newtonville was elected secretary. Miss McGill has for some time been active in Republican affairs and is Middlesex County Chairman of the Massachusetts Woman's Republican Club. It was largely through her efforts that the movement was started leading to the formation of the new organization.

Mr. Philip N. Horne of Newton was elected treasurer. Mr. Horne is a member of the Ward 7 Republican committee.

Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House of Representatives, of Chestnut Hill was the chief speaker of the evening. His subject was "Why We Should Be Republicans." He attributed many of the standards of America to the fact that since 1870 Republicans have dominated the executive branch of national politics with but few exceptions. He urges a continuance of faith in the leaders of the nation and state and in ourselves. He pointed out that control of the state rested in the vote of Middlesex and Norfolk counties.

Hon. Charles E. Hatfield spoke upon the need for co-operation between the new organization and those of the city and county to the end that in the coming election the state may return to the Republican column.

State Senator and Mrs. Judd of Springfield and Representatives William B. Baker and Rupert C. Thompson were among the guests present. Sen. Judd and the local Representatives spoke briefly.

Considerable discussion was held on the matter of keeping the polls open until a later hour and two votes on the matter were taken. The first vote was in favor of a petition going to the Newton Board of Aldermen seeking an extension of the time of closing. The secretary was instructed to draw up this request which will be presented to the Newton Aldermen by Vice-President Donald M. Hill, Ward Alderman from Newtonville.

A following vote was taken that it was the sense of the meeting that the polls should stay open until seven o'clock.

The executive committee of the Club which is to be comprised of the officers elected at the meeting, is to meet shortly to organize and to arrange for definite work along the lines of registration and such other methods as seem desirable.

Few Employees Have Retired On Pension Plan

Retirement Association Report Shows Unfavorable State

The annual report of the trustees of the Retirement Association comprised of employees of the City of Newton was issued last Saturday. This association was organized three years ago. It shows that during the year starting July 1, 1930 2 members resigned, 1 died and 7 were pensioned. Seventy-six new members joined, bringing the total membership from 175 to 250. George Buck of New York, the consulting actuary retained by the association states that the withdrawal of members during the first two years of the association's activity has been unfavorable to the system devised. The actual number of members who have withdrawn because of dismissal or resignation has been less, and their salaries have been less than contemplated. If this condition continues it will mean that eventually more members will be eligible for retirement than had been anticipated in the amount set as the city's appropriation for the retirement funds. If this occurs a reduction in the retirement pension might be necessary. It is hoped that improved economic conditions would increase the number who will retire from the association in the next few years and thus prevent a change in the basic rates. Mr. Buck's report says in part:

There have been fewer cases of service retirement than expected at all ages showing that the expected rates of service retirement are amply conservative. Evidently the same conditions which are resulting in a lower turnover rate are influencing members to remain in service after they become eligible for retirement. As was pointed out previous the lower actual service retirement rate tends to offset the adverse financial effect of the low withdrawal rate.

The salary experience during the past two years has been favorable to the fund, that is, the expected salary increases have exceeded the actual salary increases by a small margin. This condition was found to have been much more marked during the year 1930-1931 than during the year 1929-1930, which perhaps was to have been expected in view of the present economic situation.

The fact that there have been no deaths among pensioners during the period under investigation is of course unfavorable to the fund in that no reserves have been released, whereas, according to the rates of mortality adopted for pensioners, approximately one death was expected. Of course the number of pensioners on the roll at the present time is too small to furnish any basis upon which we may judge of the adequacy of the rates of mortality which were adopted.

The experience of the system as a whole during the two-year period from July 1, 1920 to June 30, 1931, may be considered as being satisfactory. The withdrawal and mortality experience among active members has been somewhat unfavorable but has been offset to a large extent by the favorable retirement and salary experience. The experience among pensioners has been such that a slight deficit has developed in the Annuity Reserve Fund but this condition may be corrected within a short time when the pension roll becomes larger.

On the basis of this experience investigation it is recommended that the tables which were adopted by the Board on January 4, 1930, be continued in use until the next investigation is made.

if seems Intestinal Flora, they plant organisms which live in the digestive tract. The friendly acidophilus type helps normal elimination. The purgative types hinder it. Restore a proper balance or look and health will suffer.

A lively spirit and the glow of health—what better formula for a charming personality could anyone devise? And yet, how easily these are destroyed by the poisons of faulty elimination!

Here's a way to guard against the effects of intestinal sluggishness. Many doctors endorse it—
Drink Walker-Gordon Acidophilus Milk—a preparation of pure, fresh Walker-Gordon milk cultured with a hardy strain of acidophilus bacilli. This will build up in your intestinal tract a sufficient supply of these friendly bacilli to counteract the poisons of decay bred by modern diet. As you replace the flora of decay with the flora of health, your intestinal condition is "sweetened" and regular, natural elimination is encouraged.

Try this pleasant method of encouraging healthy intestinal habits for one month and see the difference it makes!

SPORT NOTES

Appointed Tech Manager
Richard Lawrence of Newtonville, a freshman at M. I. T., has been elected assistant manager of the varsity hockey team for next season.

Osborne Third
Captain Lloyd Osborne of the Yale swimming team placed third in the 220-yard freestyle event at the Inter-collegiate Swimming Association meet at the Naval Academy tank at Annapolis last Saturday night.

Win Numerals
Three local youths have been awarded freshman basketball numerals for their playing in games of the past season. The three are Richard F. Bailey, Joe Doucette, and Frank Wetherbee. All were members of the 1931 Newton High basketball team of which Bailey was the captain.

Set New Season Record
A new season record for a team total was made in the Newton Bowling League when the leading Mauds Club team from Wellesley hit 1717 on the Hunnewell Club alleys while taking four from the local team. Hunnewell started off in fine style with 576 but at the close of the string Mauds came through to win the point with a total of 592. In its remaining strings Mauds hit 555 and 570 to chalk up the new record, surpassing the old mark of 1635 by 82 pins. In other matches University took four from Waban at Waban, Weston, on their own alleys, took four from Commercial, and Middlesex and Newton split even at the Arlington team's alleys. Mauds has practically clinched the honors with its 34 points won against 6 lost as but four more matches remain to be rolled. The battle for second place continues close. Middlesex has a slender hold with a 24-16 rating with the Newton Club close behind with 23-17. Hunnewell, University and Weston are tied for fourth with 19-21 with Waban and Commercial in the cellar with 11 wins against 23 losses.

Hole At Shortstop

The graduation of Red Rolfe of Dartmouth last June left a big hole at the shortstop position on the Green nine for this season which it was expected would be capably filled by Frank Spain, ex-Newton and Exeter academy athlete. Spain, who was a varsity hockey player, became ineligible about the middle of the ice season and as he is still ineligible the hole at shortstop leaves the Hanover Indians weak at that position. Bob Bennett and Langdon Powers are two other local youths who are expected to remain on the varsity baseball squad this season. Bennett is a catcher and Powers plays either the outfield or at second base. It is possible that Coach Tesreau will give him a thorough tryout at short.

Barr May Go to Minors
It is rumored that Bobby Barr, local youth with the Red Sox squad in the south, is slated for a minor league berth this season. It is expected that he will be sent to Des Moines which was formerly managed by "Shono" Collins, the Red Sox manager who learned his baseball at Newton Upper Falls.

Newton Youth On Team
A banquet was given to the members of the Boston University basketball team on Monday night. The only local representative on the team is Charles Monahan.

Ex-Teammates Now Opponents
On the 1928 and 1929 Newton High baseball teams Arthur Wilson and Allie Fletcher were teammates. Now Wilson is a junior at Boston University and Fletcher a junior at Yale. Both are regulars on their baseball teams with Wilson at third and Fletcher at second. They will be opponents in the opening game of the season when the two teams meet at New Haven a week from tomorrow. Meanwhile the B. U. infield has been working out in the Commonwealth Army until the weather permits outdoor sessions. Incidentally Edgar Warren, captain of the Yale team who will lead the nine from the bench this season, was a member of the 1928 Newton High team.

Rotary Club

Robert Hill of Lawrence, a past district governor, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club held on Monday at the Woodland Golf Club. His subject was "Club Service" and he gave an interesting talk on the opportunities presented to Rotarians to be of real aid to their fellow members. He stated that Rotary would never finish its work until instinctively it reacted to the needs of fellowship and understanding. Today we are undergoing the severest test of life and the solution of present problems depends more upon conduct than upon conference.

DARTMOUTH CLUB TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Dartmouth Club of Newton will be held at the Woodland Golf Club on Friday evening, April 1st, at eight o'clock. Rupert C. Thompson, Jr., secretary of the local organization, announces an interesting program in connection with the meeting which each year gives Dartmouth graduates of Newton an opportunity to be hosts to the Newton boys in high and the preparatory school who are planning to enter Dartmouth.

The Club is anxious that every boy with thoughts of attending Dartmouth attend the meeting whether or not he has received a special invitation. Fathers of prospective Dartmouth men are also cordially invited. The program will include Natt Emerson, ex-President of Dartmouth Alumni Council, ex-Pres. of the Boston Alumni and President of the Woodland Golf Club; Charles Lingley, popular Dartmouth professor, who will speak on the "Dartmouth of Today"; and Bill Cunningham, columnist, who will talk on "Dartmouth of My Day." The latest release of the Dartmouth Film Service will also be shown for the first time in Newton.

FIRE IN ADAMS STREET BUILDING BEING INVESTIGATED

Inspector Shumway of the State Fire Marshal's office has been investigating the third fire to occur in the store at 241 Adams street, Newton, occupied as a shoe repair shop by Frank Vincenzo. The first fire in this shop occurred a few years ago. The second fire occurred a few months ago. The third fire occurred at 2:40 a. m. Tuesday morning and spread to the barber shop at 243 Adams street occupied by Carmelo Bartoli. The damage is estimated at about $1500. The building is owned by Alessandro Lupo of 262 Adams street, Newton.

FLOWER AND GARDEN SHOW

In order to stimulate interest in beautifying the lawns and gardens of the city, the Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R. will hold a flower and garden show at its chapter house in Newton Lower Falls on April 28. There will be several short talks on gardening by well known authorities. The garden clubs and florists of the city are invited to participate. Mrs. Ernest F. Dow of Wauwinet road, West Newton, is chairman of the committee in charge.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS' CONVENTION COMING

The massive doors of the famous Memorial Hall and those of Saunders Theatre of Harvard University in Cambridge will be opened on Tuesday, April 19th, to the Christian Endeavorers of Middlesex County in their 43rd annual convention. The day's program, starting with its morning session at 10:30, includes an ontological contest, method conferences and departmental work.

A series of trips to many points quite unknown to many, but which surround the historic buildings and campus of "Old Harvard" are part of the afternoon program. A banquet at 5:30 at which over fifteen hundred Christian Endeavorers will eat together is one of the features planned by a large committee of Cambridge Union Christian Endeavorers.

The evening session following the banquet, with installation of the new County officers, and an address by the Rev. Arthur Kinsolving of Trinity Church, Boston, will conclude the events of the day.

Police News

A burglar entered the home of Thomas Fay at 5 Peabody street, Newton, early Sunday morning and stole a billfold containing $26. The thief entered the room of Kenneth Fay through an open window and stole the billfold. None of the family was awakened by the burglar.

Angus McDonald of 76 Arsenal St., Watertown, was arrested Sunday night by Patrolmen Goddard and Whelan charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. In the Newton court on Monday he was fined $150.

When Frank H. Stuart of 6 Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill, returned to his home Saturday afternoon he discovered that someone had entered the cellar of the house by breaking a window pane. The burglar had not been able to enter the house proper and nothing was stolen.

Last Friday Patrolman Dolan discovered that the home of Chester Mowat, 116 Chestnut Hill road, Chestnut Hill, had been entered and looted. The burglars entered the house by breaking a window pane. Empty jewelry cases were found strewn about. The Mowat family had been away for several weeks so it was not known how much loot his thieves had stolen.

Last Friday night a large sedan was badly damaged when it hit a telephone pole at the corner of Watertown and Bridge streets, Nonantum. Shortly after the crash Serg. Mahoney and Patrolman Green arrested a Brighton boy who had been one of the two occupants of the car. He was turned over to Serg. Snell of the Brighton police. The car was owned by Morris White of 2035 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, and had been stolen from that district.

Wrestling Banquet

On Thursday evening of last week, at the Newton Y. M. C. A., a banquet for past and present members of the Y. M. C. A. Wrestling Team was given by Dr. Fred E. Simm, Coach of the team. Thirty-five members were present to enjoy a turkey supper and evening's entertainment. Among those who were present were Leo Cormier, the present captain of the team, Joe Arsenault and Henry Yachon, past captains, and Sarkis Bazarian, Q. K. Barrett, Warren and Wilbur Storer, Robert and Richard Young, Ray and George LaRose, Salvatore Graceffa, Wesley Curran, Arthur Boughan, Arthur Evans, Leonard Morrison, Axel Pamp, Murdock Weathers, William Place, Charles Besle, and Philip Hardy.

During the evening a large shield with the names engraved on it of past and present members of the team was presented to Dr. Simm by the team in appreciation of his guidance and friendship. In the five years that the team has been coached by Dr. Simm, Newton "Y" has won the State Championship three times—1929, 1930, and 1932, and in 1931 it finished second. The evening's program also included singing and short talks by Dr. Simm, Phil Hardy, Murdock "Pop" Weathers, H. W. Bascom, and Richard B. Simmons.

Annual Gymnastic Exhibition

Fifteen numbers are being planned for the Annual Gymnastic Exhibition of the Newton Y. M. C. A. to be held on Friday evening, April 1st.

All of the boys' groups and Senior members will be represented in the Exhibition. Mr. Anderson, the Boys' Physical Director, is training the boys' classes. The Cadet Class will put on a fancy march, the Junior A Class is working up a Fashion Show, the Junior B Class will do some Tumbling, and the Employed Boys and High School Classes will be represented in the Elephant Vaulting. Two groups of Senior members are working out regularly. One group, under E. Melville Westgate, former Boys' Physical Director at the Newton "Y" is preparing Pyramid on the mats and parallel bars, and the other group under the direction of Gilbert Grant will do some Tiger Leaping.

Mr. John Andrew, Jr., Associate Boys' Secretary, is coaching a group of boys for two Clown Acts. Performing on the heavy apparatus, high horizontal bar, parallel bars, and flying rings will be by members of the Gymnastic Team of the Boston "Y", assisted on the Rings by Gilbert Champagne, George DeGrasse, and Gilbert Grant of the local "Y". Two novelty numbers will be presented, one a Hand Balancing Act by a team from the Newton "Y"—Joe Masse, George DeGrasse, and Joe and Gilbert Champagne. The other will be a Clown Tumbling Act by Robert Hyer and Hartley Dawson of the Boston "Y".

During the Exhibition, emblems will be presented to the boys who have won them during the past season in basketball, swimming, and in the athletic contests. Preceding the Exhibition there will be a half hour concert by the American Legion Band. All together around one hundred boys and twenty-five men will take part in the evening's entertainment.

Fellowship Club

Mr. Pitt F. Parker entertained the members of the Fellowship Club with one of his clever, illustrated talks last Monday evening. His cartoons were fine and much enjoyed by all.

Next Monday evening Mr. Roy C. Baile, representing the Firestone Tire Company will give a motion picture talk on "Rubber". Starting with the growing of rubber in Liberia and a cross section of life there, he will give the process leading up to the finished tire.

Bowling

Eight of the ten bowling teams are within three points of each other in the standing. As there are only three more matches, the winning team is very much in doubt. At present Team 2, composed of Arthur N. Jacobs, Raymond Clarke, Henry W. Mahler, Ralph I. Robbins, and Horace White, is one point in the lead.

Morning Meetings

All the Employees of the Newton

Kiwanis Club

"Give the boy of today a break," advised O. K. Kitterman, "for he is going to carry on your business and run your public affairs of the city and the state and the nation in the years ahead. His character is trained, his whole life is moulded by what he learns from the contacts he makes with you."

Kitterman, a Newton resident who is the scout executive of the Boston Council of Boy Scouts of America, and the man who last fall led Mayor Weeks and 100 prominent Newton business and professional men in a scouting course "Back to Boyhood" put it squarely up to the Kiwanians to take an active interest in boys. His talk was entitled "Character Training," and he was introduced to the gathering by Lysecom A. Bruce, Jr., scout executive of Norumbega Council. These scouts were accompanied to the meeting by W. R. "Red" Speirs, who is the assistant scout executive of Norumbega Council in charge of week-end camping and cubbing.

"If you are not today devoting some time in thought or action to make life easier or to point the way to some boy who is lost, you are a failure," declared Mr. Kitterman. "The intricate machinery called children is not getting a fair deal. The life of the boy is moulded by the contact he has with you and me in every day life—the parent can't do it all. The responsibility for every boy in every community rests with every adult in that community."

"We who rub the grindstone daily in behalf of these boys know how much we need the help of fathers and mothers, citizens, school workers, farmers, laborers and men of religion who will help us to give the boy a break."

Plans for the Kiwanis Carnival night in the Paramount Theatre on April 4th were announced at the meeting by Charles A. Mahoney, president. The show, starring radio and vaudeville acts, will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening and the proceeds will be devoted to the underprivileged children's milk fund.

Speaker at the next meeting of the Kiwanis Club will be U. G. Wheeler, Superintendent of Schools, who is chairman of the club's underprivileged work. Mr. Wheeler will have as his guest at that meeting, Miss Callista Roy, assistant superintendent of the Newton public schools and a group of 10 children who are being aided by the Kiwanis Club.

LOCAL WOMEN ASSIST DART-MOUTH MUSICALS

Several Newton women are assisting the Dartmouth Women's Club in arranging for a musicale to be given by the Dartmouth College talent in the Grand Ball Room of the Copley-Plaza, Monday evening, April 4 at 8 o'clock. A special feature of the concert will be the singing of Indian songs by Roland B. Sundown, a full-blooded Indian Chief, who will appear in full tribal regalia. The following are the women assisting: Mrs. Ralph C. Marden, Mrs. Donald G. Morse, Miss Caroline Drew, Mrs. Winifred Robinson, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., Mrs. Frederick H. Caswell, Miss Ruth Mattox, Miss Jean Morrison, Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., Mrs. Charles R. Cabot, Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt, Mrs. Albert M. Lyon, Mrs. Alexander D. Salinger, Mrs. William C. Mattox, Mrs. Richard L. Cooley, Mrs. Daniel E. Watson and Mrs. John F. Wheelock.

WINS LEGION AUXILIARY AWARD

The award of five dollars, offered by the Fidae Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Virginia Cook, past president, chairman, for the best essay on "Why We have a Fete on Armistice Day," was won by Mary A. Regan, a pupil at the Our Lady High School, Newton. James V. McMullen of the same school received honorable mention. The contest was open to all high school pupils in Newton and attracted considerable interest with a large number of entries.

WOOLEY GETS 'GATOR WITH BOW

G. Crandon Wooley of 63 Hyde street, Newton Highlands, who is in charge of archery activities at Vinoy Park Hotel, St. Petersburg, Florida, went alligator hunting last week and captured a 7 foot animal with the first pull at his 90 pound bow. He was accompanied by Nash, a veteran alligator hunter. A guest of the hotel took motion pictures of Wooley's feat to prove that the saurian was killed by an arrow.

OK HILL ESTATE SOLD

One of Newton's finest homes located on a high site in the heart of Oak Hill Village, at No. 188 Arnold road, has been sold for Doris B. Norris of Newton. There are eleven rooms, three baths, lavatory, sleeping porch and a large sun-room. The property is assessed for $29,000.

As part payment for the above-mentioned property, Doris B. Norris took in exchange a Colonial brick house and a one-car garage, located at No. 20 Trinity Terrace, Newton Centre. The assessment of this property is $13,400.

Alvord Bros. were the brokers in these transactions.

Y. M. C. A., for the first three days of Holy Week, met at 9:15 for Devotional Services.

These meetings were addressed by Rev. G. Vaughn Shedd, Rev. Newton A. Merritt, and Rev. Boynton Merrill.

Y. W. C. A.

The following women of Newton Centre are members of the committee in charge of the folk music concert to be held at the Boston Y. W. C. A. on the evening of April 6: Mrs. Alexander P. Maynard, Mrs. Alden B. Thresher, and Miss Louise Walworth.

Bridal songs, dances, work songs, love songs, and cradle melodies, new to this country, will be given by Ljubljana and Schubell, popular artists, who have been delighting thousands from coast to coast. Slovene, Croatian, Bosnian, Serbian and Dalmatian songs will also be illustrated by pantomime and dance.

The charming spring event will be sponsored for the benefit of Camp Winnicunnet, the vacation centre of the Boston Y. W. C. A. at Martha's Vineyard and for the program of the International Institute.

Mrs. William C. Blackett of Chestnut Hill and Mrs. Harold G. Cranshaw of West Newton are co-chairmen directing the April benefit.

SPRING CONCERT

On Tuesday evening, March 29th, the Highland Glee Club, Inc., of Newton will give its annual spring concert at the High School Auditorium, Newtonville, at 8:15 o'clock. In addition to an unusually delightful and seasonal program which the club has prepared, it will be assisted by two guest artists—Miss Elizabeth Travis, Pianist, and Miss Marguerite Porter, Soprano. Miss Travis was the Mason-Hamlin prize winner at the New England Conservatory in 1926. The last two years she has been abroad studying with Arthur Schnabel and has been on a concert tour in Germany. Since returning here she has played with the People's Symphony Orchestra and appeared before many of the leading musical organizations in and around Boston. Miss Porter is well known in Boston musical circles and has also appeared with the People's Symphony Orchestra as guest artist. A pleasurable evening is in store for the music lovers of Newton and their friends.

MEET AT NEW QUARTERS

The last regular meeting of the Newton District Nursing Association was held at their new quarters on Walnut street, Newtonville, on Monday, March 14.

An interesting feature of the meeting was a demonstration given by the student nurses depicting nursing care given in the home to a mother and baby. This is only one of the many services obtainable through the association.

It is hoped that before the next meeting many more replies from our appeal will have come in giving the new memberships so much needed for carrying on the work. Up to date, less than $1400 has come in of the $4000 required. Send your membership this week.

Local Boys In Play at College

William L. Roberts of Waban, and Paul Hughes, of Newton Centre, students at the Nichols Junior College of Business Administration at Dudley, Mass., had prominent parts in "A Convention of Papa's," a one-act farce presented Wednesday evening.

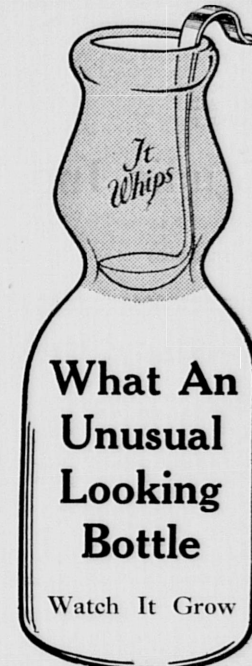

Roberts, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Roberts of 56 Pine Ridge road, Waban, is a member of the junior class at Nichols this year. He plans to take a course in engineering at the New Hampshire University in Durham, N. H., after completing his studies here. He formerly attended the New Hampton School for Boys in New Hampton, N. H., where he was active in sports.

Hughes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Van Hoesen of 17 Prentice road, Newton Centre. Before entering Nichols Junior College he attended Keith Academy where he played football and baseball.

Roberts and Hughes are now at home for the Easter holidays with their parents. They will return to Nichols for the opening of the spring term on April 3rd.

RECENT EVENTS

Newton Federation

An appreciative and interested audience enjoyed the program prepared by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs at their Mid-Year Meeting last Friday in the High School Auditorium. In the absence of Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, the chairmanship of the Program committee was filled by Mrs. Victor P. Ratzburg. The program was in commemoration of the Bicentennial of George Washington.

The Art committee of the Newton Community Club, Mrs. Albert N. Walker, chairman, used potted plants for the stage decorations and a beautiful, large American flag which was hung on the back drop made an appropriate background.

The president of the Federation, Mrs. Samuel N. Brame, cordially welcomed the Club members and guests. She gave introduction to the patriotic program by remarking that all over the United States, cities and towns were this year expressing their respect and love for "The Father of Our Country", and she called to mind, among Washington's characteristics, his willingness to sacrifice his ease for the furtherance of any worthy cause.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB ORGANIZES

The Young Republican Club of Newton elected officers this past week and its executive committee is expected to outline plans for a program of definite work shortly. Undoubtedly much of the preliminary work this organization can do lies in the registration of new voters. As the political control of the State lies largely in Middlesex and Norfolk Counties the scene of the coming battle for regaining control of Massachusetts will centre in the eastern part of the state. Newton, of course, as well as Middlesex County poll a majority of Republican votes while Norfolk is Democratic. But every Republican presidential vote gained here offsets a Democratic vote elsewhere. And there are many unregistered voters in Newton.

THE SENATE LEADS THE WAY

Yesterday the senate, by a vote of 33 to 7, showed its approval of the movement to reduce Legislators' salaries by ten per cent in the face of an overwhelming majority opposed to the step in the House earlier in the week. The matter must now come before the House again for approval and with a roll-call order it is expected that many Representatives will record themselves as in favor. Their actions will be watched with interest as it may pave the way for similar reductions in the pay of state employees. Public demand for lower taxes is growing and as we pointed out last week the place to begin is on the burden which is charged by the state to the cities and towns.

NOW IS THE TIME

The Newtonville Improvement Association is taking the proper step in seeking to prevent business from encroaching on the land near the new city hall area. While all of this land is zoned as residential property, ultimate success in preventing a change to business property lies in electing Aldermen from Ward 2 who will make it a point to strongly oppose any such attempts.

Noted Poet Is Greeted By Two Large Audiences

No finer testimonial could be given to the affection with which the Poet Edwin Markham is held in the hearts of the American people than the crowded auditoriums at the Unitarian Church of West Newton last Sunday evening and at the Channing Church in Newton the week previous. Those who came to see and hear this picturesque figure who has won a lasting place in the hall of fame of American literature were not disappointed. When he began to speak, the weight of his eighty years fell from his shoulders like a cloak laid aside and he stood before his audience a tower of physical strength, as well as the seer who is able to look beyond the realm of science and to behold the deep spiritual significance of the ordinary facts of life.

To be read at the dedication of the Lincoln Memorial in Washington. After he had concluded his regular lecture, he gave by special request "The Man With the Hoe," explaining that the poem was written in protest against industrial and social oppression which makes of man a mere animal, a being which has lost his ideals. He also took pains to explain that the poem was not inspired by "The Angels," but by another French painter.

Throughout the lecture there was a wholesome vein of captivating good humor, which gave the listener the thought that though poets may effect the picturesque in appearance by wearing long hair and full beards, and though they may dwell mentally in realms of the imagination, into which common clay mortals seldom enter, they may in fact be well balanced, lovable human beings.

He opened his lecture by saying that no one can give an exact definition of poetry, but that true poetry, like other forms of art, concerns itself with definite objects and ideas, but it reaches into the realm of the imagination and gives a clearer appreciation of the object than comes to us under ordinary circumstances. He said that for a poet to be able to do this he must overwhelmingly be buoyed up by intense feeling regarding that which he is to write. As Mr. Markham stood before his audience, it was possible to understand how his poetry came to possess such vitality. As he read a number of his most popular poems, the listeners gained a new understanding of the meaning and emotion which the author wrote into them.

Explaining how each came to be written, he read in captivating style "Child of My Heart," "The Gates of Paradise," "How the Good Guest Came," "Shoes of Happiness," and several others. He closed with a spirited recital of "Lincoln," the poem chosen by William Howard Taft

MACMILLAN TO LECTURE

Capt. Donald B. MacMillan, one of the world's most famous explorers and scientists, is to lecture in the auditorium of the Central Church, Newtonville, on the evening of April 4, under the auspices of the Central Club. Capt. MacMillan's lecture is illustrated with a wonderful display of moving pictures and lantern slides. The subject of his address is "Twenty-Four Years of Arctic Exploration," and it will be a resume of the high spots of his accomplishments during that period. Capt. MacMillan visited the Arctic regions nearly every year for the past twenty-four years, and has explored vast regions which previously were unknown to man. He covers that frozen country by ship, by land transported on dog sleds, and by airplane, over those frozen wastes. On one of his recent trips he covered 1500 miles of uncharted country, he explored with his airplane 50,000 square miles of unknown territory, during which he took thousands of feet of color films, recording the scenery, natives and modes of living in Labrador, and the discovery of a lake never before seen by a white man.

Besides the enormous additions to scientific knowledge which have been made by this famous discoverer, Capt. MacMillan has done much to improve living conditions among the Eskimo inhabitants of those lands. He has established dental clinics in several Eskimo communities, and has cooperated with missionaries, teachers and medical workers, in promoting the welfare of these isolated people. In recognition of these services, he was awarded the Elisha Kane gold medal for daring exploration and scientific research.

This lecture is open to the public, and it will be preceded by the usual supper for the members of the Central club with their families and guests.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. Bentley

When some people are given their best chance they somehow do their worst.

Always Something New

Maybe you are up on such things and knew about the New Year that was celebrated last Sunday. What New Year? Why, Roshicrucian New Year. Yes, indeed, the observance was an exemplification of the fact that the ancient idea of the New Year starting with the Spring equinox in March is still perpetuated in 1932.

A Graphic reader has told how he himself was interested in the celebration, March 20, of this mystical birth of a New Year. He explains, "Since it is in March that the Winter days are brought to an end, and Spring is ushered in with all of her beauty, it was considered in past ages the beginning of a new cycle of life—a new year."

Further elucidation by our correspondent declares, "The actual day varies with each year, depending upon when the sun enters the zodiac sign of Aries. Taking the Standard time of Greenwich, England, the sun is found to make its entrance into Aries late in the day. This, however, is equivalent to 2:44 p. m. Sunday afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, March 20."

Having learned the astronomical significance of Spring, it is a pleasure to glean additional information regarding the Roshicrucians. The letter says that they, "an ancient order of philosophy, commemorate this occasion with a symbolic feast and celebration." He adds, "They state that the Roshicrucian Order was founded in Egypt, 3285 years ago, at the period of the equinox. It has been customary for the Emperor of the Order in each jurisdiction to issue an annual proclamation declaring the day on which the Roshicrucian New Year begins for his district."

Official proclamation, it appears, was sent forth from the Grand Lodge of the North American Jurisdiction of the Roshicrucian Order, AMORC, in San Jose, California. Details of the celebration, as given by the writer of this communication are interesting for many reasons. The marked differences between it and the form of celebration in which certain individuals indulged on the eve of Jan. 1, 1932, is worthy of note. Says our informant, "The symbolic feast is represented by the use of corn, salt and grape juice. The form of the foods represents the assimilation, into the body of the necessary earthly elements for existence."

"The symbolical feast is followed by prayer and a short ritual. A unique feature of the ritual is the period of meditation following the ceremonial feast when Roshicrucians in every part of North America attempt a unified mental contact."

Will You Join Me?

There's nothing like being timely. If you happen to be a trifle tardy people talk about it. These two facts confront me as I plunge into a vital subject—the removal of snow. Oh, I am not about to criticize the Highway Department for any thing it may have failed to do this Winter. Rather, I am speaking as a householder with between 60 and 70 feet of sidewalk and as much more of front and back paths, all of which have to be cleared.

Before getting deeper into this drift—I certainly hope you get it metaphorically—it will be readily admitted that this was not much of a year for snow-shovelling. There may be storms yet, however, and if there are this article will be up-to-date after all. In any event it is a good topic since it is bound to concern some helpful hints to those of us who have our struggles.

The wooden snow shovel has always stood as an emblem of fallen snow. Nevertheless, there are many who prefer to use an iron shovel with a wooden handle. This latter idea isn't so bad if you happen to have a good furnace shovel and don't mind when the neighbors think of an individual who possesses only one shovel. But, for the benefit of the prosperous, manufacturers, realizing that snow shovelling is a science and requires the finest tools, have put out a flat sort of metal shovel which is declared to be superior to the regular wooden one. Another is a scoop and is very stylish, I assure you.

Still another of these specially designed articles is a thing whereby the snow is not shovelled around. I know a man who, in imitation, took his wooden garden rake and lashed a board across it. He insisted that he had contrived as handy a snow-pusher as you could ask. At any rate, he was ingenious in that he had the rake serving four seasons, or the year round, whereas a regular snow-pusher is good for that and nothing else.

In my limited study of this engrossing subject I confess that I never thought of any better method. To me it has always been a case of shovel or push and maybe, with the ice having formed, of chopping. The by the way, is another implement, the ice chopper—of value only during the season of ice and snow.

And now, after all these years of ignorance, I stumble upon a solution. No back strains, no wearing of arm muscles, no groanings, no perspiration—nothing but 75 or 100 feet of hose and a plentiful water supply. How come? Ah, I thought I had you there. Well, the hose is connected just where it would be if you were turning it on during mid-July. You squirt it at the snow and the snow runs. Yes, sir, I got the idea from the man in charge of a filling station. There had only been a light frost of snow when I saw him but nevertheless I think he could overcome a much deeper accumulation. He just played the hose on the snow and the snow soon turned into water and pretty soon there was a gutter full, flowing into the catch-basin, then into the sewer and on and on ending up, for all I know, way out in the mighty ocean somewhere. The

By Edw. H. Powers

Porter Emerson Brown, formerly of this city, is a regular contributor to the "Carmelite," a unique publication issued from Carmel, California. His column headed "Comments On The Times," Mr. Browne is quite pessimistic. He writes—"Nero added while Rome burned. Washington talks while America collapses. We have got to raise ten billions to see the United States through the next twelve months. This when there is in the country only about nine billions of money, four billions of which is gold in vaults, and a billion and a half of which is hoarded. Also, when 80 per cent of our Federal income goes for wars, past, present and future. When we have 5,000,000 on the pay roll, about 18,000,000 out of work and the remaining 23,000,000 workers only partly employed."

"It's rather a neat problem in mathematics. The unemployed to the land; a redistribution of wealth. And a military autocracy to handle emergency program. This is the only measure that will help. The need is dire. The collapse does not impend. It is here. We need a strong man. And we need him now. Whoever he is, wherever he is, let him rise and lead! We will follow."

We hope Mr. Browne is wrong. We believe conditions are not as bad as he pictures. Anyhow, cheer up. Spring is almost here.

One of Newton Corner's old landmarks is disappearing—in part. The two sections of the long wooden block, numbered 361 and 363 Washington street, are being razed. The work is being done under the direction of the Mayor's Committee for the Relief of the Unemployed. Few tears will be shed at the passing of this end of the building which was erected in the early 70's of the last century. They have been standing for several years and with the windows in them mostly broken, these two tenements constituted a serious fire hazard. The block, erected by a man named Boyd, became a source of financial trouble to its builder when the panic of 1873 occurred. Carpenters and other mechanics working on it failed to get their wages and dubbed the building "Poverty Block" and the name stuck. Granville Fuller of Brighton, who furnished the lumber for the building, had to take ownership to five of the tenements. He was a kindly gentleman of the old New England type and kept the building in good repair while he owned it. After the block passed from the ownership of the Fuller family and was split into ownership by several persons, it deteriorated and several of its tenements were permitted to become unsightly, especially after outside stairways had been erected at the rear of the building. When the building boom was at its peak several years ago high prices were offered the owners of the houses in the block, but some of them refused to sell at the high prices for their holdings and the contemplated purchase of the block, so that its site could be used for business purposes fell through. Last year the aldermen granted a permit for a gasoline filling station at the locus where the two sections of the building are now being razed.

During the debate on the reduction of their salaries by members of the Massachusetts Senate yesterday, Senator Hollis of this city said: "A member of the Senate was entitled to more than $2000, but he would vote for the resolve, 'because I believe we should take a cut in salary as have persons in private employ.' Concerning newspaper criticism of the past and possibly of the future, he said he was 'not afraid' of the press. 'Did you ever stop to realize,' he said, 'that the newspaper editorial is the opinion of just one man—usually a tired, worn-out man who has stayed up too late at night, and comes in to his office tired and grouchy the next morning.'"

File! File!—Arthur. If newspaper editors are of so little consequence, why did you waste your breath and the time of the Senate referring to them?

The BOSTON GLOBE on Wednesday had this headline—"MOTOR AND FLY TO VISIT ROOSEVELT." What a humming and buzzing will ensue when these two visitors meet the New York Governor.

Some of the Middlesex & Boston busses give a good imitation of a machine-gun when they are getting underway. Which makes life more pleasant for people residing in the apartment buildings at Newton Corner and along the streets where these noisy busses run.

According to a paper in a neighboring city, George Kellar, secretary of the Newton School Department, who was a passenger on the wrecked steamship "Prince David," manned a pair of oars in a lifeboat in the 3-mile row from the wrecked ship to the rescuing ship "Lady Somers." Either that lifeboat was built like a skiff, or George has an unusually long reach.

Idea is practical, as I see it? In fact, I am so enthusiastic I yearn for another snow storm to try the trick myself.

"Guess That Hurt"

Friends of two young women of this city recently noted that there had sprung up a coldness and that they "weren't speaking." The explanation was sought and ultimately revealed that something purely local and personal was responsible.

The first young woman was bragging, or at least acting pretty high. Said she, "I rode in a magnificent new car last night and it had a beautiful radio set in it."

"Why, your friend the policeman."

The House, by a rising vote of 70 to 38, refused to substitute for an adverse report on the Committee on Public Health a bill to make the compulsory vaccination law apply to pupils attending private schools. This bill is filed annually and is invariably rejected in one branch or the other of the legislature. Both branches have accepted the adverse reports of the same committee on the petition of the Citizens' Committee Opposing Compulsory Vaccination and the petition for legislation to protect the public from impure vaccine.

The Governor sent in on Wednesday his first veto message of the present session. The measure returned without his approval had to do with an amendment to the law relating to the Boston retirement system. The Governor declared that the bill endangered the principles of the entire system.

Apparently the question of decreasing salaries of State employees has been disposed of and there will be no cuts this year. All legislation to reduce compensation of employees has been rejected.

Representative Baker has been conspicuous for his excellent work as a member of the House Ways and Means. The general appropriation bill, commonly known as the State budget, gives this committee an abundance of labor but Mr. Baker seems to relish his task. The bill, by the way, went through as it came from the committee.

Both branches have accepted the adverse report of the Committee on Taxation on the petition of William J. McDonald for the establishment of a tax on the retail sales of all commodities not already subject to a sales tax.

The Committee on Election Laws reported "reference to the next annual session" on the petition of Harrison H. Atwood for a Statewide registration of voters. Both branches have accepted the report which means the matter is disposed of for the current year.

The Legislature has apparently decided not to do anything this year regarding the imposition of a penalty for false rumors which cause a run on a bank. Both branches have accepted the adverse report of the Committee on Legal Affairs for legislation to penalize the making of false statements or rumors as to banking institutions and private bankers.

The Senate yesterday voted to reduce the 1932 salaries of members of the Legislature by 10 per cent, or $200. Senator Hollis voted in favor. The House will have to take similar action to make the cut effective. Already the House, by a large majority, has refused to reduce salaries of members. Among those who voted for the reduction were Representatives Baker and Luitwieler. Representative Thompson was not present when the vote was taken.

The Legislature last week provided cities and towns which desire it an easy method of obtaining revenue in anticipation of tax dates when it passed a bill providing for voluntary advance payment of taxes on real and personal property. The measure, as signed by Gov. Ely, creates a system whereby taxpayers may purchase from the municipalities notes to the amount of their taxes. When the tax becomes due they return the notes to the collector and receive a receipted tax bill. The act is limited to one year and is not effective unless accepted by the municipality which desires to adopt the system.

The so-called 4 1/2 per cent beer bill was laid on the table by the Senate this week. On roll call Senator Hollis was recorded in favor of tabling. The measure provides that beverages containing less than 4 1/2 per cent alcohol by weight would be removed from the State restrictions governing beer and liquor. The motion to lay the matter on the table was made by a Republican Senator from Quincy. Opposition to such action was voiced by a Democratic Senator from Boston. Twenty Senators voted to lay the bill on the table and 16 against. The House had previously passed it. Of course it will have to be taken from the table some time before the session ends. Such a postponement, however, would seem to indicate that in the final vote the bill will be rejected in the upper branch.

The first measure enacted by this year's Legislature which failed to receive the approval of Governor Ely was that changing the name of the Massachusetts Industrial Commission to that of the Massachusetts Industrial and Development Commission. The Governor, however, did not veto the act but permitted it to become a law without his signature. This is seldom done but is a privilege accorded a Governor who may not favor a bill and yet not feel that he wished to veto it.

To Give Lecture On Passion Play

As an assistance in understanding the events of Holy Week, Rev. R. S. Merrill gave on Wednesday evening in the chapel of the Central Congregational Church a stereopticon lecture of the Passion Play of Oberammergau which he had witnessed in the year 1932. The pictures were beautiful and made vivid the setting of village and theatre as well as the action of the drama. The actors were portrayed effectively and the scenes with the glowing colors brought a reality which was most convincing. Mr. Merrill's interpretation was impressive. Do we see our own faults and weaknesses in these characters? With the closing scene of the resurrection he left with his audience the thought of the unconquerable power of love working for righteousness in the world, the perennial message which Easter proclaims.

The children's sermons which Mr. Merrill has delivered each Sunday during Lent present thoughts in a picturesque way which can not fail to arrest the attention of young people. On Thursday evening a Communion service was held and thirty members were welcomed into the church, among them a large number of boys and girls from the church school.

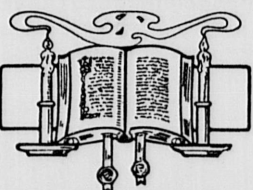

The parish enjoys the new feature in the life of the church, the "Central Church Courier" which is sent to the homes. In addition to church notices are some personal items and an inspirational message. It is edited by the pastor assisted by Miss Isabelle M. Chute.

ELKS TO ERECT BUILDING

Work was started this week on the erection of a one-story building at 437
 Center street, Newton, by Newton Lodge of Elks. It was originally intended to erect a two story structure, the second floor to be used to enlarge the present quarters of the Elks. This plan has been abandoned and the building will be only one story high.
 It will be leased to a chain store company for use as a market. Robert
 A. Vachon & Sons are the contractors.
 A beautiful maple tree at the rear of the property was felled Monday to make room for the new building.

FALLS OFF ROOF

Eugene Violap, 38, of 89 Call street, Jamaica Plain fell from the roof of the house at 3 Vernon street, Newton while painting the building last Friday morning. Violap was working on the roof at the rear of the house and lost his balance, falling to the ground. A fellow workman summoned Dr. Davenport and the latter called the police ambulance to take Violap to the Newton Hospital. He received cuts on the face and head and possible internal injuries.

Excerpt from a letter to the Citizens Reconstruction Organization:

February 27, 1932

"The right thing to do is to put money to work. The people can do this if they want it done. If they will not save themselves, no one can save them. The time has come for the people to take charge of their own affairs. They should use their own money for their own benefit by putting it into circulation."—Signed CALVIN COOLIDGE

KING TUT figured everything would be safe. All his diamonds and jewels (including his wife) he stipulated in his will, should be sealed up in his tomb; and nobody was ever to know where the stuff was buried. And they wouldn't have, if some curious archeologists hadn't got to pecking around—and let the cat out of the bag.

Foolish King Tut! BUT remember that King Tut was king. It was HIS property... and even in those days the king could do no wrong.

Today every American is king in his own home... at least he's supposed to be; and if we want to bury our money—that's our business. But, after all, IS it? Let's look at Tut's own land of Egypt. Tut hid his money—instead of spending it on irrigation and waterways—instead of investing it in his country's future. And look at Egypt now.

Scattered throughout America today are thousands of modern King Tuts. Folks who don't realize that hidden, IDLE money can cripple the progress of a great nation —can, if carried on long enough, destroy the very safety they are seeking!

..... for Stubborn Dollars—these new U. S. Reconstruction Bonds—in small denominations, $50, $100 and $500—short term, maturing in one year—yielding 2% interest—readily redeemable in cash at par, upon 60 days notice by the holder—non-taxable—for sale at your home town bank—and the money from the sale of these bonds will stay right in your own community. Remember—it is not helping the situation to disturb any sound investments or to take money out of a bank to buy these bonds. They are for only one purpose—to put idle dollars, reachable in no other way, back to work.

At the same time millions are awakening to this fact —and have ACTED. They are pouring their hidden money back into circulation at the rate of millions of dollars a day!

Behind this new wave of confidence stands the might of the United States Government. Through legislative and executive action, the government has helped us to help ourselves. And we'll be helping ourselves and neighbors too, whether we put our dollars back into the banks, into sound securities, or buy with them the needed things we've been hankering for so long.

No matter how your money gets back into circulation, it will stimulate credit, turn business wheels, speed Prosperity.

As for the King Tuts, who haven't yet seen the new light... poor, timid souls! Even they can do their bit toward better times and also know that their money is even safer than it was in hiding. For they can now buy U. S. Reconstruction Bonds, issued by Uncle Sam.
 While these bonds only yield 2% interest, they're every bit as safe as the United States Government itself.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The past week, which marked the celebration of the 45th anniversary of the founding of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, was one of great activity among the various committees, all co-operating under the leadership and stimulus of the Ways and Means committee, in a spirit of friendliness which adds greatly to the value of these occasions. The attendance at the Bazaar, Luncheon, Bridge and Fashion Show on Wednesday exceeded all expectations, and taxed the ingenuity and resourcefulness of the committee in serving the unexpected numbers.

The Fashion-Show was pronounced a great success, Club members acting as models, being most attractive in the new spring styles.

The Bridge was greatly enhanced by the clever advice and suggestions of Mrs. Charles C. Clayton, Bridge Expert, of Newton, and those who played not only had a pleasurable social afternoon, but gained valuable information from this well-known bridge instructor.

The president, Mrs. John F. Capron, presided at the monthly business meeting of the Club on Friday afternoon. On the program with her were the guests of honor, Mrs. Frank C. Bennett, first vice-president of the State Federation, and Mrs. Albert R. Speare, Mrs. Speare is the granddaughter of Mrs. Robert Bishop, founder and first president of the Club, and on this anniversary occasion she read a beautiful tribute written at the time of her grandmother's death. Mrs. Bennett spoke a few words of greeting and of congratulation on the achievements of the Club. Mrs. A. H. Shannon, chairman of the Membership committee, announced that the number of new members had that very day reached 100, surely a remarkable attainment for a year of depression!

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Leonard Craske, well-known English sculptor, who gave an interesting and humorous account of the making of a statue, profusely illustrating his talk with slides.

After the lecture a reception was held for the honor guests and for new members, then all enjoyed the attractive tea served downstairs. The beautifully-decorated birthday cake in the center of the table was the gift of the Okemo Cake Kitchen. The president, Mrs. Capron, cut the first piece, and Mrs. Frank C. Bennett, guest of honor, cut the second piece. The pourers, who wore quaint costumes of 45 years ago, were: Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Mrs. Edwin F. Melcher, a Charter member, Mrs. Theodore A. Plimpton, Mrs. Walter Webber, Mrs. Samuel Widger, and Mrs. A. H. Leonard, another Charter member, who also assisted. Many enjoyed the beautiful Art Exhibit from the Guild of Boston Artists, which opened in the Art Gallery that afternoon.

Community Service Club of West Newton

The Community Service Club of West Newton was privileged to present a rare treat to its members and guests from sister clubs in the Newton Federation on the occasion of its Annual Musicales on Wednesday afternoon, March 16th, in the Unitarian Parish House. The president, Mrs. Thomas Weston, presiding at a brief business meeting, extended hostess greetings.

The program opened with a group of four songs, "Iris," "The Loyal Lover," "Lilacs," and "Moon-Marketing," sung by Elizabeth Cushman, who is well and favorably known to Newton audiences, and who sang in her usual gracious and pleasing manner. Miss Cushman's second group consisted of four Breton songs and she was dressed in the quaint costume of the Breton peasant. Miss Cushman spoke of how large a part religion plays in the lives of the French peasants, and added much to the interest and pleasure of the audience by giving effective explanations preceding each of these songs in French, "Disons le Chapelet," by Bourgaud; "Ducaudry," a peasant prayer at the shrine of the Virgin, was a particularly appealing number. Mrs. Mary Pumphrey Tower accompanied Miss Cushman at the piano.

Bernard Zighera, first harpist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, received a special welcome from the large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Zighera, although youthful in years and appearance, has an enviable reputation as an artist on his beautiful instrument. It would be difficult to make a choice among the several numbers which he played, each beautiful in itself—"Arabesque," by Debussy, was delightful in harmony, and "Andaluzia," by Granados, beautifully rendered.

Of particular interest and enjoyment to her fellow Club members were the piano solos by Mary Pumphrey Tower. Mrs. Tower is a charming and accomplished pianist, and her rendition of the brilliant "Marche Militaire," by Schubert, and "Czardas," by MacDowell, were enthusiastically received by the audience. Each of the entertaining artists was generous in granting encores.

Miss Maude C. Scudder was in charge of this delightful program. Following the musical program an informal reception was given to the visiting president of the Club, Mrs. Thomas Weston, and to the vice-presidents. In the receiving line with Mrs. Weston were Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. Edward Payson Drew, Mrs. George P. Hatch, and Mrs. Percival Brundage.

Tea, in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, was served in the church parlor with Mrs. V. V. Taylor and Mrs. F. H. Edmonstone presiding at the tea table.

Auburndale Woman's Club

A program most appropriate for Holy Week, and yet of such interest that the attention of her audience never wavered, was given by Mrs. Irving O. Palmer before the Auburndale Woman's Club last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Palmer, who was presented by the chairman of the Day, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, gave her personal recollections of the Passion Play as she saw it in its recent production. As a background, she described the village of Oberammergau, and the character of its people who are so law-abiding that they have no jail.

She explained how the first production was staged in gratitude for escape from the Plague in 1633, and stated that only twice have the ten-year intervals been interfered with—during the Franco-Prussian War and in the World War. Mrs. Palmer described the voting for the respective parts, the entire cast including 800 persons, 100 of whom have speaking parts, and then a whole year is taken in preparation. It was estimated that 400,000 persons witnessed the last presentation.

ZONTA CLUB

The Newton Zonta Club held a dinner meeting at the home of its president, Miss Marion Fuller, in Newtonville, Monday evening, March 21, in observance of its second birthday. The meeting was honored by the presence of two of Zonta's most valued patronesses. Miss Mary Guyton, Supervisor of State Adult Alien Education, was the guest speaker. She briefly reviewed the progress of immigration since 1883. Just before the world war, over a million foreign-born men and women came to the United States annually, many of whom were illiterate. In 1919 Massachusetts passed a law providing that the state should refund to any city or town one half the amount expended for the education of the foreign-born. Massachusetts has paid yearly between $140,000 and $155,000 to cities and towns, signifying that twice that amount is being spent. There are still in the state 135,000 adults who cannot read or write. As a result of educational opportunities, thousands are naturalized every year. Miss Guyton gave many illustrations expressive of her enthusiasm and optimism concerning this branch of education.

87 MILLIONS PAID OUT IN 1931

The outstanding feature in the Directors' Report, made to policyholders of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company at their annual meeting, a few weeks ago, was the statement that over 87 millions had been paid to policyholders and their beneficiaries during 1931.

The report was made by President Walton L. Crocker and further indicated that of the above amount paid, over 19 1/2 millions was on account of dividends to policyholders in annual reduction of cost.

The insurance in force, now amounting to over 3 billions, 600 millions, is an increase of 2 1/2% over the previous year.

The report also showed that in addition to the dividends of 19 1/2 millions paid in 1931, the Company has apportioned the sum of $20,692,930 for the payment of dividends to policyholders in 1932. This means a continuation of the general cost scale hitherto prevailing to individual policyholders.

This sum is carried by the Company as a liability, along with the policy reserve required by law, computed at Massachusetts Standard to be $522,220,800, and also $47,171,467 held in reserve covering all other equities of policyholders in the Company funds.

"The amplitude and solidity of life insurance in this country," says the Directors' report, "have received demonstration during the past year to a degree unusual in its history. The wisdom of sufficient margins of reserve strength becomes clearer the farther the test is applied. . . . What would have been the situation in this country but for these life insurance associations and their accumulated reserve funds from which proceeded in 1931 the payment of an average of approximately fifty millions of dollars per week to policyholders and their beneficiaries all over the country, may be better imagined than described. The institution has become an economic element of positive value, which from its nature and magnitude imposes upon those who are its guiding and stimulating forces a broadening and ever-increasing duty, widely recognized, to carry it on with the utmost skill and fidelity. Details of practice as they are clarified by experience, will continue to be rectified and methodized, and the institution maintained for effective service."

Esther Snow Carter, whose rich contralto voice, is frequently heard on club programs, sang two groups of songs. Her first selections, before the lecture, were "Wanderers' Night Song," "Lamb of God," and "Before the Crucifix"; her closing group: "Shepherd Take Me By The Hand," and "The Lord Is Risen." She was accompanied on the piano by Abbie Blanchard.

During the business meeting preceding the program at which Mrs. Arthur L. Shaw presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, several announcements of interest to Club members were made. Mrs. John Heibek invited all to the Tea on Tuesday afternoon, March 29th, at 2:30 o'clock, given by the Art and Music committees. Mrs. William Dyer said that at a later meeting for Conservation, contributions toward the Community Tree would be received.

Mrs. Charles Valentine asked for signatures to the petition which the State and General Federation are sponsoring, for the Postal Telegraph to finance the expenses for Women's share in the coming Exposition at Chicago in 1933.

Mrs. Charles Grover invited all to meet with the Garden Group at her home on Vista avenue, on Monday, April 4th, at 3 p. m., to hear Mr. Nelson Wells talk on "Planning a Small Garden."

Golden Eaglet Awarded

Saturday, March 19, was another "red letter" day in the Girl Scout calendar. Helen Shepard, a member of Troop 15 which is the High School Troop in West Newton, was made a Golden Eaglet. This is the highest award which may be attained by any Girl Scout and which every Girl Scout hopes that some day she may be worthy of wearing.

The occasion for the award was a rally which was held in the auditorium of the Newton High School. This rally was planned by the Senior Patrol Leaders' Association some months ago. The first part of the program was a series of tableaux which depicted women down the ages who had shown some very real service. Each tableau was carefully planned and the girls put a great deal of time and thought into making them as beautiful as possible.

The first tableau shown was that of Jeanne d'Arc standing for leadership, which was taken from a famous statue showing her standing on a pedestal with her sword in front of her. Florence Nightingale came next in her nurse's garb holding a candle which dimly showed three soldiers lying on stretchers.

Ann Hutchinson followed in her Puritan costume carrying her prayer book on her way to church. Betsy Ross, showing patriotic service, was seen cutting the five pointed star while George Washington and Colonel Morris held the flag which she had made.

Real inspiration was shown in the tableau of Julia Ward Howe as she sat writing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" while two Civil War soldiers stood by her.

Service in education was depicted by Mary Lyon in her cap and gown. Madame Curie was pictured in her laboratory.

Jane Addams was seen giving bright rosy apples to three little waifs who were playing with blocks on the floor, and the last tableau was Juliette Low, the founder of the American Girl Scouts, seen with her dog.

Frances Jennings of Troop 15 in West Newton was at the piano and played appropriate music all through the program.

After an intermission the Bugle and Drum Corps entertained the audience with several selections and Elizabeth Hovey, State Champion Girl Scout Bugler, played two beautiful solos.

Mrs. Grosvenor Marcy, Chairman of the Court of Awards for the Newton Local Council, spoke of the Golden Eaglet and its significance and Mrs. Walton S. Redfield, Commissioner for the Newton Girl Scouts, presented the award to Helen Shepard.

The setting for the last part of the program was very impressive. A huge American Flag which was flown first in 1885 was hung across the back of the stage and on either side were massed one girl from each of the 29 troops all of them bearing American Flags.

The rally was a very impressive one and the Senior Patrol Leaders' Association, of which Allison Thorgood is the president, should feel quite repaid for the work which it entailed.

WALKER-GORDON ANNOUNCES NEW "VITAMIN D" MILK

It begins to look as if at last, after millions of years, somebody had broken in on the poor cod's virtual monopoly of a very essential business.

Just when or how man discovered that the oil pressed from cod livers was good for him nobody knows. At any rate, it is only since the comparatively recent "discovery" of the vitamins that science has found out why cod liver oil has beneficial values in the diet. It is a rich source of Vitamin D, which promotes the assimilation of calcium and phosphorus, helping to build strong bones and teeth and to prevent rickets in young children. That is why pediatricians have insisted upon the use of cod liver oil or some substitute rich in Vitamin D in infant diets.

Now the Walker-Gordon Laboratory Company of Charles River announces that it can supply a milk for babies which has all the necessary vitamin "D" content required for the prevention—or even the cure—of rickets. Through this new milk babies can obtain all the Vitamin D they need, right along with the calcium and phosphorus—abundant in milk—out of which bones and teeth are built.

This milk has been thoroughly tested by prominent pediatricians and has been found effective in actually curing known cases of rickets in babies under observation.

The Vitamin D richness of this new milk is the direct result of a carefully controlled method of feeding the cows from which it is obtained.

WANT CITY HALL AREA PROTECTED

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association held last Friday night action was taken to be on the alert against the intrusion of business in the vicinity of the new city hall and war memorial. A committee was appointed to consider the purchase of the city of vacant land near the city hall site to be used for park purposes.

This committee will confer with members of the Board of Aldermen. The meeting was held at the home of George L. Curtis, 177 Walden Street. It was addressed by President Collins of the Aldermen; Dr. E. A. Andrews and Mrs. Ellis Speare, Jr., of the Newton Center Improvement Association.
